

People Here and There

Hob Zaring is a Pendleton visitor from Walla Walla today.

J. A. Fee Jr. was in Walla Walla yesterday on a business mission.

Judge James A. Fee has returned from Walla Walla county where he went the first part of the week on legal business.

Will F. Glass, assistant cashier of the Pilot Rock Bank, and Jean Kirkpatrick, editor of the Pilot Rock Record and Charles Bracher were among the out-of-town visitors here last night to hear Dr. W. J. Hindley's address before the Commercial Association.

Mick Ennis, of Walla Walla, is in the city today.

Alex Milne used to be one of the most prominent men in Umatilla county. He has retired now and makes his home in Walla Walla. He was here today attending to business matters and visiting with old friends.

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrown nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and that nail turns naturally outward almost overnight. "Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

MURRAY MAKES RECORD FOR MEMBERSHIP SPEED

There are many men who never lose a chance to assert their love of sport, yet these same men may not be able to climb a dozen steps of stairs without being out of breath, but John A. "Coach" Murray is one fan who has proved his right to be classed with the "gamest of the game" fighters. "Coach" Murray had the job of being on the membership committee of the Commercial Association wished on him, so this morning he paid a call at the offices of the organization and asked for membership blanks. Secretary C. I. Barr handed him a sheaf, and Murray found there were six in the bunch. Five members is the limit each man is supposed to get as his share, but Murray took his six along. Just 25 minutes later to the split-second tick, the telephone man rushed into Barr's office.

"Give me credit for my six members," Murray cried, breathlessly. "That'll let me out, I guess, won't it?" he asked.

The new members are Thomas F. Murphy of the Murphy Paint Co.; Dr. G. B. Garrison, a recent addition to the medical colony of Pendleton; A. Sequist, of the Model Cleaning Co.; W. A. McClelland, new clothier; R. Hillsbeck, Bake Rite Bakery, Main street; L. C. Richey, optometrist.

NATION-WIDE PROBLEMS DISCUSSED

PORTLAND, Nov. 17.—(U. P.)—The convention routine yielded in the national grange sessions today for more serious consideration of the nation-wide problems of agriculture and organizations of internal problems.

SOME BANK ACCOUNT

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 17.—(I. N. S.)—Twenty-nine years ago Miss Maude Quinn, of Jacksonville, Fla., had a savings account of $1 started by her mother in the old Savannah Savings Bank while the family lived here. A letter recently addressed to the bank came into the hands of Charles Rockwell, a former treasurer of the institution, long since defunct, asking what the dollar had earned. It had earned seventeen cents, according to Mr. Rockwell and he advised the young lady the account still stood on the books now in his possession.

HINDLEY DELIVERS

former volume." These statements were made by the former preacher after he had dwelt on the conditions faced during the present day by the workmen on the one side and the farmer on the other. Both are producers, the speaker said, and they have submitted figures to show that between them they have lost $11,000,000,000.

Merchants Have Lost

"Is it necessary for me to argue with you in order to convince you that there can be a loss of this size in production, without distribution having an equal loss?" the speaker asked. "Merchants have been writing off their losses. They were hounded by the government during the rise in prices, and the Lever Act provisions have resulted in many of them today being out in the cold boneyard of business failure."

The interrelation of the conditions facing the workmen who have a purchasing power of $20,000,000 less a day now owing to unemployment than they had a few months since, and the farmers whose grains and products are worth so much less than they were during the war, even though production costs are high, and the merchant were brought out by the speaker who declared that the standards of the producers are determined by the high quality of the stores of America.

The farmers and workmen of America are in a class by themselves when compared with the farmers and laborers of the rest of the world, Dr. Hindley declared, and this is due in large measure because of their higher standards of living.

Power of Merchants

The speaker quoted figures gathered in the survey of the state of Washington made by the merchants. In the state there are 4,000 selling places, or stores of one kind or another, he said. These concerns have 140,000 people on their payrolls, 1,225,000,000 invested on which they pay 11,000,000 in taxes. He also quoted figures which show that most of the taxes in some parts of his state are paid by people who own property within the fire limits of towns and cities.

The political possibilities of an organization backed by the men who pay these taxes and control these payrolls was touched on by the speaker, and he declared that 39 measures introduced in the recent session of the Washington legislature were all shelved through the influence of the merchants' organization. The merchants of Montana have spent $200,000 in combating the law which makes it necessary to carry the cost price on each article of merchandise, he said.

Advertising Necessary

Farmers are at the mercy of seasonal and economical law, Dr. Hindley declared, which merchants may in a measure avoid by reason of the fact that they are salesmen.

"You may excite the curiosity of the public and sell them your goods. Salesmanship is your business."

The use of advertising and correct window displays is invaluable to the merchant, the speaker declared. To cut down on advertising when demand is slack he characterized as poor business and said that more advertising should be used in order to stimulate demand.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. Alfred Lockwood.

OPERATION AVOIDED

Bishop, Cal.—"About five years ago I suffered severely. I consulted a local doctor and he said I would have to undergo an operation. When I said no, he advised a course of treatments. I happened to think of Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, and in it I found my case thoroughly described so I sat right down and wrote to Dr. Pierce. I then tried Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—took one bottle—and one bottle of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and also used the 'Lotion Tablets' and I have not been troubled since. I have had two fine healthy boys since then, and work hard. At that time I was not able to do my own work. I have used the 'Pleasant Pellets' for liver and bowels for about 20 years, wouldn't be without them."—Mrs. S. G. Albright, R. F. D. No. 1.

Send $1.00 to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for the Medical Adviser in cloth cover, 1,000 pages, fully illustrated and write Dr. Pierce for free medical advice.

HENSHAW SPEAKS ON INTERESTING SUBJECT

BY W. A. GRESSMAN

Evangelist J. E. Henshaw gave a most helpful sermon last night at the First Christian church, based on the text—Gal. 6:7—"Be not deceived, God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

"This text," said Mr. Henshaw, "is a basic principle of human life. Deception spells mockery to God. No man needs to be deceived by the Devil. On this fact is predicated the text, 'for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.'"

"Here is the law of cause and effect. The text is a spiritual application of a natural law. Three rational considerations in planting anything are time, seed and soil preparation. These have a spiritual analogy; time or season may be likened to youth, soil to the human mind and seed to influences and conceptions.

"Reaping time is a certainty—a law of the harvest, and the harvest will be a hundred-fold. He who has sown to the wind shall reap from the whirlwind. 'He who sows to the flesh shall reap corruption, and he who sows to the Spirit shall reap life everlasting.'"

The special solo by Mrs. Curtis was greatly appreciated by all, while Mr. Curtis in his pleasing, persuasive way induced everybody to join heartily with the choir in the song service.

After the song service at 7:30 this evening, Evangelist Henshaw will preach on the subject: "Ashamed of Jesus."

NEED OF CHRISTIAN INFLUENCE IN COLLEGE

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 17.—(I. N. S.)—

"One of the worst things that could happen to the universities of the United States would be the withdrawal of the Christian influence," declared Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of Ohio State University.

"It should be carried further, into the high schools as well.

"We cannot leave religion out of the lives of these young people at the very time when the purposes of life are being formed and decisions are being made.

"Last year we had over 2000 Methodists in Ohio state. He had more than 1400 Presbyterians. There are many schools of both these denominations with less students than that. The church cannot give them a four-year vacation from church service and care. "The state university represents the state. But it represents only the best ideals of the state, not the worst," President Thompson said.

PLAN TO EXTEND THE ISLAND OF MANHATTAN

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(I. N. S.)—

T. K. Thompson, one of the most prominent engineers in New York, has put forward a plan to extend the Island of Manhattan six miles down New York bay, adding twelve miles of needed docks. The proposed extension would be "built up" with huge concrete walls on either side. Clearance for navigation on both sides would remain the same as it now is, according to Mr. Thompson. Governors Island would be taken in as a part of Manhattan under the plan.

HOW TO CHOOSE GOOD BOOKS FOR CHILDREN

This is the fourth in a series of articles by Miss Freda Glover, assistant librarian at the county library. She chooses as her topic today "Bible Stories, and Adaptations of Adult Classics."

A worthwhile collection of Bible stories should follow the Bible in atmosphere, simplicity of language and dignity of narration. It should not try to improve on the original in a literary way. Secularism should not be pushed in. Children can understand much of the Bible in its original wording and it gains nothing in retelling.

The classes appeal to children because they are told simply and directly with realistic attention to detail. They deal with beings essentially child-like in character, without self-consciousness, simple in motive and direct in action. They satisfy a child's desire for excitement and adventure, and give him objects for emulation and hero worship. When buying a book of this kind for a child, think of the following things: Is it in original form and simply translated; is it retold, adapted, or abridged; is the subject matter interesting and suitable for children; is its form of expression suited to their comprehension. If it is not the original text does it reproduce the spirit of the original, and as nearly as possible its form of thought.
