CANADIAN VETERANS' INSURANCE BENEFITS

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 17.—Canadian war veterans living outside of Canada will be interested to learn that the Returned Soldiers' Insurance Act has been amended to enable former members of the Canadian forces, no matter where resident, to participate in its benefits. Until recently the insurance was available only to those living in Canada.
 The act is a late re-establishment measure of the Canadian government. It provides insurance for ex-service men without medical examination at premium rates lower than those of line insurance companies. Policies have a liberal cash value after they have been in force two years. The maximum amount of insurance allowed one individual is $5000 and after the policy has been in effect two years it automatically becomes non-forfeitable in the event of non-payment of premiums.

The Soldier's Dream Comes True

Dreaming of a triumphant return, America's Unknown went forth to death. Yet his dream came true. From the decks of the historic Olympia, his flag-draped casket was borne to his native land while fellow warriors and high dignitaries of the nation, headed by Secretary of War Weeks, Secretary of the Navy Denby, and General Pershing (extreme right) stood at attention.
