INSPIRING SERMON IS GIVEN BY EVANGELIST

BY W. A. GRESHMAN
 Speaking on the subject of "Heaven" and using for a text the words of Jesus—"I go to prepare a place for you"—Evangelist Henshaw gave a heart to heart sermon last night at the First Christian church. "The human soul finds its satisfaction not in time, but in eternity," said Mr. Henshaw. "The Bible does not philosophize, but states facts, and states them explicitly. The home of the soul is a great fact. Jesus called it a place. It is a place that has been prepared, as it is not God's way to do things in a haphazard way."
 In regard to its character, Mr. Henshaw pointed to the fact that John calls heaven the new Jerusalem. "It is a place where will be gathered the saints of all the ages. It is indeed a home and a place of unity. If we are going to live over there, we must live here as we ought to live."
 "Heaven is not to be reached at a single bound, but by service through Jesus Christ—in none other is there salvation" (Ac. 4:12). We must serve in the church of Christ, and serve according to the commands of Jesus who is head of his church."
 A pleasing and impressive solo was sung by Mrs. Curtis, while Mr. Curtis, assisted by the orchestra, led the singing in his characteristically effective way. The song service this evening begins at 7:30. The sermon by Evangelist Henshaw will be on "The Prodigal Son."

 For those who are filled with regret that the local golf course is covered with a snowy blanket, we suggest a name with black balls which some obnoxious lodge member will supply.
 The professors who weighed the earth a few years ago, before the business depression set in, should weigh it again. There is a suspicion that it has lost.
 The most terribly outraged person in the world is the man or woman who witnesses a poor screen production on a pass.
 We know an aviator who likes so well to talk of his war experiences that he goes into a tale spin on the slightest provocation.
