HONOLULU MAYOR HAS BIGGEST MUNICIPALITY

HONOLULU, T. H. Dec. 19.—(I. N. S.)—Mayor John H. Wilson, of Honolulu, has the distinction of being chief executive of the most extensive municipality in the United States, or as far as is known, in any other country.
 Mr. Wilson's full official title is Mayor of the City and County of Honolulu, embracing the entire island of Oahu, on which Honolulu is situated, Palmyra Islands, Bird Island and Midway Island. Mayor Wilson's authority therefore extends approximately 1,000 miles to the southward to Palmyra and about 1,500 miles to the northwest to Midway. The Palmyra Islands are not regularly inhabited, but Midway, an important cable station, has a population of about fifteen cable operators.
 Mayor Wilson is of part Hawaiian blood and is a graduate of Leland Stanford University.

OFFICE CAT

"Constant Reader" has asked the Office to promote a bout between Everett True and Mr. Duff. We think C. R. is one of those fellows who bet on Dempsey and Carpenter.
 If every woman could do what she wants to do, who would wash the dishes?
 This marks the grave of Ezra Mains. Who said he had no use for chains. An icy road—a fearful slide—The earth of one more boob was rid.
 After Christmas there will be nothing to look forward to except Arbor Day.
 The young lady next door says she can't understand why it's so short a time between Christmas and New Year's and so long between New Year's and Christmas.
 One of those dear girls in a Good Housekeeping story remarks thus: "I used to hang up my stockings; I've missed it." Alas and alack; with a cold winter coming on too.

BARTENDER DISPENSES BOOZE FROM HIS SOCKS

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 12.—(I. N. S.)—The wrinkle in the socks of Alfred Capasso, proprietor of a "soft drink bar," has caused a new interpretation of the search-warrant clause of the prohibition law.
 When Federal officers raided Capasso's place they found ten small bottles of "mule" secreted in his socks. No booze was found behind his bar. Special Assistant Attorney General John Dystl ruled that Capasso could not be prosecuted, because the search warrant did not provide authority for officers to search his socks. He was released.

A FINE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Christmas-Time is a wonderful time, for everywhere people strive to make others happy and to fulfill the dreams and desires of children. And one of the happiest thoughts that come to many is, to make gifts which are useful and constructive and which eventually make for better manhood and womanhood.
 This is what a Savings Account in the strong bank brings about, because it teaches Thrift and Economy.
 One Dollar, Three Dollars or Any Amount is all that is necessary for such a gift.

SAYS DANCING AFFECTS TEACHERS' EFFICIENCY

WICHITA, Kan., Dec. 19.—(I. N. S.)—Teachers cannot dance all night and teach with efficiency the following morning," declared Superintendent R. M. Crum, head of the educational committee of Sedgewick County.
 This will be a chief topic for discussion when the county superintendents of education in Kansas convene for their annual council here in January. Superintendent Crum has announced his intention of introducing a "code of ethics" for the school instructors to abide by.
 "Don't quote me as questioning dances as a pastime," added Superintendent Crum. "That isn't the point. A teacher's indulgence in amusement does not seriously concern the superintendent until it affects the efficiency of the school. Owing to the fact that the public has placed a considerable amount of child training upon the school, it behoves directors of education to restrict certain social activities of instructors where such activities interfere with the welfare of the child."

HERMIT DEFTES SHERIFF
 MONTICELLO, Ill., Dec. 19.—(I. N. S.)—Despite efforts to the sheriff and citizens in the vicinity of Mohomet, near here, Harry Davis, thirty-five, a hermit living in a dugout of his own making on land belonging to Edward Swigert, of this city, continues living close to nature. Davis is suspected of committing many petty thefts reported by storekeepers and others near Mahomet.
 Sheriff Gale, with a posse of deputies, went to the dugout and ordered Davis to surrender. The young hermit stuck a rifle through a corner of his dugout and threatened to shoot the first man who tried to take him alive. Deciding that discretion was the better part of valor, the sheriff, beat a strategic retreat with his posse.
 The hermit has been noticed by women of the neighborhood for several months, although he was not brought to official notice until recently. Citizens threaten to take summary vengeance unless the man is arrested immediately, as complaints have been received that he frightens women and children.
