PAID FOR THE BAIT
LONDON (U. P.)—An angler boarding a train at Wrexham carrying his can of live-bait was staggered to receive a demand for "excess baggage fare," the railway officials contending that live-bait—small fishes swimming in a can—was not passengers' "ordinary" luggage. He had to pay, but all the anglers' associations in England are taking the matter up with the railway companies.

FIFTY YEARS A JANITOR
WELLINGTON, Dec. 23.—(U. P.)—L. C. Lockwood will celebrate fifty years of continuous service as janitor of school buildings, opera house, Home Savings Bank, Reserve building, Herrick library and First Wellington Bank on December 23, when he will be accorded a municipal reception and banquet.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Dec. 23.—(U. P.)—Japanese, after having seemed content with the west coast of South America for colonization for some years, are now coming eastward and colonizing as effectively, if not on such a large scale, in Chile and Peru on the Pacific.

Many Japanese are settling in the Brazilian state of Sao Paulo, where they find the soil and climate suitable for the cultivation of rice and other crops not strange to their native lands. To assist the immigrant the government of Sao Paulo has enacted special immigration measures by which allotments are allowed foreigners who are willing to live upon and improve the land.

Japanese have obtained allotments of fertile ground. The Japanese colonies are directed by a co-operative executive commission, elected by the landholders, which works in co-operation with the state government and the Japanese Emigration Company.

The roads and highways in the area held by the Japanese settlers are among the best of the state. The executive commission directs the work of road construction and improvement and each landholder has his share of work to keep up.

In the schools both the Brazilian and Japanese languages are employed, nearly every student being able to speak either.

The Japanese also have their own flour mills, sugar refineries and rice mills which are conducted on a co-operative basis.

HORSE WILL SOON BE ONLY MEMORY IN PARIS

PARIS, Dec. 23.—(A. P.)—The horse soon will be but a memory, so far as the principal thoroughfares of Paris are concerned if plans of "traffic reformers" are adopted in an effort to disentangle the traffic jams which are daily making the pedestrian's existence more uncertain.

These experts propose to bar all horse-drawn vehicles from the chief traffic arteries during the daylight hours, leaving the horse only a few hours at night in which to jog along. The traffic authorities would go further and even banish ordinary human beings who are forced to walk. They propose putting them all underground on a moving sidewalk.

In any event those who take a gloomy view of the traffic situation, see one optimistic aspect of it. They say it can't get any worse. Accidents are almost hourly occurrences on the boulevards and a diep is the inevitable result.

The red bands at crossings, constructed to give protection to the walkers, have proved a failure. Only a heavy rain reveals their presence and even then the drivers ignore them. "Cruising" taxicabs add to the confusion and it is further suggested that this practice be prohibited. The increase in the buses has deprived taxicabs of much business and they are now forced to solicit business, a thing unnecessary since 1914.

GET REAL CAVIAR AFTER LONG TEDIOUS JOURNEY

LONDON, Dec. 23.—(U. P.)—Russia has recovered at least enough economically to recommence the shipment of genuine caviar.

All during the war and in the recent post-war period, London hotels of course had genuine caviar. But now they are getting the real genuine caviar, which to an epicure has the something the imitation-genuine caviar lacked.

For several weeks, the shipment of caviar has been made regularly from Astrakhan, near the shores of the Caspian Sea. After a lake journey on the Caspian sea and an overland journey on the Black sea, it is taken by fast steamer to Constantinople. Thence it goes to Paris by the Orient express and to London by aeroplane.
