CONTINUOUS FLYING RECORD IS BROKEN BY EDWARD STINSON WHO REMAINED IN AIR OVER 26 HOURS

Stunt Surpasses Record of Frenchmen, Who Remained Up for Over 24 Hours.

MINEOLA, N. Y., Dec. 30.—(A. P.)—A new world record for continuous flying has been established by Edward Stinson, pilot of an all metal monoplane and Mechanician Lloyd Bertrand, when they descended today after being in the air 26 hours, 19 minutes and 35 seconds. They commenced their flight yesterday at 8:58 a. m. at the Roosevelt field in a snowstorm. They surpassed the record of 24 hours, 19 minutes and 7 seconds made in France June 1920 by Lucien Dussoutour and Jean Bernard.

Three timers of Stinson's left hand and one finger of his right hand were frozen. This occurred when he had removed his glove to make an emergency connection between the oil tank and an auxiliary tank at 2 o'clock this morning. The pump refused to work. That accident almost cost Stinson and Bertrand their new record. Ingenuity won for them. They punched a hole in the main oil tank and used a rubber tube to siphon the fuel from the auxiliary to the main tank. The fuel fed the motor that way for the last nine hours of their flight. The aviators neither slept nor ate during the 26 hour grind. They drank the contents of one bottle of coffee.

MILITARY FUNERALS CALL FOR USE OF TRUCK THAT FLAG MAY BE CARRIED

Why is it that when military funerals are held the casket is never placed in a regulation hearse but carried on a truck? That question has been asked by many Pendletonians as military services for men who died overseas are held here. The reason for that manner of transporting the casket is that the funeral is military, and in a military funeral, the casket is draped with the American flag. It is not proper for the colors to be enclosed in any covering except its own enclosure, or in other words, if a casket were to be put inside of a hearse the flag would have to be removed from the casket, according to army regulations. In regular military funerals, the casket is ordinarily conveyed on an artillery caisson.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—(U. P.)—Amendments to the foreign debt refunding bill now being prepared for presentation to the senate will direct that a demand be made on France for the payment of interest and principal of debt.
