COAST FOOTBALL FANS HOWL FOR RECOGNITION FROM EASTERN CRITICS

Neglect of West in Making Up Honor Lists Roils Writers of Pacific Coast Region.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—(U. P.)—The Pacific Coast has launched a definite campaign for recognition of its colleges as real factors in the football world. Sporting writers, football authorities, players and fans have decided that the time has passed when football meant a game played east of the Rockies and merely toyed with west of that line.

They propose to force the world of amateur athletics to reckon with the far west. The program for recognition of the Pacific coast includes:

An annual post-season game between the team holding the championship of the Pacific Coast conference and the best team of the east—preferably of the Atlantic Coast, to be played, not under private auspices, but under the auspices of the coast conference.

At least one game between a California college and a middle western college during the conference season.

A game between the winner of the California-Stanford "Big Game" and one of the "Big Three" of the east.

Open dates have been left in the schedules of practically every major coast college for 1922 which graduate managers hope to fill by signing games with eastern or middle western colleges.

Coast football followers, led by sporting writers, are loudly proclaiming that the coast can produce teams which will beat anything the east can offer. Announcement of All-American selections with the coast not given the attention it believes it should have fanned the agitation.

"Now that no one will place any of the Western men on the All-American," declared Charlie Padlock of Los Angeles, champion sprinter. "Why doesn't the All-Western team challenge Henry Farrell's or Walter Cahill's All-American team to a post-season game?"

Some coast sport writers think it wouldn't take an All-Coast team to "show up" the brand of football played in the east. They point to the results of the Penn State-University of Washington game at Seattle recently when Penn State was hard pressed to win 21 to 7 from the Washingtonians. Penn State was considered a leader in the east. Washington was a tail-end on the coast.

Hotel bills in Italy are increased by 20 per cent by luxury taxes and funds for war widows, etc.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Miller Huggins is perhaps the greatest trader in the major leagues. Since the mite manager took hold of the New York Yankees and while he was bossing the St. Louis Cardinals, he has figured in six big deals each involving seven or more players.

His first big swap was made in 1914 when he turned Konetchy, Mowery and Marmion over to the Pirates for Jack Miller, Butler, Dolan, Wilson and Robertson. In 1915 he started the succession of big deals that eventually gave him the championship of the American League when he gave Cuthbert, Shocker, Nuzumaker, Malsed and Gedeon to the St. Louis Browns for Platt and Plank. Later in the same season he traded Love, Walters, Caldwell and Gilhooly to the Red Sox for His Team of Yanks in 1922 Completely Changed From Outfit Had When He Came.

Lewis, Ehlers and Leonard.

In 1920 he traded Pratt, Vick, Thormahlen and Ruel to the Red Sox for Schlang, Hoyt, Harper and McNally.

Before the 1921 race he sent Shore, McGraw, Smallwood, Hannah, Hyatt and Love to Vernon for Johnny Mitchell and traded Lefty O'Doul to San Francisco for Love and Corhan. His last big move sent Peckinpaugh, Quinn, Pierce and Collins to the Red Sox for Scott, Bush and Jones.

As the team stands now there is not a single player remaining of the club that Huggins took over when he assumed the management of the Yanks. Peck was the last survivor of the old band to go.

New York did not take kindly to the deal that sent Peck away, as he was almost as close to the heart of the fans as George Burns, the Giant veteran who was traded away to Cincinnati. However, the fans did not come out as critical as they did over the Burns deal, because they figure the Yanks got more out of the trade for Peck than the Giants got for Burns.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The campaign for amnesty of all political prisoners will be continued with renewed vigor in the new year.

The commutation of 24 sentences by President Harding on Christmas day in no way settles the question of general amnesty, according to a statement issued by the joint amnesty committee here recently. The statement continues:

"The general situation in this country is exactly the same as it was before the pardons were announced, and more than 100 men are still in federal penitentiaries for an expression of their opinions in war time. They are all serving sentences for violation of the espionage act, which no longer exists. Just why the men who received executive clemency were chosen rather than many others whose offenses were identical does not appear in analyzing the cases."

The president's Christmas commutations widely failed to recognize the principle of amnesty for war offenses, according to another statement issued by Roger N. Baldwin of New York, director of the American Civil Liberties union. He stated:

"The memoranda accompanying the cases are full of apologies for the action taken, sometimes on the grounds of charity, because the men were old, sometimes because the term had nearly expired."

"Five of the men were not political prisoners at all. They were convicted of offenses during the war that might be crimes at any time. It is interesting to note that of the 19 real political prisoners released, three are held for deportation, two are alleged to be mentally unsound, three are penitent and have renounced their radical views, and three deny they ever said what they were convicted for."

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford Sedan, with electric self-starting and lighting system and demountable rims with 3 1/2-inch tires front and rear, is a family car of class and comfort, both in summer and in winter. For touring it is a most comfortable car. The large plate glass windows make it an open car when desired, while in case of rain and all inclement weather, it can be made a most delightful closed car in a few minutes. Rain-proof, dust-proof, fine upholstery, broad, roomy seats. Simple in operation. Anybody can safely drive it. While it has all the distinctive and economical merits of the Ford car in operation and maintenance. Won't you come in and look it over?

SEEK U. S. MARKET
SANTIAGO, Chile, Jan. 6.—(U. P.)—Chilean fruit growers are beginning to find a market for their fruit in the United States. Shipments of Chilean peaches, grapes, melons, cherries, plums, strawberries and chirimoyas, a kind of custard apple, have been disposed of in New York at good prices, says F. Rojas Huneus, Director of Agriculture.

The director has pointed out to Chilean growers that the best market in New York is to be found from January to April and advised them as to the best method of sending their fruits more than 5,000 miles to the New York market.

WAS LIFE OF PARTY THEN JUMPS IN SEA

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—(U. P.)—Police and steamboat officials were today making a rigid investigation into the mysterious disappearance early Sunday of Miss Betty Montgomery, pretty Los Angeles actress, who destroyed all means of identification from her clothing and then jumped into the Pacific, following a hilarious party aboard the steamship Yale, en route here from Los Angeles.

The girl's absence was first discovered when a friend of Miss Montgomery went to her stateroom shortly before the vessel reached here. The missing girl's latest address was given as Hotel Imperial, 911 South Grand Avenue, Los Angeles.

Gaiety aboard the Yale started early on New Year's eve and Miss Montgomery was one of the outstanding figures in the merriment. She seemed to be the life of the party, according to those who remarked about her vivacity.

At midnight, passengers say, she suddenly ceased her merrymaking and with a grave look said, "I wonder what the new year will bring me?"

Soon after this she retired to her stateroom and nothing more has been heard from her.

THE ICEMAN FORGOT US THIS MORNING AND I'M AFRAID THESE THINGS WILL SPOIL

DO WE STILL TAKE ICE THIS KIND OF WEATHER? THAT'S AN UNNECESSARY EXPENSE!

WHY WORRY ABOUT KEEPING THESE THINGS WHEN YOU CAN PUT THEM RIGHT OUT HERE ON THE WINDOW SILL? AND YOU DON'T HAVE TO PAY FOR ICE - THEY'LL KEEP ALL RIGHT OUT HERE.

HELEN, SHALL I PUT THE MILK AND CREAM OUT THERE TOO? IT WILL KEEP LONGER!

I SHOULD HAVE PUT THEM OUT THE ATTIC WINDOW!
