JAPANESE DELEGATES PROFUSE IN PRAISING AMERICAN HUMOR AND CLEAR-HEADED DIPLOMACY

Fling Superlatives With Careless Good Grace, But They Over-work Adopted Smile.

BY WEBSTER K. NOLAN, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Superlatives are being flung with careless good grace in Japanese delegation circles here in these post-ratio-settlement days. In the vernacular of the American schoolboy, the Japanese are under the impression that the conference has kicked a goal and panned a winner. In the vernacular of Hashimura Toga, the classical Nipponese schoolboy, the conference has caused "much grateful pleasing among my people and much thanks are due America for her wide-minded nobleness of nature."

"Our Baron Kato," one official of the Japanese delegation avers with a broad grin, "has proved himself very much of a diplomat. He is maybe to the unstudying eye a cold and unemotional man. But our Baron Kato is warm in his heart and far-seeing in his mind. He had a difficult work to perform, and he performed it to the satisfaction of the people of America. There is no longer any doubt of Japan's desire for peace in the Pacific, and her long desire to come to an understanding with America has been cemented by the masterful work of our Baron Kato."

"Your Secretary Hughes is also a wonderful diplomat," he continued, "for so carefully has he steered the conference correctly and with such tact that great success has been made possible. America is most frank, and her statesmen are clear-headed and broad of mind. They are firm but reasonable. We go back to our island home with much appreciation in our hearts for the desire on the part of all Americans whom we have met to effect an understanding with our people. I am sure all clouds have been dispelled and that the relations that have become effective as a result of this conference will continue not only during the ten year naval holiday but on through the decades in the wake of that naval holiday."

When Japan drew aside the curtains that hid out the Western World years ago, when Commodore Perry visited Japan, that island empire swiftly picked up western habits and western methods. Not least of these adopted customs was the occidental "smile." The Japanese learned that Americans did a lot of smiling, that they smiled on the slightest provocation. Smiling was not a Japanese custom in the western sense of "smiling." But the little men adopted it and have educated their people into the "smile system." Only they have overdone it. That is, they smile whether they are pleased with something or provoked. They greet all foreigners with a smile no matter what their errand. This smile has become an institution in Washington. One cannot approach a Japanese without being bequeathed a broad smile. "Americans are so jolly," one Japanese ventured, in discussing his impressions. "Americans, they laugh so much and tell such funny stories and appear to be unworried much. But they are quick and clear-thinking, too. Sometimes they seem fearfully aggressive, and the next minute they are offering you a cigarette. American statesmen are so approachable. There is not much pomposity here in America, and yet it is well ordered in every way. If Americans have any fault it is that they are very strong-minded on some things and very indifferent on others."

"I must say that Foley's Honey and Tar does me more good than any other cough medicine I have ever used. I have recommended it to many others." — Mrs. J. Bertrud, Tampa, Florida.
"I have used Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs and colds, and it has never failed to give immediate relief." — Mrs. F. A. Gibson, Racine, Wisconsin.
"I was troubled with a cough and cold and could not sleep. Foley's Honey and Tar gave me the relief I needed for me from other medicines." — John George Bauer, 3121 Brighton Rd., Pittsburgh, Pa.

U. S. SOLDIERS ON RHINE CONTINUE TO MARRY

COBLENZ, Jan. 9.—(A. P.)—Winsome German girls continue to make inroads in the American forces in Germany, despite the standing order issued two years ago that enlisted men who married here would be returned to America with their wives on the next transport.

Every transport with returning troops carries its quota of newlywed, and whenever a troop train leaves Coblenz for Antwerp, the port of embarkation, the flower shops do a splendid business, their customers being chiefly Germans who desire to bestow flowers upon the departing brides full of anticipation and hope for a wonderful existence in their new homes across the Atlantic.

More than 1000 American soldiers have married in Germany during the last two years and ten months, according to estimates of American officers and German civil officials. Most of the men and their wives already have been sent to the United States.

Many soldiers who desired to marry and remain in the service on this side, took great pains, officers say, to keep the facts from becoming known generally. Officers say some of the soldiers took their prospective brides into unoccupied Germany, and were married there, most of these events having taken place when America and Germany, technically, were still at war.

FEW ARRESTED SPEEDING TO WORK, SAYS HOBBO

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 9.—(I. N. S.)—"The only time a heater is ever fired with enthusiasm is when his boss fires him and furnishes the enthusiasm," said Douglas Mallock, poet of the woods and former head of the American Press Humorists, in an address here.

"There is no such thing as doing too much work for your pay. Very few men are arrested for speeding on their way to work," continued Mallock.

"An optimist is a man who sees a light in the darkness when there is no light. A pessimist is a man who comes along and blows the light out."

ALBANY MEY WILL RUN

ALBANY, Or., Jan. 9.—E. D. Cusick, and L. M. Curl, two of Albany's most prominent men, will be candidates this year for membership in the Oregon state senate. Mr. Cusick will be a candidate in the district composed of Linn and Lane counties, which he formerly represented in the senate and Mr. Curl in the district composed of Linn county only. Both are republicans. Senator Cusick will file in the district now represented in the senate by John B. Bell of Eugene. Mr. Curl will be a candidate for the seat now occupied by Senator Frank H. Porter of Halsey.

Each candidate is prominent in the business and public affairs of Linn county. Mr. Cusick is president of the bank of J. W. Cusick & Co. of this city. He served four years in the state senate from the district in which he will run this year.

Mr. Curl is a local attorney and also president of the Albany Abstract company. He served three terms as mayor of Albany.
