

People Here and There

Carl Peringer has returned after a visit to New York and other eastern cities.

L. I. O'Hara, prominent citizen of Weston, was a business visitor in Pendleton Friday.

George Temple spent a few days this week with his brother, Grover Temple, at Helix.

Fred Norman, manager of the Pathe Exchange branch at Portland, is a business visitor in Pendleton.

T. J. Jordan, claim agent for the Chicago Northwestern with headquarters in Portland, is a business visitor in Pendleton.

Henry W. Collins and Thomas Thompson were among those who left for Portland yesterday on No. 17. Business calls them to Portland.

Robert Ludwig of the Baer Hardware company, will leave this evening for Portland to attend the Oregon Hardware Dealers' convention which meets at the Imperial Hotel in that city January 24 to 27.

Dr. L. U. Temple returned yesterday from Hot Lake where he accompanied Mrs. T. B. Weiss, who has been ill. Mrs. Wells' is Mrs. Temple's mother.

Joseph H. Anderson, who was called to Helix on account of the illness of his brother-in-law, V. V. Kerley, was in Pendleton on Thursday en route to his home in Texas.

Lynn Wetzel, who owns a fruit ranch near Walla Walla, is spending the week-end with his sister, Mrs. Mae Baird. Mr. Wetzel is en route to Fresno, California, where he will remain for the next month.

Rev. W. A. Gressman, pastor of the First Christian church, will go to Helix tomorrow afternoon to hold services in the Christian church in that town. The service will be a Union meeting of all the denominations in Helix.

Peter Ganguet, sheepman of Walla-burg, Washington, is in the city today on business. Mr. Ganguet reports temperatures of 12 below zero at his ranch. He started winter feeding early in November. Mr. Ganguet's sheep graze on the Umatilla national forest in the Wenaha division.

H. O. Payne, division chief on income tax will go to La Grande tomorrow on business.

There is no more consistent enthusiastic booster for the Weston Mountain country in all of Umatilla county than E. M. Smith, cashier of the bank at Weston. He was in Pendleton today.

"Yes, all of the folks in the west end of the county are behaving themselves—as usual." That was the comment of Sheriff Zoeth Houser today. He made a trip to the west end yesterday.

Charles Stevens, representative of the Albers Brothers Milling Company of Portland, is here this week on business. Mr. Stevens has installed seven of the "miners" in local grocery store windows. The display is a clever one, showing a miner who flips a flapjack most adroitly over a glowing campfire.

Being from Pendleton, where he has two or three wheat ranches and is not worried much about a meal ticket, Elmer Snyder naturally raises his voice in protest against a road from Umatilla to Wallula, the much discussed cut-off. He contends that there isn't a house in the section to be traversed and the only house that there ever will be, if the road is built, will be a gasoline service station. "Why," inquires Mr. Snyder, "why have tourists travel through sand and rock when they enter Oregon by way of Walla Walla and Pendleton they will see the finest land that can be found out of doors in this state."—Oregonian.

CHILD TRAINING AT HOME

"THE CHILD'S FIRST SCHOOL IS THE FAMILY"—Froebel.

THE SPOILED CHILD.

By Mrs. Chas. Robbins.

Is there anyone more unwelcome in any group anywhere than the child who has been spoiled? Time after time have I heard a mother remark, "Well, you know how spoiled he is." She acts as though this would forgive his misdeeds. The failure to do her duty is explained by adding that his grandmother or aunt will let him do such things.

Mothers, you may try to believe that is so, but deep down in your hearts, you acknowledge that the failure in training points only one way, and that is to you. If you persist in training systematically your child will show good results. My boy would have been hopelessly spoiled had I allowed either grandmother to do as she wished. In fact both objected if I permitted my baby to cry. Later on they complimented me on my well trained baby. Why? Because he was unspoiled, healthy and lovable.

That brings up to an important point in the training of children. The most beautiful child in the world can be so reared, through neglect of his parents to direct the small acts of childhood that he becomes unlikable. Now we know the child is not to blame. The moulding of every baby girl to womanhood is absolutely in the hands of the parents at the start. If we come to this realization it is not difficult to understand how important a factor training in the right direction can become. I might add that this is one of the biggest aims of kindergarten, the directing and starting of the child's habits in life in the best way.

One often hears some mother relating to a friend a cute remark made by her child or telling of some act, while the child listens intently, even smiling with self-satisfaction at this repetition of his smartness.

The child you may well know is impressed. The exact result of having him hear of his bright acts is this; just as soon as a child begins to think those things are cute he gets an exalted feeling that they are the means by which he gets notice. Then he loses the sweet, innocent ways of a child and becomes self-conscious.

Gatloff Is Paroled.
A parole during good behavior has been granted from the bench by Judge G. W. Phelsh to Bert Gatloff, recently arrested by attaches of the sheriff's force on a charge of simple larceny. It was charged that Gatloff secured and disposed of a liberty depreicated the German violation of Belgium. When the Lusitania was sunk he telegraphed to the then Emperor William his abhorrence of a deed which had shocked the world.

The successor of Pius X was said to have combined the statesmanship of Pope Leo XIII with the grace of his immediate predecessor. He endeavored, it is said, to carry out the ideals and policies of those two great churchmen. But the world war, which broke the heart of Pius X, saddened the first four years of his pontificate and prevented the fulfillment of some of his aspirations.

One of the incidents of his pontifical career was the visit which President Wilson paid to him on January 4, 1919, when the president went to Rome prior to the opening of the peace conference at Paris. Social and treaty questions were discussed, it is said, during the private audience at the conclusion of which Pope Benedict presented to his guest a handsome mosaic reproduction of Guido Reni's famous picture of Saint Peter, valued at $40,000.

One of the smallest men physically ever elected to the chair of St. Peter, the former Cardinal Della Chiesa never expected to be thus honored by the Sacred College and he said to have wept when apprised of his selection. He would have preferred, he said, to remain a simple priest or, at most, Cardinal and Archbishop of Bologna.

Benedict XV's personal appearance has been described as follows: "A man physically ill-favored but gifted with great intelligence; short of stature, ascetically thin, with the right shoulder raised above the left, and giving on the impression of extreme nervousness and weakness. But when he raised his head the visitors instantly felt that they were in the presence of a man equipped with exceptional intellectual powers and energy. He reminded one of the noted poet, Leopardi. With an amble brow, surrounded by coal black hair, black eyes, lively and penetrating, a large mouth with thin lips full of expression, the Pope conveyed the impression of a man of few friendships but these most sincere, devoted and lasting."

BOARD TO EXAMINE
Examination of his record; attendance at a course of instruction; or a personal examination. Military service during the late war either as an officer or an enlisted man will count in favor of an applicant. There are some special cases, however, according to the president of the board, in which technical knowledge is the chief requisite and military knowledge is of slight concern, and in such cases, civilians may be appointed without the necessity of taking special military instruction.

Information as to the course of action necessary to be taken by men wanting to be examined for commissions will be furnished by the examining board.

FLAPJACK JACK IS HARD AT WORK IN PENDLETON

Seven weather-beaten miners are adroitly flipping flapjacks over glowing campfires in Pendleton stores this week, as a part of window displays arranged by Charles Stevens, of the Albers Bros. Milling Co. of Portland, at Gray Brothers, Alexanders, The Peoples Warehouse, Highway Grocery, Standard Grocery, Van Gardane's Grocery and Despain and Lee.

The flap-jack artists, who are known as Flapjack Jack, Flapjack Miller, Flapjack Devil, Flapjack Steve, Flapjack Hank, Flapjack Guy and Flapjack Bill, challenge the skill of local housewives in flipping flapjacks. To everyone who tries, a sample package of the flour is given.

RIVOLI SUNDAY AND MONDAY
APPEALING STORY IS "AFTER THE SHOW"

Appealing, dramatic and at times highly pathetic is the theme of William DeMille's new Paramount picture production of "After the Show," which will be shown at the Rivoli theatre Sunday and Monday. The story, written by Rita Weiman, deals with the stage, and Jack Holt, Lila Lee and Charles Ogle are the featured players. The scenario was written by Hazel MacDonald and Vienna Knutson.

Eileen, a chorus girl, is the protegee of Pop, an aged stage door keeper who guards her jealously from the intrigues in which stage girls and wealthy boudiers largely figure, to the disadvantage of the former. When Eileen meets Larry Taylor, who wins her love, Pop is suspicious of the truth of Larry's sentiments towards his ward. When he finds her slipping out of his life, Pop resorts to a daring expedient which has a dramatic finale. But, happily, after a period of dark doubt, true love has its innings and all are rendered happy.

ARCADE SUNDAY AND MONDAY
NEW STYLE VAMP USES PSYCHOLOGY IN THE LOVE GAME

"The vamp is dead! Long live the vamp!"

Scarcely anyone will deny that the old vamp, with her crude methods of physical appeal, her allure of the flesh, is gone—and good riddance!

Consumed in her own flame, she is only ashes, from which rises, Phoenix-like, the new vamp, with another name, a different method, and more certain and lasting results.

The newest type of vamp is introduced to the screen in a Realart picture of Harvey O'Higgins, "The Love Charm," starring Wanda Hawley, which will open next Sunday at the Arcade Theatre.

For a girl or woman can win the man she wants without sacrificing her self-respect, by using the almost infallible law of symbols, and playing upon his subconscious memories of the people and things which were dear to him in childhood.
