News Notes of Pendleton

Albert Warner Dies

Albert Warner, formerly of Pendleton, died recently in Salem, according to word received here today. He is survived by his widow, who was formerly Miss Eva Randolph, of Pendleton. Mr. Warner's death was caused by heart disease.

Miss Friedly Enters School

Miss Blanche Friedly, who because of ill health was forced to withdraw from high school here, has entered high school at Walla Walla, her condition being much improved. Miss Friedly spent the last year in Cleveland for the benefit of her health. She will conclude her high school studies this semester.

Pilot Rock Accepts.

That members of the Pilot Rock post of the American Legion will be here at the February meeting of the local post is the news received by the adjutant, Cyril Proebstel, from the Pilot Rock officials. The invitation was issued after the January meeting of the Pendleton post. About 17 men from the county's newest post will be here.

"Double D's" Winners

The "Double D" athletic club defeated the high school all stars in a snappy basketball game last night at the high school gymnasium, the score being 15 to 10. Line-up for the winning team included Speers and Powers, forwards, Muir and Webb, guards and Richardson, center. In the preliminaries, the Baptists won from the Christians, the score being 20 to 19.

New Warrants Issued.

The city today is presenting a new style of warrants in payment for February bills. The new form of paper differs from the old in that on the end of the warrant next to the stub there is a list of purposes for which city warrants may be issued, and a check is placed against the item for which individual warrant is paid. Edwin B. Winter is responsible for the idea that is incorporated in the new forms. The council recently voted to make use of his suggestion, and they appeared today for the first time. The new form will help very materially in simplifying the bookkeeping work of the city, it is thought.

Eagles To Visit

Pendleton Eagles will motor to Walla Walla this evening, where members of the two aeries will vie for wrestling supremacy. The main event is expected to determine supremacy between Carl Nelson of Dayton and Ray McCarroll of Pendleton. Local lodgemen believe that in McCarroll they have a boy that will pin the broad shoulders of the equatty Nelson to the canvas. Walla Walla eagles are just as convinced that the result will be the reverse. The wrestling championship of the respective aeries will be at stake when the rivals climb through the ropes. The semi-final will call Chris Gesek of Spokane and Frank Allison of Portland. This event is scheduled as a finish match. Two out of three falls will determine the victor. Gesek is one of the best known mat men in the Pacific Northwest. His weight is announced as 150 pounds. Allison should give his opponent plenty of trouble.

Bureau Committeemen Meet.

Farm Bureau wheat growing committeemen are holding an open meeting this afternoon at the Commercial Association rooms. Among matters under discussion are the adoption of a wage scale for spring work, the cooperative purchase of tractor fuel, the securing of a state grain inspector for this county, and a county squirrel poisoning campaign. Plans are being made for an annual meeting. Spring seeding is being discussed, as well as reduction of production costs.

Weather Clear and Cold

The weather continues clear and cold, with bright sunshine today. The maximum today, says Major Lee Moorhouse, is 23, the minimum 5 above zero and the barometer 30.25.

Mrs. Hanna Resigns.

Mrs. Affie B. Hanna has resigned her position as head of the ladies' ready-to-wear department of the J. C. Penney Co. Mrs. J. Ross is now in charge and began her duties today.

Withycombe to Speak.

Robert Withycombe, head of the Union experiment station at Union, will be a speaker at the Oregon Wool Growers Association convention here February 10 to 11. His topic will be "Lamb Feeding."

Glee Club Sings Tonight.

The Willamette University Glee Club will sing tonight at the Methodist church, for the benefit of the Epworth League. The club is made up of 19 members and the singers have met with marked success on their tour. A special rate of admission is offered for school students.

Rev. Gornall Is Speaker

Rev. R. E. Gornall, formerly pastor of the Methodist church here and now representing finance and stewardship for the board of Home Missions, is one of the speakers at the La Grande district conference institute of the Methodist church now in session in the neighboring city. Rev. Gornall will visit Pendleton in the near future.

Kuhns to Be Speaker.

J. C. Kuhns, supervisor of the Umatilla national forest, will be the chief speaker at the weekly forum luncheon of the Pendleton Commercial Association tomorrow at noon. The luncheon will be held at the Quelle restaurant at 12 o'clock sharp. Reservation sfor places may be made Reservations for places may be made at No. 114.

To Attend Meeting.

Chauncey Bishop, one of the directors of the Pendleton Round-Up, will leave tonight for Spokane, where he will represent the Round-Up at a meeting of the Northwest Fair Association. Dates for fairs in the northwest will be discussed and the Round-Up will through Mr. Bishop make its claim for the week-end of the third week in September, 1922.

Low Temperatures Recorded

The lowest temperature during the month of January was on January 9, says Major Lee Moorhouse in making his monthly report, the temperature for that date having been 20 below zero. The warmest day was on January 19, the mercury registering 49. Precipitation for the month was 2.21 inches, while the total snowfall was 20½ inches. There were eight days when the precipitation was 0.1 of an inch or more, with 25 clear days and six cloudy.

Columbia Is Frozen

There is a crust of ice over the Columbia river which will enable a man to walk clear across it, according to a report brought to Pendleton today by Gus Bertholet, conductor on the Northern Pacific, whose home is at Pasco. Fear that some false work on the new bridge may be torn out by ice when the thaw comes has been expressed by Pasco residents, according to the railroad man. This is the first time for several years that the river has been frozen over from bank to bank at Pasco, he says.

FARM COSTS SUBJECT AT ROTARY LUNCHEON

Fred Bennion, county agent, was the speaker at the weekly Rotary luncheon today. He discussed the subject of reducing farm costs and also spoke in detail as to the work of the farm bureau organizations and the farm bloc in congress. He declared that the farm bureaus are solidly back of the bloc in its efforts for legislation in behalf of agriculture.

Guests at the luncheon today included Sim Culley, Weston, A. R. Coppock, Athena, James Hill, Pendleton, Lowell Rogers, Pendleton, Mack Hoke, Pendleton, William Warner, Hermiston, and John T. Snelson, member of the Portland Rotary Club. Three new local members, L. G. Frazier, Dr. Hanavan and Bert Jerard were introduced.

H. E. Inlow called attention to the meeting to be held here February 10 by Judge Kanzler, who will talk on the subject of parental responsibility.
