Including Pendleton Prices and Associated Press Reports

No Fresh Carload Of Livestock Arrived

(From The Oregon Journal.) No fresh carloads of livestock came to North Portland at the opening of the Thursday trade and all lines showed nominal character with former prices continued.

A few stragglers in the alleys were sold in the cattle division but those consisted entirely of low quality stuff. Nothing really worth while was offered in the cattle market for the day.

General hog market range: Prime light $11.00@11.25; Smooth heavy, 230-200 pounds 8.50@9.50; Rough heavy 7.00@8.25; Fat pigs 10.75@11.00; Powder pigs 10.75@11.00; Stags 6.50@7.50.

While there was practically nothing available in the hog alleys at North Portland Thursday, packers and butchers showed a disposition to inquire for supplies. Values fully firm.

General sheep and lamb market: East of mountain lambs $9.75@10.45; Prime valley lambs 8.25@9.75; Pair to good lambs 4.75@6.25; Cull lambs 4.75@6.25; Light yearlings 7.75@8.25; Heavy yearlings 6.75@7.25; Light wethers 6.75@7.25; Heavy wethers 4.75@6.75; Ewes 3.00@6.00.

Nothing at all was offered for sale in the sheep and lamb alleys at North Portland Thursday. Trend of the trade appears steady at the previous range.

We note in a news dispatch that a young man collapsed while on his way to witness his mother's second matrimonial venture. We are of the opinion that the poor fellow simply could not go a step-father, so to speak.

True love between man and wife is like a real diamond, and very nearly as rare.

Probably there is nothing in the world quite so unimportant as the things father needs when all the rest of the family is clamoring for new Spring clothes.

The Time-Saver. Some mathematical wizard laments in the columns of the press that a man spends two and a half years in lacing his shoes. The only remedy for him that we can see is to go barefoot.

To Avoid Criticism.—Get a cave in the mountains, put a 10 foot board fence around it, retire within the cave and do absolutely nothing.

The Boss Says That.—Even after they get down to business some fellows don't. We will be glad when spring comes. Woolen underwear, we conclude, has a great deal to do with the national spirit of unrest.

A prominent member of the Kill Kare Club informs us that a wrestling bout between Jim Estes and Guy Wyrick will in future be a regular feature of the club's dances.

The irate party who sweats and swears in a telephone booth, drops in his nickel and then fails to get his number, needn't fret about his loss if he uses a Denver pay phone. The telephone company cheerfully refunds the nickel at the end of the month, provided the patron puts in the proper claim. In Denver, approximately $50 a month is given back in this manner. The operator makes a note of the incident when the depositor loses his nickel and when the claim is put in, the nickel is returned.
