Picture Is Used
A 12 foot panoramic view of the 113 Round-Up was placed on the wall of the Commercial Association's quarters in the Elks Club today. The picture is a particularly fine one and is considered the best ever taken of the local show. In addition, a colored picture of the Grand Canyon and a picture of Banff were placed on the walls today.

Harding May Speak Here
That President Warren G. Harding may speak in Pendleton in early summer when he takes his tour of the Northwest is the information reported in a special dispatch to the Portland Oregonian recently. Senator Miles Pindexter of Washington is preparing a tentative itinerary for President Harding's approval. The Washington senator takes the view that the inland cities in the past have lacked in opportunities to assist in entertaining presidents, and when President Harding comes in June, it is planned to have him make inspection trips over the Umatilla irrigation project as well as the wheat lands here and in the Palouse in Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho. Besides Pendleton, the president may speak in Walla Walla and Moscow in the inland empire.

1000 Baby Chicks Received
Bob Simpson and Jim Sturgis, known in business as Simpson-Sturgis, are in the chicken business now. They have been making plans for several months to take the plunge, and this morning they got their feet wet when a shipment of 1,000 baby chicks was received from Drain, Oregon. The young fluffs are white legs and were in excellent condition on their arrival here this morning. Another shipment of equal number is expected to come from Prosser, Washington about March 20. A new house, 72 by 24 feet, has been constructed on the Sturgis ranch at Barnhart. The house includes suitable brooders to take care of the chicks. Bob Simpson drove to Barnhart this morning with the foundation stock.

Local Saddles Pleas
A marked demand from distant localities for a "Made-in-Pendleton" product is apparent in the case of Hamley & Co., saddles. The local firm, which recently filled an order for an $50 saddle for an officer at Schofield Barracks, Honolulu, received an order today for two more saddles. Hamley & Co. today shipped to Chester Byers at Fort Worth, Texas, a remarkably fine roping saddle, made to order for the Round-Up performer. The saddle is silver-mounted and modeled after the 1921 prize saddle.

Ringold Urges Flue Cleaning
On account of the excessive amount of fuel which Pendleton residents had to burn during this cold winter, a real fire risk exists in the amount of soot in flues, according to W. E. Ringold, fire chief. The chief calls attention to the fact that the two recent heavy fire losses in Portland were caused by sparks from flues. With the return of the spring season and the high winds which may be expected the menace of fire losses is greater than usual, the chief declares, and urges that Pendletonians see to it that flues are thoroughly cleaned of their deposits of soot.

Duryea, actively at the head of the new organization and service department of the Oregon Chamber of Commerce, has written a letter to the Pendleton Commercial Association in which the information is given that he will come here within the near future for an official visit to become acquainted with Pendleton business men. Lost Records in Fire
Shopping made necessary by reason of a fire Tuesday night at Weston which destroyed the house in which he was living was done in Pendleton yesterday by the Rev. J. B. Coan, pastor of the South Methodist church at Weston. It is thought the blaze originated when the chimney burned out. The members of the family were awakened about midnight. It was with difficulty that the Rev. Coan removed Mrs. Coan, who is an invalid. He reentered the house and attempted to save some of their clothing but his own life was almost snuffed out by reason of the smoke. Their household goods, clothing and some valuable war records and manuscripts which the Rev. Coan had in his possession as a result of his own service were all destroyed. The house was the property of Mrs. Achilles who was the guest at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elane Burton at the time of the fire.

WOMEN MEN ADMIRE
Men admire a pretty face, a good figure, but more than all a buoyant disposition and the charm of happy content. There is no question but what a light-hearted woman is the joy of a man's life, but no woman can be happy and joyful when dragged down by the ailments that so often develop headaches, backaches, nervousness and "the blues."

We are continually publishing in this paper letters from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after doctors and other medicines have failed to help them. If you are ill why not give it a trial.
