News Notes of Pendleton

There isn't anything wrong with esterday. Mr. Boylen is not directively this country. The main job we have by interested in the sheep business right now is to try as hard to find now as he used to be, but he knows ways of saving money as we were practically all of the operators in bushel for the 1922 crop.

Battery Station Moved.

The William E. Chase Co., representative and parts distributor of the Chase batteries, has moved to 728 Thompson street from its old location, 20 East Court street. The new place of business gives the company more room for carrying on its work, and service which in the past has done outside can now be carried on Big Bend Prospects Good.

Present prospects for good crops of wheat in the Big Bend country and other territory adjacent to Spokane could hardly be improved upon, according to Conner Mallott, vice president of the Spokane and Eastern Trust Co., who was a Pendleton visitor yesterday. That country has had a heavy snowfall this winter, he declares, and moisture is plentiful.

He's Sending Ra'n.

March is bound to be characteristically March, according to Major Lee Moorhouse, local weather observer. In order that the variety of weather may be maintained, the major is predicting winds and rain for tonight and tomorrow. The barometer today stood at 29.65 and is falling. Maximum was 62 and minimum 30. There was a trace of precipitation last night.

Returns From School.

Thomas Thompson, next postmaster, returned this mor-ping from Portland where he has for several days attending a school for postmaster appointees. Instruction in the various departments of the postoffice were given in the ended. He does not expect his commission to arrive before April 1.

Find No Trace of Man.

H. George Buss, who is being sought by his mother at Dillon, Montana, has not been found, according to the police who have been trying to find the lad. 'He left hom last August. The only time he has corresponded with his family was last Christmas when he said he wondered if he still had a welcome back home. The card was sent from Pendleton.

A carload of Hudson and Essex automobiles arrived today for Clemens & Trombley, Inc., Included in the shipment are the first Hudson coach closed cars to be received in the West. School Trustee Here.

F. A. Baker is the trustee in liquidation for the Oregon Danymen's Cooperative league. He also is a dairy-man, and a school trustee at Stanfield. He came to Pendleton to attend the meeting of trustees of county schools which was held this afternoon at the offices of the Commercial Association. Incidentally, while here he talked over with the members of the county court the county's Hability, or lack of liability for rebuilding bridges recently washed out over drain ditches over Despain Gulch near Stanfield.

Our Showing of New Spring Suits and Overcoats

And FURNISHINGS will be a revelation to you. You'll like the smartness of the styles and colorings, with a background of quality that endures, are the features of the store's Spring showing.

DUNLAP HATS $5.00 to $10.00

If any one thing could have made soft Hats more becoming than they always have been, it would be this extra bit of width of brim added to the new Spring blocks. It makes just that little difference between a last season's and a this season Hat. The new gray shades are very Springish, and tremndously good style. Browns, however, are always good in all shades. The Hat that best suits you is bound to be here.

E. & W. Spring Shirts for the Man with Preferences $2.50 to $10.00

Quiet stripes, small checks and figures that are the last word in good taste, characterize the new Shirts for Spring. You'll find a hint of the Sports influence here, too, in Shirts with button down collars for utility wear. All in all, the new assortments are uncommonly interesting from the standpoint of both quality and good looks.

You'll Like the Easy Swing of These New Top Coats, $30.00

To the man in search of real values, there is assurance of satisfaction in this assortment of Spring Overcoats. Distinctive styles that command certain approval and a custom-like nicety of tailoring detail, bespeaking correct attire in every inch of their wellset-up look.

Men Who Are Most Skeptical as to Values

Never have to be persuaded of the desirability of the suits they select here, or of the economy of the pricings, for the superiority of the fabrics, the excellence of the workmanship and the smartness of the style are evident at a glance.

Speaking, as one sport to another, we might express it this way: Many become champions, but few can stand prosperity.

Benny Leonard is one that can largely because not only is he a master fighter but a business man. Leonard, in and out of the ring, constantly works at his profession just as the lawyer takes home his brief case at night that he may review and often correct his work of the day. It is the mediocrity who is satisfied to transact the business of box
