Help, lecturer for the Society for Visual Education, is more Irishmen.

"Since vulgarity has been banished from the films, stupidity has taken its place," said Colonel Hoop. "What we need is more real humor in our pictures. More Irishmen in the industry will accomplish this result."

"Irishmen are able to see the funny side of things. They could bring it out in the collipalms. There is nothing funny in destroying property or hurting people. Yet that is what passes for 'humor' in most of our present day comedies.

"Fun does not depend upon vulgarity. Horseplay is not the noncommitment of real humor. True humor is clean, bright and wholesome. Wit and wisdom should be combined in equal parts."

DEER HUNTING GOOD.

SPOKANE, Wash., March 16.—(U. P.)—Deer hunting should be good in this section the coming season. Large herds of deer, some of them polling the most numerous membership of any seen in the section for years, have been driven down from the uplands by heavy snows. Game wardens and deputy sheriffs are feeding the animals and warding off the depredations of pothunters. One herd, in Stevens county, between Park Rapids and Crystal Falls, numbered over 2000, the largest herd seen in the section in a decade.

MURDER CONFESSION IS NOT BELIEVED

COVILIE, Wash., March 16.—(A. P.)—Joe Corrolo of Northport is dead, and Raphael Janni has confessed to killing him, yet Prosecuting Attorney O. W. Noble and Deputy Sheriff C. A. Ledgerwood say Janni has failed to prove himself a murderer.

According to the authorities, no evidence has been found to corroborate Janni's story, while there is much to dispute it. Corrolo's body was found the morning of February 19, in an alley, on its back with an old, dull, butcher knife standing up beside the crossed feet.

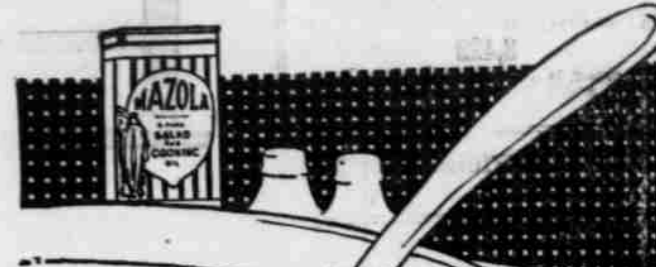

The position of the knife at the dead man's feet is said to indicate, in Italian parlance, "There is another to follow."

Now Janni says he fought with Corrolo in the alley, finally shooting him twice, and leaving the body lying on its face. Janni's gun shows it was shot but once, and no signs could be found of there having been the struggle in the alley that Janni describes. Numerous cuts in Janni's clothes were exhibited, but they appeared as if cut with a very sharp knife, and did not correspond with cuts in his underclothing and on his body. And residents of the district, who were only fifty feet or so from the alleged fight, heard no shots.

The hat of Peter Janni, Raphael's cousin, was found on the head of the dead man. Janni was arrested, charged with the murder, but released after a preliminary hearing, in which he proved that he was too drunk at the time of the crime to have committed it.

Prosecutor Noble is skeptical about the evidence thus far produced, and says while it is evident Corrolo is dead, no facts have been brought forward to show who killed him.

UNIVERSITY WILL GET BENEFIT OF INTEREST

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, March 16.—(Special)—"Great oaks from little acorns grow," the proverb goes, but in spite of this it is hard to conceive that the sum of $2000, the gift from the class of 1896 as a loan fund to University of Oregon students who run short of money during their college careers will amount to $403,927.47 at the end of 150 years, when, according to the terms of the contribution, the original principal and its accumulations shall pass to the university for its use and benefit.

The gift of $2000 as a fund to be loaned to students was made last year by the class at their annual June reunion. At that time the money was placed in the hands of a board of trustees who were given control of it. Members of the board are Jennie Beattie Harris, Dr. Clarence W. Keene, Fred W. Mulkey, Louise Yorlan Whitton, all of the class of 1896. President P. L. Campbell, and his successors in the presidency, Comptroller Louis H. Johnson, and succeeding comptrollers, and P. E. Snodgrass, president of the Fiat National Bank of Eugene, and his successors.

Loans from this fund will be made to students at an interest rate of six per cent, the interest on the total amount to be compounded annually until at the end of the 150 years the aggregate shall pass free from the trust fund to the university for its use and benefit. Preference in granting the loans will be given to lineal descendants of the members of the class of '96 of the university while those descendants are students at the university, to the university itself for temporary needs and to worthy students on the campus who might otherwise be interrupted in their college careers.

HAIR-RAISING TALE TOLD.

NEW YORK, March 16.—(I. N. S.)—Hair tonic is responsible for another "hair-raising" story—recited this time in a petition filed in court here by Isador W. Kahn, who claims he is a practicing physician, and who seeks to collect $25,000 for alleged damages to his scalp from a well known hair "restorer."

After using the tonic, declares Kahn in his petition, his scalp became "bruised, wounded and sore" and he was "disabled and permanently injured as a result of the harmful ingredients of the said hair tonic."

Use of the tonic, he recites, caused him to lose much hair and his eyesight "has been permanently impaired." He also has become afflicted with a chronic skin trouble, Kahn asserts.

HER AILMENTS ALL GONE NOW

Mrs. Sherman Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lake, Michigan.—"About one year ago I suffered with irregularities and a weakness and at times was obliged to stay off my feet. I doctored with our family physician and he finally said he could not understand my case, so I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After I had taken the first bottle I could see that I was getting better. I took several bottles of the Vegetable Compound and I am entirely cured of my ailments. You may publish this letter if you wish."—Mrs. MARY SHERMAN, Route 2, Lake, Mich.

There is one fact women should consider and that is this. Women suffer from irregularities and various forms of weakness. They try this and that doctor, as well as different medicines. Finally they take Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound, and Mrs. Sherman's experience is simply another case showing the merit of this well-known medicine. If your family physician fails to help you and the same old troubles persist, why isn't it reasonable to try...
