Two hundred pounds of squirrel poison, made of oats, strychnine, saccharine, corn syrup and other ingredients to tempt the jaded appetite of the rodents, was mixed today by Fred Bennion, county agent, for use in killing squirrels in the west end of the county. This region, Mr. Bennion states, is the meeting ground of both the Oregon ground squirrels and the Columbia squirrels also. It is hoped by farmers that the poison will prove effective in eradicating the squirrels.

Vernal Equinox Occurs

At about noon today took place what is known as the "vernal equinox," one of the phenomena in the routine of the sun, which marks the beginning of spring, March 21. The opening of the season was marked by fair weather in Pendleton. The equinox is defined as follows: "The time when the sun's center, in crossing the equator, coincides with either of the equinoctial points, that is, about March 21 and September 22. The former is called the vernal equinox and the latter the autumnal equinox. The vernal equinox signs, in which the sun appears between the vernal equinox and summer solstice, are Aries, Taurus and Gemini. At each equinox, day and night are everywhere of equal length."

Get More Baby Chicks

The chicken business of Simpson and Sturgis is picking up rapidly and before long Bob Simpson expects to have enough work to do with his fancy white leghorn stock that he will be out at the company ranch at Barnhart at least four hours a day. The second big shipment of baby chicks to the firm for this season arrived in Pendleton today. One thousand chicks were included in the lot which was taken to the ranch this morning by Mr. Simpson. The shipment came from Prosser, Washington. Three weeks ago a shipment of the same size was received from an Oregon fancier. Losses on the first batch have been very slight, Mr. Simpson reports, the chicks are thriving in their brooders which were specially constructed for their care.

MUSIC BOX SAVES HOME FROM ROBBERS

PORTLAND, Or., March 21.—(U. P.)—A Swiss music box, made in the form of a jewel casket, recently saved the home of F. F. Pittock from being burglarized.

The burglar entered the room of Miss Frederika Pittock, and stealthily approached the bureau, where he caught sight of the "jewel box"—as the Swiss maker had intended he should. Cautiously he lifted up the top of the box.

Immediately throughout the Pittock home the jingle rang out loud and clear—

Rufus, Rastus Johnson Brown,
rent comes round.
comes round.
What you gwine to say?
What you gwine to pay?
Nevah get a bit o' sense till judgment day.

You know, I know, rent means dough.

Landlord's gwine to turn us out in the snow.

Rufus Rastus Johnson Brown.

What you gwine to do when the rent comes round.?

The burglar was paralyzed. He could not move for several seconds. Incidentally, each member of the family thought some other member had come in and turned on the fmusic. Finally Miss Frederika caught sight of the burglar, and promptly ducked under the covers. The burglar went out into the hallway, and Miss Virginia caught a glimpse of him through her door as he beat a hasty retreat.
