Just Folks by Edgar A. Guest

IGNORANCE

When Ignorance and Wealth unite
 The two are in a sorry plight.
 For Ignorance, maddened by display,
 Lets passion have the right of way;
 While dumb and helpless wealth remains,
 It has no power to furnish brains.

When Ignorance by Fame is crowned
 A Fool struts on his daily round;
 Inflamed by just a few brief cheers,
 In Wisdom's face he boldly sneers,
 And, as a drunkard wears his hat,
 He tips his crown this way or that.

When Ignorance comes into power
 Brief is his reign and brief his hour,
 Good sense and reason calmly wait
 The day that he shall meet his fate;
 When Ignorance and power unite
 They fuse disaster's dynamite.

Wise men can handle wealth and fame
 And power, and never come to shame,
 Wise men can face temptations strong
 And spurn the lure and scorn the wrong;
 But when a Fool grows rich or great
 Then self-destruction is his fate.

COMMON SENSE PLANNING FOR A BETTER PENDLETON

RESIDENTS of Pendleton who are interested in seeing the city developed along lines that will make it more beautiful really have cause to feel complimented over the things Prof. A. L. Peck of O. A. C. said about conditions here as he found them. The visiting landscape expert did not throw any bouquets to Pendletonians, and he impressed his Saturday night audience by reason of his conservative tendencies. That is one excellent reason why thinking people will appreciate the few words of praise he gave Pendleton and the suggestions for improvements.

The natural conditions that exist afford excellent opportunities for beautification, he declared to his audience. A river fringed with trees which flows directly through the city, picturesque hills, a soil which permits a plentiful supply of grass and plenty of shrubs and trees are some of the natural gifts which are being put to making Pendleton beautiful.

One of the characteristics of the speaker which also appeals to the conservative man who pays taxes is that his suggestions do not call for any immediate expenditure of public moneys. To be sure, he put forward the idea that individual property owners might profitably improve their grounds and he told them in a very interesting way just how they might go about the task but in the city scheme of development, he pointed out that the acquisition of sufficient land in different plots is one of the most important things. Pendleton is to be congratulated for having the vision to provide itself with park lands, he declared.

Too often when the subject of beautifying public lands is brought forward the idea is the but of the scoffs and jeers of short-sighted persons. Those same persons, if they are purchasing an automobile, a new suit, a house for a home or any one of a number of such things are guided in making their choice to a very large degree by the beauty or lack of beauty of this or that car or house or piece of cloth.

Why not be sensible in the same degree in municipal affairs. A city beautiful is eminently worth while. It is desirable from an aesthetic point of view, it is worth while from an advertising point of view, and it is good business from the point of view of the probable financial returns that may be expected from it. Such conservative planning to make a city beautiful while it is being built as was expressed by Professor Peck certainly should appeal to the sensible people who are the heart and soul of Pendleton. The more people think about the idea of making the town beautiful and the more they practice it in their own private holdings, the more the reputation of Pendleton will grow.

SOMETHING WE ESCAPED

WE have sufficient troubles up here in Eastern Oregon, but as far as the East Oregonian knows none of our citizens have that type of Mexican fever referred to in the following by the Salem Capital-Journal:

Paradise Lost.

Pilgrims who left a few weeks ago for the promised land, to bask in the perpetual sunshine of paradise isle, otherwise known as Palmito de Verde, off the coast of Sinaloa, Mexico, are straggling home, sadder and wiser, despite the allurements of the modern Garden of Eden, where every prospect pleases and not even man is vile.

The pilgrims found the sky of Eden as represented, the same beautiful blue; they found the placid seas as painted, turquoise and amethyst; they found the picturesque forests and brilliant landscapes and all the glamor that tropic scenes present to the northern eye—but they realized why after ten years of exploitation, profitable to promoters, there are only ten families living in Paradise.

They found that Eden has a fertile soil and a pleasant winter climate, that most anything can be grown and scarcely anything marketed. They found no roads and no materials to build roads with. They found themselves isolated from the world, with no established means of communication, and little prospect of settling any. Out of touch with humanity, those who dream of spending the future watching the natives gather coconuts still unplanted are certain of enjoying a prolonged wait.

For many years promoters have reaped a rich harvest by selling bits of tropical paradise to hard-working, thrifty people willing to buy sight unseen. Most of the claims made as to wonderful productivity of the soil, natural beauty and languor of life are true. In them lies the appeal. But there is seldom a way to market products and if there is, some transportation trust takes all the profits. The same property has been sold over and over again, as in the swindle of the Isle of Pines, as banana, rubber, sisal, chicla, coconut and coffee plantations, sometimes one, sometimes the other. Millions have been lost and much hardship worked, but the merry-go-round still jazes along—there is one born every minute.

Once upon a time many Umatilla county people purchased rubber plantation land in Mexico and some developed much interest in Jalisco. As far as known the large incomes produced from such investments have caused none of the people to rival Midas or even Henry Ford.

Now that spring is here and the days of gardening and lawn cleaning are at hand it might be appropriate for the Husbands' protective association to function more vigorously; the rights of man can be maintained only by constant vigilance.

There is always something thrilling in the wire news; yesterday the republicans carried Maine and tomorrow the Dutch are likely to take Holland.

When the ball team gets into action we can all have something new to kick about.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Potts, Mrs. Isabel McIntyre and Edmund Potts left by auto Thursday for The Dalles where they will visit for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Penland of Pendleton were visitors at the Roy Penland home Wednesday.

Rev. W. A. Gressman delivered an able sermon in the local Christian church Sunday. An added feature was a vocal solo by Mrs. Fred Oswald. Mr. Gressman will speak again Sunday, March 19, 2:45 o'clock.

M. L. Morrison has returned from Pendleton where he has been undergoing treatment at St. Anthony's hospital.

Mrs. Charles Peterson of Seattle, Washington, has returned to her home after visiting friends and relatives here for several days.

Friends are welcoming Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Smith, who have returned to their home here after an extended visit in Sattl, Wash.

Among those attending the funeral of Charles Stanton, former Helix resident, which was held in Walla Walla Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Penland, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Alapach and Udney Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Temple and small son have returned from a visit with Pendleton relatives.

Mrs. E. B. Norvell has returned from Pendleton where she recently underwent an operation.

Arthur Garret of Attalla, Wash., was a week-end visitor in Helix.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Smith have returned to their home in Seattle after several days' visit with Helix relatives.

Thomas Montgomery and small son of Baker, were guests Sunday at the home of Mrs. Mary Montgomery.

A large number of Helix people attended the basketball tournament held in Pendleton Friday and Saturday nights.

Mrs. J. R. Thomas was a visitor in Walla Walla Saturday.

Norvell Dausner left Thursday for Spokane where he has employment for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Adams have returned from a visit with relatives in Pendleton.

Miss De Yoe, representing the Ellison White Lyceum Circuit, was in Helix recently and arranged for a course here this coming winter.

OLD AGE.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., March 21.—When did you first notice that you were growing old?

A reporter here set out to learn the answer from different Huntington people, with some interesting results. Here are some of the answers:

When I noticed the first gray hair.

When I met my son for the first time walking with a girl.

When a girl friend told me she was in love with some other man.

When I lost my first tooth.

When I lost my breath while going up hill.

When a mother asked me to see her young daughter home.

When the presence of many people began to bore me.

When I began to find more pleasure in staying home than in going out in the evening.

COLUMBIA NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB MEETS WEDNESDAY

(East Oregonian Special.)

COLUMBIA DISTRICT, March 21.—Mrs. Mills and Mrs. Carmen, who have been visiting at the home of their brother, J. H. Reid, left Sunday.

WORN OUT AFTER SHE COOKED A MEAL

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Read the Result

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I suffered for a year with nervous troubles and irregularities before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back pained all the time and I was unfit for housework. I was worn out if I cooked a meal, and was unable to do my washing. My girl friends and my sister told me if I would take your Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills I would be relieved. After taking the first bottle I felt better, and neglected it awhile, but found I could not do my work until I was stronger. So I took the Vegetable Compound again and now I am the mother of a 19 months old boy. He is fat and healthy and I am sure I could never have carried him if it had not been for your Vegetable Compound. I recommend your medicine to all women although I am young to be advising some one older."—Mrs. CHERRY, PERCOTT, 318 W. Liberty St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains no harmful drugs and can be taken in safety by any woman.

The Saver Makes The Spendthrift Breaks

The man who spends less than he earns is a civic asset, while he who spends his all may some day become a civic liability. The man who saves looks into the future with confidence, while he who spends faces the cold charity of his friends and relatives—or the poorhouse. The optimist is the man with a bank account, while the pessimist is a spendthrift. Which kind of a man are you? Open a Term Savings Account at this bank—$1 is sufficient—it will earn 4 per cent compound interest and pay rich dividends in happiness.
