Giants Claim Best Infield In the N. L.

BY HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent.)
NEW YORK, March 21.—(U. P.)—Pretty sweet infield the Giants have in Kelly, Frisch, Bancroft and Groh! New York fans think it is the best in the major leagues. They're sure it is the best inner defense in the National League.

On the offensive it is better than a 300 hitting combination with two fine clouters and four good consistent hitters. On the defense it should be high perfect.

American League fans will let the Giants claim their lead off about National League supremacy, but as long as the Washington Senators have Judge Harris, Peckinpaugh and Shanks they will not concede them the universe.

The Cleveland Indians also have a good infield and the New York Yankees aren't in such a bad way, although many fans believe Huggins could get better results by shifting Ward to third base.

Nothing on the National League approaches the Giant infield for all around efficiency.

McGrow also has a pretty good outfield even if he lost the great George Burns. Irish Mousell and Peg young are about as good as the league can boast of and Shinners or Cunningham ought to develop into a good running mate in center field. The Braves have a good outfield and so have the St. Louis Cards. The Cleveland Indians had two great combinations, until they traded Elmer Smith and the Detroit Tigers have a terrible hitting trio patrolling the outfields.

Decision of the American League to give a prize to the player voted of the most value to his club will create a lot of interest and do much to settle an argument that hangs over every off season. There are many different ideas about what constitutes greatness and what makes a player valuable to his club. The vote of eight competent judges ought to give a satisfactory answer.

The National League is not going to offer a prize. Some of the club owners took the stand that such an offer would make all the stars individual players but nothing could be farther from reason. One thing above all others that would disqualify a player in any sane judge's mind would be a disposition to place his own glory above that of the team. The real reason why the proposition was turned down was that the National League did not want to follow the lead of the American League and be placed in the position of admitting that Ban Johnson had done something worth while.

10 PERCENT OF WHEAT HELD BY STATE GROWERS

PORTLAND, March 21.—Wheat of the 1921 crop on Oregon farms on March 1st, 1922, is estimated at 2,562,000 bushels, or 10.0 per cent of the total 1921 production, according to latest estimates of the U. S. Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates, says F. L. Kent, Agricultural Statistician for Oregon. A year ago there was 12.0 per cent of the preceding year's crop on farms and two years ago, 13.0 per cent.

For the entire United States it is estimated there remained on farms on March 1, 1922, 131,135,000 bushels, or 16.5 per cent of the total of 1921 wheat crop. This compares with 217,037,000 bushels or 26.1 per cent of the 1920 crop on farms, March 1, 1921, and 169,904,000 bushels or 17.6 per cent of the 1919 crop on farms March 1, 1920; the 10 year average is 19.8 per cent.

Warehouse Stocks
No data is at hand to indicate what part of the wheat now in storage warehouses is still owned by farmers, but it is well known that much wheat is annually stored in warehouses at shipping pints, the ownership being retained by the grower. This condition of ownership means that considerably more than the 10.0 per cent still remaining on Oregon farms, is in farmers' hands; that is, considerably more than 10.0 per cent of the 1921 crop is yet unsold, part of which of course, will not be for sale, being required for seed, feed, etc. It seems probable that 20-25 per cent of the 1921 crop is still unsold.

The railroads serving the principal wheat producing counties report the receipt at warehouses along their lines, for the 1921 crop season, to Jan. 1, 1922, of 18,167,016 bushels of wheat of which 12,324,275 bushels, (about
