(Additional School News on Page 4.)

Sixth Grade

The sixth grade were 100 percent perfect in spelling today.

The sixth grade used "birds" as their subject in art this week. Some very good work was done. Those doing especially fine work are Fred Warnstrom, Cecil Bartley, Elford Holtsman, Claire Smith, Young Snyder, and Alvin Wilson.

The sixth grade boys have been working very hard this week, getting their part of the school parking ready for seeding to bluegrass.

The boys and girls were much interested in their hygiene essays which were completed this week.

Seventh Grade

The class spent a very pleasant hour writing poetry during the language period. The following poem was written:

Rocks and picks and spades. Seventh grade, seventh grade. Are very handy with pick and spade. We are handy in the work. Because from work we never shrink.

Rocks and picks and spades. We almost have to wade. We'll have some lawn, Before many days dawn.

We work from morn till night With nothing but rocks in sight. We get our school work too, And have plenty of it to do.

April day is almost here, We'll have to plant some lawn I fear. We are always in the lead, And we're noted for our speed.

All at work and none at play, That is how we fill our day. Picking, digging, screening, hauling, Hearing music of rocks falling.

When we're done with pick and screen Come and dance upon our green, And take a ride upon our slide, And enjoy the beauties on our side.

The class entered the essay contest on "Health and Happiness Through Good Care of the Teeth" with much enthusiasm. Every pupil had a good story. The four best were written by Esther Powell, Jennie Moran, Gerold Englehart and Reva Nevers.

The class has completed the course in geography and is beginning the review.

Many of the battles of the Revolution are causing us to have real thrills when studying them.

Eighth Grade

The eighth grade boys have during their shop work period, made new standards for use in the high jump.

Our boys won the last ball game played with Lincoln, to the tune of 15 to 4 and as a result the eighth grade girls are giving the team a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Shuman.

All recreation time is now being spent in training for track and inch benefit and enjoyment derived therefrom.

The student body at its last meeting voted to use the funds on hand for a history chart, and students which contains thirty three maps. It will be used during the history review and then presented to the building by the class of 1922-23. The cost of the chart was $21.00.

The boys of the class had a lively debate Friday afternoon. Resolved, that the United States should retain the Philippine Islands permanently. Those on affirmative side were Gale Harvey, Jack Peeler, Phillip Vanlo, Keith and Elder. On the negative, Edward Kramer, Bernard Walters, Earl Yostman and Dale Stott.

Head marks in spelling were received by Florence Walter and Mildred Lisk, the pupils from grades 4th to 8th are preparing the soil in the parking so it can be seeded before

Arbour day. It is very rocky soil and the boys are screening it to remove the rock.
