KLAN ROLL IN SIX STATES OBTAINED

LOS ANGELES, April 29.—(U. P.)—A formal order expanding a grand jury to investigate the Ku Klux Klan and its alleged complicity in the Ingledew raid and other outrages in this vicinity will be signed by Judge Willis today. The superior court bench unanimously granted Woolwine's request to empanel a grand jury.

District Attorney Woolwine told the United Press today that he had in his possession the name of every member of the Ku Klux Klan in Los Angeles and vicinity. The rolls will be presented to the grand jury, he said.

Hostess covering the Klans in six states, California, Oregon, Washington, Arizona, Nevada and Idaho were also obtained in the raid on the Klan headquarters, Woolwine said.

RELAY CARNIVAL TODAY.
SEATTLE, April 29.—(U. P.)—Nine colleges compete here today in the third annual University of Washington northwest relay carnival. Schools from Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington are entered.

Out with the fire—let the forests live.

ST. ANTHONY'S HOSPITAL

Cooking will be by steam and electricity and all equipment will be strictly modern. Dumb waiters are a part of the plans.

Third Maternity Floor
The third floor of the hospital will be known as the "maternity floor." On this floor, in addition to the rooms for patients, will be the delivery room, the babies' wash room, the nursery, and the children's room, which will contain four small cots.

The two operating rooms are on the fourth floor, at the front of the building. There is a sterilizing room between the two. The sterilizers for the operating room and maternity room have already arrived, and will replace old equipment which is to be used for the dressing rooms. The new operating table is a Balford, which can be raised or lowered by valve pressure.

Conveniences for Doctors
The nurses' wash-up room and the doctors' wash-up room are on this floor also. The doctors' quarters are equipped with shower baths and dressing room. Other rooms on this floor are the X-Ray machine room, the dressing sterilizing room, the instrument room, etc.

Features of the building are the three sun porches at the side above the ambulance drive, and four similar porches on the rear, offering a sunny open-air spot for convalescents. Fire escapes are at the rear and do not darken rooms. Special fire protection is included, and it is possible to close off the stairways.

Laundry is included
A laundry, which will be completely equipped, adjoins the new wing. Here will be done all the laundry for the institution. Steam warmers for blankets, bed pan sterilizers, electric heaters, and other modern inventions are included. Supply closets, in ample number, are located in the halls. Clothes chutes and dust chutes are provided also.

In the basement, which will be neatly finished, are the two furnaces, one for winter and one for summer use, the hot water tank and the storage batteries. Electric pipes are run beneath the floor.

Beds, tables and bedside cabinets have been ordered for the hospital. Blankets, linens, dressers and cookery equipment are yet to be ordered.

The construction of the building is under the direction of P. A. Ballar-goon, architect and builder. The building is the result of years of planning on the part of the sisters.

ATTORNEYS BEGAN

when the crime was supposed to have been committed. He also declared that the defense never has attempted to make the jury believe that the murder of Jepson was committed by Fred Patterson. The intention was to indicate that it is surprising to him that the "smooth detectives" employed by the state did not succeed in their efforts to get the defendant to sign a statement that he had killed Jepson in self defense. Charles Von Derahe is not smart enough to be a moonshiner, and he should go back to the farm "where his good old father started him many years ago," he told the jury.

He recounted the methods used by the detectives in securing the testimony of important witnesses and said that the machinery of the state had been used to fasten the crime on Von Derahe even though other men had been suspected of the murder. The defendant has indulged in too much "fool talk" about the case, the speaker admitted.

RIVOLI SUNDAY AND MONDAY JACKSON GREGORY

WROTE FINE STORY
A story that bristles with thrilling incident and glows with the warmth of romance gives Pauline Frederick a splendid vehicle in "Two Kinds of Women," her current R-C production.

"Two Kinds of Women," based upon Jackson Gregory's novel, "Judith of Blue Lake Ranch," is a Western story and one of the most engrossing that ever flowed from the facile pen of Mr. Gregory, who has to his credit a long list of notable stories laid in Western settings.

"Two Kinds of Women" introduces Miss Frederick in a role that fits her as snugly as a rubber cap fits the head of a bath. She is the virile, efficient, wholesome type without losing a bit of the feminine charm that makes her beloved of motion picture audiences the world over. She finds, for example, that the welfare of the big ranch her father has left her is jeopardized by a group of culprits headed by one of the employees, and the plot revolves chiefly about her fight to outwit the gang.

BEBE DANIELS

A "REAL KID" IN REAL LIFE.

A couple of kids together! This aptly describes Bebe Daniels and "Eddie" Sutherland, respectively star and leading man of "Nancy From Nowhere," the Reelart picture which opens next Sunday for a run of two days at the Arcade Theatre.

When the company was changing sets, or when for any other reason they were free, these two screen favorites would either be putting on their burlesque classic dance, or doing their fake acrobatic act, with many cries of "Allons! Hup!" and all the atmosphere of the "best Continental artists." Many a laugh from the company and crew was the tribute to their pleasant foolery.

Although Mr. Sutherland is the child of an actress and a theatrical manager, he had to run away from home to go on the stage. He is a member of the well-known Ring family, Julie and Blanche Ring being his aunts. He played with the latter in musical comedy. But the lure of pictures drew him, and he started in with the Helen Holmes Company as a property-boy. During the war, he was a member of the British Royal Air Force.

"Two Kinds of Women"

Or "Judith of Blue Lake Ranch," from the Novel by Jackson Gregory.

He had helped her fight the fight of a man—had seen her ride an outlaw horse to a standstill, and outwit the cleverest scoundrel in the West who had tried to steal her million dollar ranch while she held it against heavy odds.

Although he was the man of her heart, she could not win him. Physically as tough as a rawhide, and yearned for a feminine woman. He thought her unmanly in leather breeches, flannel shirt, and Stetson. But win him she did with women's weapons—clothes.
