TWO TAKE EIGHTH GRADE EXAMINATIONS

(East Oregonian Special.)
ADAMS, June 8.—Mr. Feager has just received the state examination questions for the examination to be held June 8 and 9. Only two take this test all others of the eighth grade having successfully passed with the required averages in the May examinations. These two pupils have only one thing to do, study hard, and expect a larger enrollment next fall in both high school and college than we have had for many years.

The vacancies in the teaching force have been filled and all the contracts have been signed for the coming school year. Mr. Yeager will be principal, Mr. Bleckney and Mrs. DuBois will be here another year. Mrs. Blomquist who is Mr. Bleckney's sister and Mrs. Yeager are the new teachers for next year taking the place of Miss Mortimore and Mrs. West.

Mr. Bleckney and sister drove down from Walla Walla Saturday to make final arrangements for their work next year and for their boarding and rooming accommodations. They will take school work in Whitman this summer. Mrs. DuBois will attend summer school in Monmouth and Mr. and Mrs. Yeager are going to Eugene to attend the summer school.

THOMAS EDISON PEEVED OVER POOR 'HEAD WORK' OF WASHINGTON GUARDS

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Thomas Edison has yet to realize one of his principal ambitions.

While in Washington recently the famous inventor called at the treasury building to keep an appointment with several high government officials. He was stopped at an entrance door by a watchman, who disdainfully passed up the scientist's explanations with a "tell it to the chief of the watch." Edison was subjected to a rigid inspection and severe grilling, pronounced harmless and permitted to proceed to the office of Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger.

Strolling up the corridor after having been a k.d by the treasury guards, Edison ironically remarked to a companion:

"I'm in favor of the police, but— one of my ambitions is to invent something that will improve their headwork."

TAKE IT IN TIME Just as Scores of Pendleton People Have

Waiting doesn't pay. If you expect kidney backache, urinary troubles, often follow. Doan's Kidney Pills are for kidney backache, and for other kidney ailments. Pendleton citizens endorse them. Mrs. Alex Oliver, 1515 W. Webb St., Pendleton, says: "I was troubled with lame back and kidney disorder. My back was so sore and lame I could hardly get around, and my kidneys caused me a great deal of annoyance. As another member of my family had used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results so I got some at Tallman's Drug Store. They cured me of the pain and made my back well and strong and my kidneys were put in good condition."

Price 40c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Oliver used. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

'FLIRTING' WAS TOPIC OF SERMON

"Many of our present-day unhappy marriages had their origin in what was considered an innocent flirtation." "Flirting is always dangerous. It has wrecked many hearts and homes and ruined lives." "Flirting" was the subject of Mr. Hulink's sermon last night at the Baptist Church. Among other things he said: "There are many professed Christians making love to the world despite the warning of the Scriptures that 'friendship with the world is enmity towards God.' They are making the main object of their life worldly advancement, fame, prosperity and pleasure, and getting them at the price of spiritual poverty and loss of Christian influence. There are mothers, save the mark, who would rather have their daughters alone in society than have them shine for the Lord. God pity daughters with mothers like that. And their fathers who will risk the moral spiritual and eternal well-being of their sons in order to gratify worldly ambition. But the old saying is true, that those who play with fire are going to get burned."

"Torchers or Throgers," is the theme for tonight at 7:45.

Ohio Jury Rivals Wisdom of Solomon

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio, June 5.—The fame of the late King Solomon, who attained world-wide repute for the justice of his decision as to which of two women was the mother of a babe taken before him, may well give way to the modern variety of justice as exemplified by a Belmont County Common Pleas jury.

A Maynard lodge argued over the application of a woman for membership in a man's organization. The fight became too warm. The crowd went outside to settle it.

Then it was that John Shuttack, the plaintiff, alleged that he was hit in the forehead with a stone. He estimated his damage at $5,000 and filed suit against Mike Zuback for that amount. Zuback's answer included a cross petition which alleged that, after reading Shuttack's petition, he, too, was injured and countered with a claim for $5,000 alleged damages from Shuttack.

The jurors displayed tact, diplomacy, etc., when they awarded the plaintiff and the defendant alike $100.

GOVERNMENT FILMS WILL SHOW HABITS OF AMERICAN BIRDS

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Bird lovers who also are motion-picture devotees have a treat in store for them. Two motion pictures dealing exclusively with birds have just been completed by the department of agriculture and soon will make their appearance on the screen in "movie" houses throughout the country.

One of the agriculture department's pictures shows the "National Bird Refuge on the Gulf of Mexico." It starts with the reservation patrol boat which takes the visitors from Pass Christian to the low-lying islands off the Louisiana coast.

At the outset attention is drawn to the federal regulations administered by the biological survey against disturbing the birds or their eggs in the national refuges. Pictures of the flocks in flight are then shown, together with nesting scenes of many of the interesting species of birds found in that locality. These include the pelican, the willet, laughing gulls, black skimmers, least terns, and young Louisiana herons and royal terns.

The other film, entitled "Anne's Azurette," shows interesting pictures of the American egret, snowy heron, and other birds on the Walker Lake reservation in Arkansas. The picture is so arranged as to demonstrate the inhumanity of the traffic in the plumage of these birds for the purpose of personal adornment.

Anne shows her new hat to her husband, who notices the plume on it and explains that it is a egret's—the nuptial plume of the egret. He tells her how these birds have been almost exterminated through the work of plume hunters. He then describes his visit to a federal bird refuge and the egret he saw there. The scenes shift to a great swampy area in Arkansas. After the explanation Anne decided she will not wear the plume.

The pictures are both short, one reel each, and will soon be distributed.
