Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Mayton and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Snyder of Pendleton stopped in Rieth a short time last Sunday afternoon on their way to Hermiston where Mr. Mayton was going to fill a business engagement.
Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Lawson formerly of Rieth but now of Pilot Rock, became the proud parents of twin boys a couple of weeks ago.
Ten new Mexicans arrived in Rieth Monday to work on the section.
Mr. and Mrs. Mayberry returned Monday night from La Grande where they had been visiting for a few days.
Frederick Heath came down Monday night from his home in Pleasant Valley for a day or two visit here and in Pendleton.

RATTLESNAKES OVERRUN BOURBON COUNTY, KANSAS

PARSONS, Kan., June 21.—The marked increase in rattlesnakes throughout Bourbon County is causing great alarm to the residents.
In one week's time recently thirty-five were killed near Fort Scott, Kan., authorities stated. Eight rattlers in two days is the record to date and is held by C. M. Grimes.
The increase is caused by a mild winter, according to pioneer settlers.

PARLIAMENT MEMBERS SMASHING TRADITIONS

LONDON, June 21.—Members of Parliament aren't following in the gourmandizing footsteps of their predecessors, according to George Willscher, manager of the Parliamentary restaurant.
In the old days Members of Parliament were connoisseurs of food and wine. Willscher says, but the modern legislator doesn't seem to care what or when he eats.

IT LOOKS LIKE A NICE JOB FOR NURSIE

ROADS IN GURDANE DISTRICT ARE OPEN

(East Oregonian Special)
GURDANE, June 21.—Victor N. Runberg who has been taking vocational training in forestry at the University of Idaho has been assigned to this district for the summer for field experience. He is stationed at Ellis Ranger Station and will act as assistant to the Ranger. He is accompanied by Mrs. Runberg.
Homer Landers of Pilot Rock who will act as lookout at Arbuckle mountain during the fire season is assisting in road and trail maintenance.
The following roads are now open for travel: from Ukiah westward as far as Arbuckle mountain, Ukiah to Gurdane, Gurdane to Gilman ranch, and the road from Ellis Ranger Station via Squaw Flat and upper Five Mile Crossing to Gurdane. The crew is now engaged on the Arbuckle mountain to Thompson Park road. Logs and down timber and rocks are being removed but no grading is being undertaken.
Mrs. W. S. Casteel at Ditch Creek ranger station has been suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism but is now much improved and is able to be around.
N. J. Reeves made a freighting trip the forepart of the week from Albee to Ellis ranger station with about a ton of oats and groceries.
Mrs. Fred Casteel, accompanied by the boys who have been away to school has come to the mountains to be with her husband. Mr. Casteel is suitor for the Five Mile Cattle association. They will make their home for the summer at the association's field headquarters at Squaw Flat.

WOMAN PREFERS DEATH TO PAINFUL CONFINEMENT

PARIS, June 21.—"I would rather die than go to prison," Princess Gaurico, condemned to five years' imprisonment by the Soviet tribunal at Moscow, is reported to have told her captors. True to her word, she has addressed a formal request to the tribunal to have her sentence changed to that of death.

BOARDMAN SCHOOL TO HAVE RADIO

(East Oregonian Special)
BOARDMAN, Ore., June 21.—The annual school meeting was held in the school auditorium at 2 o'clock on Monday. The clerk read the annual reports and the report of the auditor. Special features shown by the figures were reduction in cost per pupil for high school instruction from $230 to $160 per year due in part to increased attendance and in part to the fact that the salary charge was divided between two of the teachers did part time work for the grades in manual training and domestic science.
The vote for a director for three years was closely contested, the candidates were Lee Mead, station agent at Messner, and W. H. Gilbreth farmer on the East Side. Gilbreth won by 5 votes. L. V. Root as chosen clerk. Votes of thanks were extended to the retiring clerk and chairman, Mrs. H. H. Weston and W. O. King respectively.
The sense of the meeting was unanimously in favor of the placing of a radio outfit in the auditorium for school and community use.
Miss Esther Chaffee, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Chaffee of the Boardman Telephone exchange and the Pastime confectionery was united in marriage to Harry Thlenis of Eugene, Sunday morning at 9:00, at the home of the bride's parents, the Rev. E. Benson of Portland officiating. Miss Chaffee was one of the most popular of the younger set in Boardman, and the groom is a leading fuel dealer of the university city. The young couple left immediately for Eugene followed by the good wishes of the entire community.

ANKLES TABOOED BY LATE ASCOT STYLES

ASCOT, June 21.—Ankles are now taboo, but one may feast their eyes upon shapely and unshapely limbs to their hearts content.
Ascot styles this season, if today's showing is any criterion, demand that the ankles, of which we have seen so much, must be hidden beneath long skirts. Arms have come out of captivity, however, and the majority of the gowns seen upon this famous and aristocratic race course are either totally sleeveless or have sleeves which are flowing and slashed widely from elbow to shoulder.
Queen Mary, the long time champion of the long skirt, has met with success. Perhaps it is due to the dictates of French modistes more than to the queen, but at any rate the gowns are long skirted. But how the arms have blossomed out! It is a matter of choice now whether the ankle or the arm is more pleasing to the eye.
Many of the long-skirted gowns are set off with flowing cape effects, and the hats are all wide and floppy brimmed, with the exception of that worn by the queen, who always affects the toque.
Organdie is the favorite material for Ascot gowns—and such organdies, all in delicate tints of lemon blush pink, sky blue, crepe marocain, georgette and dyed laces also are well favored. Beige colored Swiss embroidery is another material which is being effectively used. These dresses have pretty flower girdles in colors which match hat and sunshade. Yes, indeed, the sunshade is in favor, safely ynnacooned on the pedestal of English racing fashions by the Queen and Princess Mary, who both appeared at the Derby with beautiful blue sunshades.
Lines of the throat and shoulder in Ascot gowns, are generously displayed, boat-shaped collars giving this effect. When there are sleeves they are wide and flowing, slashed liberally, and often there are side panels that drape slightly below the hem of the skirt on each side.
Hand bags have again become a necessity to the well-dressed woman, dainty little bags of cloth or silver being most popular among those who crowd the grandstands.
Fresh flowers are being used profusely by both men and women. The King and Duke of York have revived the boutonniere.
Altogether England's womanhood never was better dressed than at this season's Ascot.

GOVERNMENT PLANNING LIVESTOCK BULLETINS

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The Department of Agriculture is contemplating the inauguration of a nation-wide livestock reporting service to inform livestock producers and buyers of prospective supplies, hoping thereby to stabilize the livestock and meat industry by permitting closer correlation of supply and demand.
The plan, officials said, is still in the making. Full details will be worked out at Denver, Colorado, on July 17, at a conference of State and Federal officials and representatives of the entire livestock and meat industry.

INVEST IN REAL ESTATE

Why not see a reliable real estate man who makes it his business to study values, who handles hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of property over the town and county, who keeps in close touch of values, who can give you more reliable information than men in other lines? Ask his advice on investments before you loan your money at a low rate of interest. With your money well invested in good old real estate, it is absolutely safe. It will not run away, die, and no one can steal it. Banks sometimes go broke, stocks and bonds fluctuate. Be on the safe side. Buy real estate. Your money can earn from 15 to 25 per cent.
