MILTON-FREEWATER, July 12.—John Balliett and Frank Wilkerson are ready to pull into the field with their new "baby Holt" combine.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Hartle are enjoying a visit with their daughter and three children from California, who will stay the rest of the summer. They are also made happy by the removal to Milton, from Pendleton, of another daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Power.

Last Friday the Doctors Allen entertained their guest, Mrs. James Bussert by taking her out to visit the ranch and family of E. E. Walden. Mrs. Bussert is a sister of Mrs. Allen. Mr. and Mrs. Earnest McQueen drove over to Walla Walla Sunday. Mrs. David George accompanying them, the McQueens visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William McQueen, and Mrs. George at the home of Mrs. E. C. Walker.

Mrs. James Bussert with Mrs. Agnes Thompson and son Edward were visitors at the home of Mrs. Sarah Walden, south of Milton, last Sunday. Mrs. Bussert who is a sister to Mrs. E. W. Allen will make visits to Prescott and Watsburg in company with Mrs. Viola Stubbs of College Place this week before returning to her home in Chester, Mont.

Mrs. J. H. Hillman is making her daughter, Mrs. Lilla Sipes a prolonged visit on Linkton Mountain, this escaping the heat.

Mrs. Homer McKenzie and her mother, Mrs. Mae Johnson are enjoying the cool of McDougall's camp, through this hot weather living in the Noordhoff and McKenzie cabins.

F. J. Oliver who is at the head of the office goods department of the Noordhoff & McKenzie dry goods store is taking a vacation, and has gone to his home at Vancouver, Wn.

The Tomato Growers' Association of this community took in their first lot of tomatoes Monday. There have been some ripe for a few days, though none shipped before. The association expect to handle fifty or seventy five thousand crates of this fruit this season.

In going to the clerk L. A. Reinman of the McLaughlin high school board, we were enabled to learn that after long deliberation the board decided on the purchase of the following furniture and equipment from the display on the upper floor of the ice and cold storage plant by companies represented there last week: Open chairs, Northwest Furniture Company, Seattle; Clock and bell system, J. McLean, Portland, Ore. Six hundred steel lockers and other gymnasium equipment, Fred Medart, St. Louis, Mo. A small part of the gymnasium equipment, Cheshire Hardware Company, Milton, Ore. Window shades and twenty five arm chairs, Crawford Furniture Company, Pendleton, Ore. Nine swivel chairs, laboratory equipment, seventeen teacher's desks, office and waiting room chairs and twenty small typewriter desks, John W. Graham, Spokane. The folding chairs and two swivel chairs, Haywood-Wakefield Furniture Company, Seattle. Student's desks, W. A. Finzer, Portland, Ore. Two office desks, thirty teachers' desks, one combination typewriter desk, four large flat tables for director's room and library, Westmide, Desk Company, Portland, Ore. The bids for the lighting fixtures were rejected and new specifications will be put out by the board and another call for bids made.

The half interest in the Freewater billiard parlors owned by Frank Harrington has been purchased by his brother Harry who now is the sole owner. Harry says his brother who left here a few days ago is in the hospital in Los Vegas, Nev., in which climate he hopes to improve in health.

J. E. Huon of Los Angeles is in the valley visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. Kate Heller, mother of George Heller the Freewater tailor, after visiting here a while has gone on to Seattle to stay the rest of the summer with her daughter in that city.

W. E. Jones, Freewater real estate man in Freewater has gone in company with Roy Samuel of Milton to Hildesheim, Ore., on a visit of business, going in an auto.

Mrs. Emma Phillips and family are camping with the Roy Edwards family at Cold Springs. The H. O. Mansfield family are seeking refuge from the heat at the same place.

Mrs. Floyd Fox was down from the ranch on Basket Mountain Monday, returning the same day.

The room that used to be a bowling alley a quarter of a century ago, but recently used by the McKenzie brothers for an automobile repair shop, across the street from the Milton post office, is being neatly fitted up for the accommodation of the plumbing, tuning, radiator repairing, etc., of A. Allen and Fred Fullerton.

The seven hundred copies of the Columbia college annuals have just been gotten out by the Milton Eagle printing plant, and are ready for distribution.

Rev. C. A. Rexroad enjoyed a few days visit with his family and returned to the Veterans' hospital at Boise, Ida., Monday evening. While here he preached the morning sermon last Sunday, behind his pulpit in the Methodist church.

Mrs. G. D. Hitchcock has three young guests at her home, they being James, Marguerite and little Irene Williams from Lewiston, Ida. They are Mrs. Hitchcock's sister's children, the oldest of whom is ten and they came without their parents, part way by train, interurban and part way with friends in an auto mobile.

C. H. Young and Ethel Sanford were quietly married Saturday afternoon in Walla Walla in the Methodist parsonage, by the Rev. J. W. Coughlan. The contracting parties are both resident of South Milton where they are well known and held in high esteem. The bride has been employed in the Milton-Freewater telephone exchange until recently, for years. They will live on her mother's ranch which they have rented.

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Coyle accompanied by Miss Vanderhoof started for Portland Saturday, by auto. Miss Vanderhoof will go on to Seattle. They are on their vacation trip. The duties of Miss Vanderhoof at the Milton city office will be looked after by Miss Rose Liebman during their absence.

HOW TO LEARN GOLF

By ALEC HEIRD
Former Golf Champion of the British Isles.
(Written for the United Press)

CHAPTER II.
NOTE—In this second of his series to golf beginners, the noted British expert enlarges on the importance of learning the proper grip.

In this article I want to amplify my remarks on the grip. After all, the way in which you grasp the club is the very first essential in golf. It comes even before the swing. Because, before you learn to swing you have to make up your mind how you are going to hold the club.

There are two choices—the overlapping or the natural "V" or palm grip, as it is called. In the overlapping grip the left thumb lies down the shaft of the club, and the little finger of the right hand rests on the forefinger of the left hand. Both hands come together in the palm grip, but there is no overlapping. The thumb of the left hand goes around the shaft of the club, the right hand gripping the shaft just below the top joint of the left thumb.

BE NATURAL.
Both styles have produced champions, but so much has been written about the overlapping grip that beginners think either that it is the only effective method or that the adoption of any other is rank bad form.

Nothing of the kind, I may be accused of prejudice in favor of the palm grip because it happens to be the one which I have always used, but my contention is that it is the natural way of holding a club. A woodman does not seize an axe with an overlapping grip, in order to cut down a tree. He holds the implement as Nature teaches him to hold it, otherwise he could not get the full force of strength into the blow. Every movement in golf should, first, last, and all the time, be natural.

I have noticed that beginners who accept the overlapping grip experience some difficulty in completing the upward swing. It becomes complicated, because the left thumb, being down the shaft, hampers the player in getting the wrists in position at the top of the swing.

INJURED THEIR GAME.
I have had to make the change with some pupils because the knuckle of the left forefinger has become sore and the skin is broken. How many players do you see with a piece of adhesive tape round the knuckle of the left forefinger? This is a sure and certain sign of overlapping. I say definitely that a great many players have permanently injured their game by resorting to this method.

If you have become used to overlapping and like it, then stick to it. It is obviously the grip for you. I do say, however, that the champions and ex-champions who are regarded as shining examples of the new method—for it is new by comparison—would probably have had just as much success with the palm grip. I believe that up to the present the American amateur championship has never been won by a player who uses the overlapping grip. This is a fact which should hearten those beginners who, wrongly, I think, bother themselves about its complicated finger work.

HUBBY SWATS WIFE FOR MAKING DISHTOWELS OF SUMMER UNDERCLOTHES

DETROIT, July 13.—The question is: Has a wife the right to take her husband's summer underclothes in the wintertime and make dishtowels of them?

Peter Valinch, of Royal Oak, says "no" and made it emphatic when he told his wife, Mary, about it by punching her in the nose.

Mary, the wife says "yes" and retaliates by having Peter chucked in jail for assault and battery.

Mary is supporting the four children, while Peter cools his heels and temper behind the bars.

Likewise, Mary says, she has plans for a divorce.

Which looks like the affirmative answer wins.

GERMAN HUMORIST IS SUED BY THE KAISER

BERLIN, July 13.—The ex-Kaiser's lawyer, in Berlin, has filed suit for libel against the well-known satirist, Carl Sternheim, for poking fun at the ex-Kaiser in his latest book, "Lügenhaft," in which the ex-warrior's charger "Lobus" "knocks" its memoirs on the floor of the stable. It is a sharp satire on the role the ex-Kaiser played in politics at Petrograd, London and Berlin while he was in power.
