The Standard Oil company of California has brought home the trophy for the second time in two months. Mr. Baisley, district sales manager of the Portland field, offers a Zerolene and also a Red Crown silver cup to the substitution making the greatest percentage of gain over their sales for the same month in 1921, on these products. These cups have the name of the substitution winning them each month engraved on them, and if no substitution wins the cup twice during the year it then goes to the substitution making the greatest percentage of gain for the whole year over their sales in 1921. Considering the fact that there are 63 substations in the Portland field the Stanfield organization feel quite proud to have won the Zerolene cup in May and the Red Crown in June.
