33 Is Dread Mexican Number

MEXICO CITY. (By Mail to United Press.)—"Thirty-three."

Foreigners in Mexico fear this expression. It means more than "twenty-three."

"Thirty-three" carries with it a personal guard to the border.

The term "thirty-three" is one used by government officials in the deportation of undesirable foreigners. Thirty-three is the article of the Constitution which provides for such deportation.

Deportation of undesirables from Mexico is not infrequent and there is no appeal after the decision is once given. During the recent Bolshevik kidnapping, an American was held in a private detective, was sent out of the country under article 33.

The article is also applied to newspaper men and writers whom the government alleges are sending out false reports. The United States has never recognized the right of Mexico to deport Americans under article thirty-three because no provision is made for a hearing before deportation.

CHICAGO MAY OPERATE BIG FLEET OF BUSES

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—(U. P.)—Conferees were resumed today to effect the settlement of the city traction loop here, now in its fourth day. Hundreds of strikebreakers were reported ready to run the cars, awaiting orders from President Blair of the surface lines. Mayor Thompson's plan for a fleet of three thousand jitneys is before the city council. The mayor is asking three millions to finance five cent buses.

In a period of 18 hours two Yakima valley residents were killed by contact with high power wires of the Pacific Power and Light company in the neighborhood of Sunnyside.

MAX OSER DID NOT MEET MATHILDE AT DOCK

CHERBOURG, France, Aug. 4.—(U. P.)—Max Oser was not at the dock today to greet Mathilde McCormick when she arrived on the steamer Majestic. Mathilde appeared worried and cross. Just before leaving the ship, Mathilde told the stewardess: "I hope I will have the same suite on the trip back." After two days out the stewardess said the picture of Max in the uniform of a Swiss Major was taken from Mathilde's stateroom dresser and put away.

FIGHTING AND BIBLE INSEPARABLE IN CHINA

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—(A. P.)—Wars and politics around Peking do not interfere with the sale of the scriptures.

The American Bible Society has announced that it recently shipped from its headquarters in Shanghai 187,000 Bibles to the sub-agency in Peking. This was the largest single shipment ever sent out in the history of the society's work in China.

A year ago a record breaking consignment of 588 packages was sent by mail, through the efficient Chinese post offices, to Szechuen. Although part of this order fell into the hands of robbers along the Yangtze river, the books ultimately all were delivered.

EDUCATORS LAY OUT NEW JOB FOR WILL HAYS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(Capital News Service)—That American motion pictures improve this country abroad, diminish opportunity for trade, desert the entente cordial, which should exist between the United States and many eastern lands, and interfere with the work of missionaries, is the indictment brought against the movies by many, most recently the woman's board for foreign missions of the Presbyterian Church.

No greater piece of work, it is pointed out, confronts Mr. Hays, as head of the vast motion picture industry, than making it impossible for profiteering and calculating exhibitors to wrong by libel their native land, by exporting to ignorant audiences such films as will give those who ought to be taught to look on this country with respect and admiration, the idea that it is uncivilized, depraved and vicious.

HOSE STEALS RIDE

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Aug. 4.—(A. P.)—How a horse stole a ride on the cow-catcher of a railway train is told by the crew of a British Columbia Electric Railroad train, Fraser Valley branch. At Hope, B. C., according to the story, the train was forced to stop to allow a band of horses to get off the track. No member of the crew saw one of the animals mount the cowcatcher, but when the train reached a stop near here, a horse was seen to step off the cow-catcher, calmly shake itself and trot off into the fields.

FRENCH AID WOULD SAVE BRITISH FROM ATTACKS FROM AIR

LONDON, Aug. 4.—(U. N. S.)—Great Britain's present defense against air attack rests largely upon the friendship of France, according to military experts.

There is a great hue and cry in Great Britain because of the alleged inadequacy of the British aerial forces, and it is pointed out by military experts that if there were an air attack upon England from Germany or Russia only the aid of France could save this country from the widest devastation.

France now has 220 aerial squadrons in active service, according to an official statement made in the House of Commons. Unless these forces could be enlisted in the aid of Great Britain there would be the greatest difficulty in defending England against any stable air raids.

"France is the one power that

SCHOOL TEACHERS' FRIENDS MADE GLAD

One of them had this to say yesterday. "We never thought that poor Ellen would ever recover, she had suffered so long from stomach and liver trouble and had lost more than 40 pounds in weight. She took a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy upon the advice of her aunt and has steadily improved from the first dose. We are all confident of her complete recovery." It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—For sale by all druggists.

could obliterate London at a week's notice," writes the military correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette, "but the likelihood—at any rate for many years to come—hardly merits serious argument."

Any air attack upon England from Germany or any other nation on the Continent would necessarily mean that the attacking forces must cross France. If France is the ally of Great Britain then the military experts believe that her aerial forces would be able to scotch any concerted attack upon London must be carefully planned and must be in great force. This would take time, it is argued, and would give Britain ample opportunity to prepare for a defensive. It is also pointed out that the air raids upon London during the World War were not entirely successful as military operations, although they had a blighting effect upon the morale of the English people. However, despite the comforting theories of the military experts, Great Britain's population is nervous about its air defenses, and the Government is being forced to take steps to strengthen the aerial forces.

These aerial alarmists who are crying loudest about Britain's defenseless position are even turning their eyes toward the United States. A great many loose and inaccurate statistics have been twisted and turned in an effort to show that the United States is making more rapid progress in aerial warfare than the world generally recognizes. "An inordinately high opinion of the aerial strength of the United States is also frequently expressed here.

France constitutes a real potential aerial menace to Great Britain, it is generally admitted, but everyone hopes that France is going to continue an ally.
