to be torn down this was no summe for such an act, it was argued, with rain a daily occurrence and no shelter in town except the movies where lov-ers could comfortably hold hands and whisper sweet nothings.

It never would have come down at all if complaints had not been made to Edmund Tate, a Borough Council-man, that it was detrimental to the morals of the young people. Was there not one occasion when a youth had smashed an electric light bulb so that darkness might brood over the "Spooners' Paradise" " Was it not setbeen cheated out of their bandstand for nothing. "I cau't imagine who took it down," remarked Mr. Edwards, sorrowfully, as he surveyed the spot. "And I don't know why it was done in the dead of night. There was a difference of opinion between the Shade Tree Commision and the Morough Council. We did not refuse to take the stand away, but we asked for more definite reasons why is should come down."
