I Have a Vital Message for You. "I'm the Man"

I have a vital message to those of you who want to make every dollar do double duty. "Come," said the owners of The Peoples Warehouse, "Help us to give the people of Eastern Oregon a Sale never to be forgotten. A sale so full of human interest it will be the talk of the thrifty for months to come. Take charge of our stock, cut, slash, smash, prices. We'll stand back of you no matter what the cost may be."

I have taken them at their word carefully the big 4-page advertisement I am sending into every home in Eastern Oregon you will see what remarkable, what wonderful bargains I have prepared for you. How unmercifully I have cut prices. I will save you more good American Dollars than you ever believed possible. I am going to place a sale tag, and a way-down sale price on every article in this Great Quarter Million Dollar Stock. Every piece of Dry Goods, every Shoe, every article in Men's Wear, Suits and all, every dollar's worth of Children's and Ladies' Read-to-Wear, Groceries, not an item will I hold back. Now listen, folks! There's no limit to the money saving opportunities I promise you here. Remember the opening hour

Airplanes Carry Terror to Moros

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—(U. P.)—Army airplanes have brought the "fear of God" to the aborigines of the Philippine Islands.

Strange reports of how the natives act and what they think when the aerial activities of the Third Aero Squadron recently on duty at Jolo, Pula Archipelago, Philippine Islands, reached the war department today,

Some Moros believe the airplane an emissary from Allah; others that the superhuman occupants are all seeing and all powerful; and still others that the plane is a dragon out of the South Seas, come to wreck dire vengeance on all bad Moros, according to an old Arabic tale.

One pilot reported that while on a reconnaissance flight over the island of Jolo, he was at loss to account for a native who was riding along the highway holding aloft in outstretched arms a small white shoe, as if in supplication. Upon landing he learned that certain natives are authorized to carry batons or knives by written permit. Those apprehended with knives, but without permits, are severely punished. The native noticed by the pilot was carrying a baton and was holding his permit aloft for the pilot to read from his plane, fearing that a bomb might be dropped on him or that the plane might swoop down on him and confiscate his weapon.

Discontinuance of the postoffice at Pleasant Hill is announced. This is one of the oldest established postoffices in Lamp County, having been established more than 75 years ago.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 19.—(U. P.)—The solution of industrial unrest in Illinois would be materially forwarded by the granting of more power to the state department of labor, according to George B. Arnold, director of the department.

Arnold plans to ask the next general assembly for an amendment to state laws that will give his department the power to call witnesses to testify in labor department hearings. The department now holds mediation hearings in labor controversies, but has not the authority to force witnesses to appear.

Fanning With Farrell

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—(U. P.)—Baseball is rather generally aroused over the strange hold that money is getting on the major league sport.

Pennant buying ought to be stopped. As long as there are piles of coin in the New York offices and as long as there are club owners of the Franzen type, the only way to stop it is through legal channels.

If legislation against mid-season selling isn't enacted this winter, the poorer club owners will have no complaint coming next year as they should have thirteen out of sixteen votes to put through what they might decide to be the proper remedy.

Considering the fact that money is not a new born menace of baseball and that it should have been nipped in its infancy, the doubt arises that the club owners are sincere in their loud voiced protests. One can't help but get the idea that they don't want to lose the chance to make big sales.

Those of the club owners who have nothing to market this season can't be sure that they will not have a player to bring down big coin on the block next year.

Most of the big league managers favor an amendment to the present rule moving the time limit for sales back from July 31 to June 30, or earlier.

Branch Rickey and Charles Ebberts says they would support a rule prohibiting all sales after the start of the pennant race. Bill McKechnie, new pilot of the Pirates, thinks that new names should be added to the club rosters only by way of the minors.

The opinion, expressed for public consumption, among the other owners and managers outside of New York and Boston, is that the rule ought to be changed. They can change it if they wish!
