AMERICAN GETS AWARD

MANCHESTER, Aug. 23.—An American has been awarded the Harry Thornton Pickles Post-Graduate Studentship in history at the Manchester University, which was founded in 1920 by Mr. Stephen Pickles, in memory of his son who fell in the war. Eight applications were received and the successful candidate is Miss Gertrude Ann Jacobsen, who is an instructor in history in Wooster College, Ohio. She has made a special study of recent British history, particularly of foreign policy, under the instruction of Professor Wallace Notestein, of Cornell University.

the body any further toward the river than it was when found, so whoever figured in the case apparently thought it better to let the body remain where it had been taken.

The dead man's hands bore calloused patches on the palms.

A search is being made now by the district attorney and the sheriff's office in an effort to find some man answering the stranger's description who had only recently been paid off.

John F. Brady gave it as his opinion that the man had been dead approximately 24 hours when he first saw the remains.

A post mortem examination to ascertain the contents of the man's stomach was made this afternoon by Drs. Boyden and Brennan.

DISABLED VETERANS TO GET COMPENSATION

For the purpose of interviewing all disabled World War veterans of this community relative to government compensation, vocational training, hospitalization and war risk insurance, L. H. Wood, special contact representative of the United States Veterans' Bureau, will arrive in Pendleton, August 28, according to an announcement received here today.

Mr. Wood stated in an advance communication that all former service people can prove that they are disabled 10 per cent or more because of war services are entitled to vocational training at the expense of the government. Veterans seriously ill from war disabilities should be hospitalized immediately, he stated. Hundreds of veterans, it is believed, are also ready to reinstate their war risk insurance.

"Because of the fact that the Veterans' Bureau is but one year old, there are some things for disabled veterans of the northwest district still undone," said Mr. Wood. "However, I believe it is safe to say that rapid progress is being made in developing an organization which will properly care for injured service people and rehabilitate those who are able to take vocational education."

"At the district office in Seattle, we have more than 11,000 claims for government compensation from veterans alleging war disabilities. Approximately 8,000 disabled veterans of the three states receive either straight compensation or government allowances of $50 a month or more. More than a half million dollars a month is being paid directly into the hands of disabled veterans of Washington, Oregon and Idaho through the Veterans' Bureau.

"The government is as eager to adjudicate all claims of ex-service people as the veterans are to have their claims passed upon."

ARMENIANS FIGHT FIRES

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 23.—A bucket brigade of 200 Armenian orphan boys from the industrial school recently saved thousands of Turkish homes at Beylerbey, on the thickly populated Asiatic shore of the Bos-phorus, from destruction by fire. The fire started in a locality made up of tenements and at one time was most threatening. There was no fire-fighting apparatus available, so Mrs. A. A. Burt, of Los Angeles, the headmistress of the school, sent two hundred of the oldest boys to the scene of the fire with buckets. They organized a quadruple line from the waterfront to the fire and succeeded in confining the flames to a group of 12 tenements. About 100 Turkish families were rendered homeless. Inspector Esther J. Vejo, of Portland, Ore., head of the American Women's hospitals, who happened to be visiting the school at the time, assisted in directing the boy firefighters.

PROSPECTING FOR OIL PROHIBITED BY MANDATE

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Aug. 23.—(A. P.)—Ordinances dealing with mining, timber and other lands in the mandated territory of German New Guinea have been adopted by the Commonwealth government. Great interest has been aroused in the ordinances which center in the provision controlling mining and including the regulations governing prospecting for oil.

The ordinance specifically excludes shale, petroleum and mineral oil from private industry, the right to search and exploit these deposits being reserved to the government. The provisions regarding gold, silver and every kind of mineral, including opals and other precious stones, are framed on the State Mining Acts, and make allowance for miners' rights, consolidated miners' rights, gold mining leases and mining leases.

A new principle in island legislation is included in the land control ordinance, a clause having been inserted that enables the governor general to sell land in fee simple, agricultural, pastoral business and residential leases may be granted from Crown lands, subject to improvement conditions. The leases in most cases will be for 99 years except in the case of pastoral lands which are limited to 50 years.

The timber ordinance confers special rights upon the natives, and their lands, which contain valuable forests, are protected. Licenses are to be issued for cutting timber on Crown lands up to areas of 5,000 acres. The licensee must maintain saw mills on the property and the timber exported is liable to royalties to be fixed by legislation.

ONLY HUMOR IN CUBA

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 23.—(A. P.)—Credit is given President Alfredo Zayas for the only humorous sidelight that has marked the recent reform upheaval in the Cuban administration, in which the disposal of public funds has figured to a considerable degree.

Asked by a personal friend how he replied to certain pertinent questions regarding Cuban affairs asked by the socialist American representative, Major General E. H. Crowder, the president is quoted as saying: "Oh, I have adopted the principle embodied in the XYZ Method of teaching languages."

Pressed for further explanation, he added: "For example, if I am asked 'Have you your brother's umbrella?' I reply, 'No, but I have my grandmother's goldfishes.'"

The barn on the Barker farm, seven miles north of Condon, was burned recently, together with 27 head of horses and harness belonging to W. A. Moran, who is farming the place.

CAJOLERY WEAPON OF A. R. A. WORKER

LONDON, Aug. 23.—An amusing story illustrating the methods by which American Relief Administration workers have to accomplish their jobs in Russia is being told here by a Russian business man who recently returned from Moscow and who himself saw the incident he describes.

At three o'clock one morning the express train in which he was traveling drew up at a good-sized station, on the platform of which a large crowd had gathered round the station master and another figure, giant-sized, clad in pajamas, bedroom slippers and a pair of horn-rimmed glasses which at once identified him to the native eye.

He was demanding that his car be hitched to the express train, and the official was refusing, because the car in question was a goods car containing medical stores.

"But I'm taking American supplies to the people on the Volga—your own sick people," shouted the giant.

"But still the station master refused. Rules were rules, and he for one was going to obey them.

"All right," said the giant. "Then I'm going for my revolver." And he disappeared into the goods car. He reappeared with a box, opened it, and produced a cigar.

"Here, try that and see how it suits you!" He gave one to the chief official. "You're the assistant?" He turned to another. "Have one!" "Now see whether you can help hitch that car." He turned to a third man. "You're the fellow who rings the bell, eh? Go ahead, take one." The men all took cigars.

JAPS TAKING UP LOANS

TOKIO, Aug. 23.—Of the two 4-1-2 per cent sterling loans raised by Japan in London, totalling $55,750,000 yen and due in 1925, only 224,000,000 yen remains in foreign hands. Japanese having purchased them during the war, in large quantities. Similarly, of the 57,000,000 francs loan due in 1922 only 16,000,000 is held abroad.
