

People Here and There

James King, who is a wheat rancher in the Weston district, was a visitor in Pendleton, today.

E. T. Avison of Oregon City, formerly resided here and is renewing old acquaintances. He is a member of the Pendleton F. O. E. and a former chaplain of the local lodge.

Charles Z. Randall, deputy district attorney, has returned from Newport where he spent a fortnight as the guest of his mother, Mrs. B. T. Randall, and his little daughter, Betty Jane Randall.

The potato crop around Puyeffe, Idaho, is a bumper one this year, according to Bill Ory, messenger boy for the Western Union, who returned last night from a visit there. Bill is refreshed by reason of the fortnight he spent in the neighboring state.

J. G. Kilpack, who formerly covered this territory in the interests of the Boys & Girls' Aid Society, was here yesterday as a representative of the state chamber of commerce.

John Devine used to be an opera singer. Now he is a big wheat rancher near Echo. He breezed into Pendleton this morning on one of his regular business jaunts.

Jack Wick and Lawrence Scharpf, a brother of L. C. Scharpf, who arrived here Monday from Portland on their vacation, left this morning for a hunting trip in the hills. The boys are ambitious to get a pair of good bucks.

Horrace Walker is here from Stanfield today.

E. J. Meyer and R. N. Adams, Echo residents, are visitors here today.

John Dickenson returned this morning from Portland where he has been for several days on a business mission.

John M. Hamley has returned from Portland where he stopped for a visit after completing a hunting trip in the southwestern part of the state.

To be presented with two grandchildren within three days is the experience of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Murphy. Their first grandchild is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy and their second is the little boy born today to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Temple.

WALTER PIERCE SAYS THINGS LOOK GOOD

PORTLAND, Aug. 30.—Walter M. Pierce, bound for home "and the white fuses," came into town Monday from the upper Willamette valley, visited with political advisors during the afternoon and then took the evening train for La Grande.

Senator Pierce says he is having an enjoyable time of it campaigning for governor and that "things look good." He spent the last week in Western Lane county and Monday was at Molalla, where he addressed two audiences, one in the afternoon and one in the evening during the Ford caravan exhibition there.

The remainder of this week Senator Pierce will remain at his Union county ranch. Monday of next week, Labor day, he is to be the speaker of the day at a joint Labor day picnic and celebration at Ashland to be staged under the auspices of the Woodmen of the World, Modern Woodmen and union labor organizations. Tuesday he will be at Klamath Falls, Wednesday at Lakeview, Friday will attend the EDU's convention at Seaside, and on Saturday will attend a farmers union picnic at Springfield.

GENERAL SCOTT SPOKE AT ROTARY LUNCHEON

General Hugh L. Scott, former chief of staff of the United States army, was a distinguished guest at the Rotary club luncheon today and made a brief talk. General Scott told of his long western experience, dating from the time when he was with Custer's old regiment. He explained that he is not an orator and humorously said this was because of the fact that he was a lieutenant for 19 years, during which time no one wanted to hear him talk and he neglected the art.

General Scott, though retired from active service with the army, is now on the Indian commission and as a part of his duty is on a visit to the Umatilla agency.

A squad of Walla Walla Rotarians including Howard Pratt, Jake Kaufman and J. M. Crawford, attended the luncheon here today and extended an invitation for a joint Rotary picnic at the park in Walla Walla on Thursday, September 7. The invitation was accepted by the local club.

courses in the future. These men are especially trained under government supervision and their ability to successfully carry on in the vocation for which they are trained is vouchsafed by the government. There are many rehabilitated men unemployed at the present time and employers are urged to give them first opportunity for new openings.

Five Scenes in May McAvoy's "The Top of New York"

New York roof-tops, the top section of a huge department store, and a beautiful animated doll are three especially interesting features of "The Top of New York," a Paramount picture starring May McAvoy, which opens at the Rivoli Theatre for two days, beginning today.

The roof-tops afford an interesting locale for many dramatic scenes, one of the thrills being a realistic blizzard sweeping across the roof where a helpless crippled child is marooned.

It is the big toy department set which will interest the children most, however. Thousands and thousands of toys are shown and busy Christmas shoppers buying them. The piece-de-resistance of the toy shop is the appearance of Miss McAvoy as an animated doll in a huge doll house.

Around the tragic home life of this animated doll, Sonya Levin has woven a most entertaining story. The production was directed by the late William D. Taylor.

Prominent in the cast are Walter McGrath, Pat Moore, Edward Cecil, Charles Bennett, Mme. Marstini, Arthur Hoyt, Mary Jane, Irving and Carrie Clark Ward, James C. Van Trees did the photography.

BUREAU REPRESENTATIVE HERE TO AID VETERANS

Special needs of ex-service men in Pendleton and vicinity will be given attention until September 5 by L. H. Wood, special contact representative of the United States Veterans' bureau, who arrived in the city this morning. His headquarters will be in the Red Cross office in the federal building.

Any veteran who has a claim against the government under the head of compensation, vocational training or medical training must have his claim filed within five years of the date of discharge. Mr. Wood stated this morning, and he is anxious to get in touch with men who have any such claims.

"War veterans of the Pacific Northwest are carrying approximately $150,000,000 of reinstated war risk insurance," stated Mr. Wood. "During one week's campaign in June nearly $1,500,000 in government insurance was either renewed or converted into life or endowment policies. However, there are still thousands of former service men in this district who have failed so far to take advantage of this splendid opportunity to secure this inexpensive and highly protective insurance. The 1922 dividend to veterans amounts to $1,750,000. This insurance is no money maker for the government but rather a reward to the veteran on the part of the country. Lapsed insurance may be reinstated by payment of two months' premium."

Project training or giving the war veterans a start on his own land, a new way of rehabilitation, is proving very popular among former service men this summer and promises to be one of the most successful means of making injured war veterans self-supporting, the government agent stated.

"A total of more than 500 veterans in this district have already taken up work on their own projects," stated Mr. Wood. "Over 600 ex-service people are training to follow agricultural pursuits. Compensation of $25 and $75 plus allowances for dependents paid project trainees assists them materially in paying for their land and establishing themselves on small farms. Training of this kind is especially fitted for middle aged people, veterans with little education and men with large families."

Mr. Wood announced a new move on the part of the Veterans' Bureau to dignify vocational courses under the government and help the trainees who have finished his course secure employment. Diplomas or certificates of graduation will be issued to these disabled veterans who worked so earnestly for two or three years, in many instances, to learn a new vocation, he stated. These certificates will be signed by national and district officials of the Bureau and are to be presented to the rehabilitated trainees through branch offices of the government agency. Nearly 1,000 veterans rehabilitated in this district since the war will receive these diplomas as well as those who will complete the various
