FOOTBALL SQUADS OF HIGH SCHOOLS WILL BE GUESTS AT OREGON-WHITMAN GAME

All the high school football squads in Umatilla county will have an opportunity to see at least one big college game of the gridiron sport this fall, according to plans that have been perfected by the local committee in charge of arrangements for the Oregon-Whitman game which is to be played in Pendleton Friday, October 20. Invitations to the coaches of the various high school teams will be sent out within a few days by Alger Fee, a member of the committee. The coach and 15 members of the squad in each high school will be included in the invitation.

The move to grant this courtesy to high school squads is made possible by the two big schools which have joined in extending the invitation. It is anticipated by the committee that many other high school students from all over the county will come to Pendleton to see the game. Special rates have been provided for the students.

UNDERWRITERS MEET AND FORM ORGANIZATION

The Pendleton Life Underwriters held an informal meeting at lunch Saturday noon at the Hotel Pendleton. The meeting was arranged with the idea of forming a local association of life insurance men. "Such an organization will be of great benefit not only to the agents themselves but more especially to the insured public as it will enable the underwriters who are members to give accurate and unbiased advice to policyholders in all matters pertaining to life insurance protection whether they are insured in the policyholders own company or not," one of the agents declared. "There has been a tendency due to the present financial pressure for men who are carrying higher premium insurance than their present incomes warrant or who have heavy loans against their policies to surrender their insurance and replace it with new low premium policies with a consequent financial loss to themselves which frequently over a period of years amounts to a considerable sum at a time of life when they can least afford to absorb the loss. "Under the system of personal service which all old line companies are now extending to their policyholders it is very seldom necessary or advisable for a policy to be surrendered. It is the plan of all members of the association to co-operate in acquainting every man and woman who carries life insurance with the privilege for conversion and re-adjustment extended them under their present policies and to assist each one in working out their own personal problems. "The underwriters present were: Roy Alexander, Miss Norma Alloway, Ed McGill, Howard Dewar, H. S. Jerrard, Guy Johnson, H. J. Livermore, Mr. O'Connell, Jack Osborne, Cass Powell, Miss Rose Ross, D. B. Snyder, Alfred Somppi, Mr. Throll, Ben F. Young. Mr. Livermore was appointed president and will arrange for the general program and the next meeting which will be held at 7:30 Saturday evening, October 14.

NEW PLAN LAUNCHED TO SECURE IMPROVEMENT OF ROAD TO GRANT COUNTY

Organization Will be Made at Pilot Rock Meeting Called for October 10. Not satisfied with the progress being made towards getting an improved road to the south residents of southern Umatilla county are moving towards securing more vigorous action. Their first aim will be to organize a Pendleton-John Day highway association, this organization to represent all the people on the route of the road and to work for early construction of the highway. Phone information from Umatilla this afternoon announced that on Tuesday October 10 a general meeting will be held at Pilot Rock for the purpose of forming this association. All people interested in the project, particularly all living in Pendleton and points south to Canyon City are invited to attend. The meeting will be held in the rooms of the Pilot Rock commercial club at 2 o'clock. At that meeting the pros and cons of the subject will be discussed and the organization perfected.

FORMER LOCAL WOMAN IN BOYS' AND GIRLS' AID

Mrs. D. W. Bailey, former Pendleton resident, is now the matron of the Boys & Girls Aid Society in Portland. She is keenly interested in the work of the institution and its possibilities and among other things would like to see some of the little folk in the society's care placed in good Umatilla county homes. "We have some splendid little boys and girls at the institution and they will usually do well if given a chance," said Mrs. Bailey. "There is at present only one Boys & Girls aid society child in a Umatilla county home though there are quite a few children committed from this county at the institution. Among those now awaiting places is a splendid little boy from a good family. He is but four years old. Other children range in ages from six years to 12. There are boys old enough to be of material help on ranches. The society does not insist that children be adopted but rather that they may be adopted if satisfactory to the home given and to the society. Some of the children at the aid society home are delinquents. There are dependent children but not wayward. Most of them are unfortunate who come from homes that have been broken up through one cause or another. Mrs. Bailey is a guest at the Home Key home and can give information to any one seeking it."

COAL MINERS AND OPERATORS MEET TO PREVENT STRIKES

Joint Committee to be Named to Investigate Cause of Strikes in Coal Industry.

TO FORMULATE METHODS OF FORMING NEW SCALE

Work of Joint Committee Will Not Conflict With the Administration Coal Probe.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 2.—(U. P.)—Bituminous operators and miners representatives gathered here today to name joint committees to effect wages and working agreements aimed to prevent future strikes. The meeting had three purposes: naming a joint committee to investigate the coal industry generally; naming a joint committee to formulate methods for negotiating a new wage scale to be effective when the present agreement expires March 31, 1923; to determine the procedure for the joint committee of inquiry so that its work will not conflict with the coal commission to be appointed by President Harding for probe of the coal industry.

HERMISTON TOOK GRID GAME FROM PENDLETON SATURDAY; SCORE 19-18

West End Team Took Advantage of Breaks During First Quarter and Scored Twice. By M. L. HALL. A poor punt and a fumble in the first quarter of the game Saturday gave Hermiston the game with the Pendleton High school. The final score was 19 to 18 in favor of the west end team. The fighting Hermiston team took advantage of every break of the game and scored two touchdowns in the opening period. The first score came after Pendleton fumbled in which Hermiston took possession of the ball. They punted over the goal line and the ball was returned to Pendleton's 20 yard line. On the next play the local team was penalized for offside. In trying to punt out of danger Pendleton booted the piskin and it was Hermiston's ball with 20 yards to go. Hermiston carried the ball over for the first touchdown, but missed their try for the extra point. The west enders then kicked off to Pendleton's 20 yard line and the local team failed to make a return. Two plays through the line netted the Pendleton team ten yards. Stonebreaker then carried the ball around left end for thirty yards. It looked as though the local players had hit their stride, but a fumble on Hermiston's 24 yard line stopped the advance. Hermiston made a long run soon after that carried the ball to Pendleton's five yard line. A series of bucks through center carried the ball over for the second touchdown just as the gun ended the play for the period. Hermiston missed goal.

PLAYING FOR BASEBALL'S BIGGEST RIZE

The Yanks

HUGGINS—MANAGER YANKS

By United Press) WALTER PIPP, first baseman, was born in Grand Rapids, Mich., in 1893. He started his career with Georgetown University. In 1910 he played with a semi-pro team in Hastings, Mich., and then went to Grand Rapids in the Central League. He played first base with Kalamazoo in the Southern Michigan League in 1911 and part of 1912, when he was sold to Detroit. He was released in 1913 to become a coach in the Eastern League and was released late in the season to Scranton. Detroit recalled him in 1914 and then turned him over to Rochester in the International League. He was sold to the Yanks in 1917 for the waiver price. He has held first base continually since then. Pipp is a good steady player and a dangerous batter. He throws and bats left handed. He is 6 feet 2 inches in height and weighs 190 pounds. His home is in Grand Rapids.

AMON L. WARD, second baseman, is twenty-five years of age. He was purchased by the Yankees from the Charleston, S. C. Club in June, 1917. He reported to the club in July of that year and has been on the roster ever since. He entered the army in 1918, but was mustered out in time to rejoin the club for the 1919 season. He is not consistently a hard hitter, but he is always dangerous. He is 5 feet 10 inches in height and weighs 165 pounds. He bats and throws right handed. His home is in Fort Smith, Ark.

JOSEPH A. DUGAN, third baseman, is one of the greatest players in the game who reached the heights of brilliance this year with the Yanks. He played in 1917 with the Holy Cross College nine and was signed by the Athletics. He always was on the threshold of great stardom but he was very temperamental and had the habit of jumping the team. He finally refused last year to play with the Athletics and Connie Mack traded him to Boston. He came in mid-season of the year to the Yanks in a big deal involving Weaver, Mitchell and a large cash consideration. He is a star third baseman and a fine batter. He was born in Mahanoy City, Pa., on May 12, 1897. He is 5 feet 11 inches, weighs 160 pounds and bats and throws right handed.

LEWIS EVERETT SCOTT, champion "iron man" of baseball and one of the greatest short stops in the game, came to the Yanks in the Bush-Jones-Scott deal with the Red Sox that caused so much commotion. After being traded in the sticks with Kono, Fairmount and Youngstown, Scott went to the Red Sox in 1912 and was sent back to St. Paul for more work. He returned to Boston in 1914 and became one of the greatest players in the game. He played in more than 300 consecutive games and probably will run his record up to 1,000. He was born in Buffon, Ind., on November 19, 1892. He is 5 feet 9 1/2 inches in height, weighs 154 pounds and throws and bats right handed.

GEORGE (BANK) RUTH, left field, the greatest box-office attraction of the Yanks. His value to the team as a player is questionable, as he probably loses more games by poor fielding than he wins by hitting. But he certainly draws in the crowds. He has been much in the public eye since 1922 by reason of his suspensions for 100 days with Commissioner Landis and the A. L. ump. His home run records have been in part due to a homerus would be merely a healthy fly on a proper playing field. In the last world series McGraw and the Giants stopped the Babe, but his home run of the series being a procedural gift when it could do no harm. Ruth was born in Baltimore in 1894, played with the Baltimore Internationals and was sold to the Red Sox with two other players for $25,000. He was sold to the Yankees for a sum reported to be about $125,000. He is probably the highest salaried player in the majors and one of the most temperamental. He throws and bats left handed.

LAWTON WALTER WITT, center fielder, came to the Yanks this spring from the Philadelphia Athletics for the waiver price. "Whitey" stepped in and made a $50,000 player out of

The Giants

McGRAW—MANAGER GIANTS

(By the United Press.) GEORGE KELL, former home-run king of the National League and one of the most earnest workers on the Giant club, never has worked into the affection of the fans. He was born in San Francisco in 1896 and started playing ball on the coast. The Giants bought him in 1915 from the Victoria Club of the Northwestern League. He was in the army in 1918 and in 1919 was traded with four other players to Rochester for Catcher Earl Smith. He came back to the Giants in 1920, and has held first base regularly. He is a powerful hitter and a fielder. He is six feet three inches in height and weighs 200 pounds. He throws and bats right handed. His home is in San Francisco.

FRANK FRISCH, the "Fordham Flash" is one of the greatest young ball players developed in years. He is the best all-round second baseman in the league. He is the fastest man in the National League, the best batter, a brilliant and spectacular fielder and a good hitter. McGraw picked him up off the Fordham University nine, where he was developed by Arthur Devlin, the famous old Giant. Frisch was a brilliant football player. He has been with the Giants three years. He is the only native New Yorker in the club. He is twenty-four years old, is five feet ten inches high, weighs 165 pounds, throws right handed and bats either way. He lives on Long Island.

HENRY KNIGHT GROH, third baseman, came to the Giants last winter from the Cincinnati Reds in a deal involving $150,000, George Burns and Mike Gonzalez. He was at that time considered one of the best third basemen in baseball, with the Giants he turned out to be a great disappointment. Injuries kept him out of the game most all the season and his batting fell way off. He broke into baseball in 1908 with the Cagook Club of the Wisconsin III. league playing shortstop. He was drafted in 1913 by Cleveland and sent back to Decatur in the Three-I League. The Giants bought him in 1913 and released him under option to Buffalo, recalling him in 1912. In 1913 with Devore and Ames he was traded to the Reds for Promme and a cash consideration. He joined into stardom with the Reds and became an annual holdout. Seeking a berth with the Giants in 1921 he had so long that the Reds arranged a deal for him with the Giants. Commissioner Landis reinstated him on the consideration that he would

PUTNAM EXPRESSES THANKS

You folks and the Pendleton Round-Up completely won the hearts of my rough-writers. It was a grand show and gorgeous hospitality. That is a part of what George Putnam, publisher and "conductor" of the rough-writers from New York who visited the Pendleton Round-Up had to say in a letter which was written immediately after his return to New York.

CONSTANTINOUE, Oct. 2.—(A. P.)—An immediate mutual agreement to suspend all troop movements is expected here today to be the first outcome of the Dudaia conference to meet tomorrow. The allied policy at the Mulania conference will be decided upon at the meeting here today of allied generals, admirals, high commissioners and military attaches. France Gets Credit. PARIS, Oct. 2.—(U. P.)—Franklin Bouillon, of France, is given credit for averting war between Turkey and England. That report, Kemal's plan follows: That representatives of Turkey, Great Britain, France, Italy and Greece meet at Mudania Tuesday for a preliminary peace conference to arrange an immediate armistice, together with the basis for a later conference, October 15; that military operations be abandoned by Kemal in Channak are pending the Mudania conference; that Turkey be allowed to occupy Thrace to the Maritza river immediately.

U. S. to Have Observer. WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(U. P.)—The United States will have an observer present at Mudania and later conferences between the allies and the Turks, it was learned here today as the flotilla of destroyers prepared to sail for the Near East. The United States will exert its full possible influence to effect peace in the Near East. The report, an official declared today, making the statement in answer to inquiries concerning the cable Hughes sent Bishop James Cannon of the Methodist church now investigating conditions in the Near East. Bishop Cannon urged Hughes to take definite steps to stop the alleged Turkish atrocities. Kemal Plan Approved. LONDON, Oct. 2.—(U. P.)—The Turkish national assembly at Angora today unanimously approved the Mudania peace conference, according to a Central News dispatch from Constantinople. It approves Kemal's action in asking the allied powers for a preliminary armistice conference. Destroyers Leave. NORFOLK, Oct. 2.—(U. P.)—Twelve United States destroyers under the command of Captain Tozer steamed from Hampton Roads today at noon for Constantinople. CONSTANTINOUE, Oct. 2.—(A. P.)—A band of eight hundred Turkish irregulars crossed the border of Thrace at Sinekli, 40 miles west of Constantinople and attacked Greek outposts. The Turks were forced to withdraw when reinforcements arrived.

Parkes this morning and paid fines of $250 and $200 and costs respectively, on charges of illegal possession of liquor.
