HOG ISLAND SHIPYARDS RAPIDLY DEMOBILIZED

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 10.—(U. P.)—Hog Island, the great shipyard where the government spent some $270,000,000, is today almost demobilized.

Where once an army of 35,000 men labored frantically to build ships and more ships, wrecking crews are now at work with acetylene torches and other instruments of destruction.

The government decided to dispose of the great shipyard piecemeal after attempt to dispose of it as an entity had evoked only very low bids. Nearly every day auction sales are held to dispose of things ranging from household furniture to steel in 100,000 ton lots. It is estimated that some $25,000,000 will be realized on steel and equipment by the time the sale closes in December.

But the 946 acres of Hog Island which were swamp before the war will not be useless, for government engineers have made it habitable. It is expected that some large factory will be erected there after the shipyards have been removed, as it is ideally located for such purposes.

Harley Turnbull of Sherwood enters the big cucumber contest with a specimen 15 1/2 inches long, 1 1/2 inches in circumference and weighing 5 pounds 5 ounces.

A letter has been received from Edna Zwicker, who disappeared from her home in Oregon City two years ago, stating she is married and is now living in Seattle.

TREE "KILLED" BY LIGHTNING IS REVIVED BY ELECTRICAL CURRENT

ELYRIA, Ohio, Oct. 10.—That electricity can resuscitate as well as kill is the belief voiced by Clarence Nichols here.

Nichols' apple tree was killed by lightning. Then it was restored to life by electric current.

The tree, which stands near the street, is attracting scores of curious spectators. It is literally covered with blossoms and bears twenty-ounce apples.

Lightning hit near the tree this summer. Immediately the apples fell off the leaves turned brown and fell to the ground, while the branches died, apparently.

Then Chris Brown opened a bakery. While wiring the store, electricians encircled the tree with the wire. Nichols was ready to cut the tree down for fuel when he noticed the limbs were turning green and buds were popping out from the branches.

Frosts, however, are expected to destroy the tree's second crop of apples this year.

Horticulturists from all sections of Northern Ohio are studying this latest phenomena.

White-of-Egg in Calumet a Vital Element Most Baking Powders Lack

Don't use a leavener that does not contain white-of-egg. When you do you take chances—you run the risk of spoiling your bakings.

CALUMET
The Economy BAKING POWDER

contains a small amount of white-of-egg. This makes it possible for representatives of the company to test it frequently for leavening strength—right on the dealer's counter. Nothing but absolutely fresh stock is permitted to remain on the dealers' shelves. It must always be up to the high Calumet standard.

Remember the white-of-egg in Calumet protects the success of your bakings. It is the economical positive bake-day aid and its sale is 2 1/2 times as much as that of any other brand.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.
