SEARCH FOR MISSING AIRMEN IS GIVEN UP

The latter is grief stricken and continues his reconnaissance from Nogales. No clues to the missing men's whereabouts have been discovered. The bodies reported found near Indian Springs, 75 miles from Yuma, as reported was apparently unfounded.

P.)—One hundred and thirty Chinese students and six faculty members of the Canton Christian college have returned from a successful trip to Pui Lo mountain, one of the highest in south China. All details of the journey were arranged and supervised by the students, who hiked to the top-most peak. As a protection against landslides, General Chen Chung-Ming sent a troop of soldiers to guard the campers. In return for a dinner served at the students' mountain monastery, the monks were entertained with an evening of song and stunts.

PROFESSORS DISCUSS POSSIBILITY OF LIFE

BOSTON, Dec. 27.—(A. P.)—The existence of life on the planet Venus may be considered highly probable, Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of the Harvard Observatory, said in a recent lecture here. He added that the question of life on Mars was controversial, but that its small mass and its great distance from the sun counted heavily against the probability of life there. "Venus," he said, "is comparable to the earth in many ways and if it is likely, living organisms develop wherever conditions are suitable over a sufficient interval of time, then it may be considered that life on Venus is highly probable. On no other bodies in the solar system, however, are conditions at all favorable for the existence of protoplasm."

Dr. Shapley said that accepting the tidal evolution theory of a planetary system, even for stars otherwise favorably located, an encounter of just the right sort with another star was necessary for the birth of a planetary system.

Must not be Disturbed
"And once such a family is born," he continued, "other stars must not disturb the family, and the star's light intensity must remain essentially uniform for the enormous interval of time required for the crustal evolution which must precede animate origins. Nevertheless, it appears probable that among the thousands of millions of stars there are here and there planets that conform to the requirements. Although the animal man is probably not duplicated in the universe, there are doubtless numerous other living earths, and the chance that their life phenomena surpass in intricacy and 'highness' those on the earth is as good as the chance that they fall below our level."

The search for habitable worlds, he said, was largely a search for conditions suitable for the existence of water in a liquid form. This, he added, was an absolute necessity for the development of life such as that on the earth, and a definite chemical constitution for air, land and water also was necessary. A planet's days and nights therefore, must not be so long as to prevent the existence of water in a liquid form.

"It seems certain," he said, "that some water exists on Mars at times in a liquid form. The average astronomical opinion is that low forms of organisms may exist on Mars, that high forms are very improbable, and that beings physically comparable with man are absolutely impossible."

MILITARY MEN DISLIKED

TOKYO, Dec. 27.—(A. P.)—Military men are not desired as husbands by the modern Japanese girls, it is indicated in the voting of pupils of the Ochanomizu high school, one of the best in Tokyo. These girls come from military and official families but not one out of a hundred graduates voted for a soldier husband. The majority favored independent merchants.

Fashion's New Neckline

No longer ago than last season an unkempt fashion compelled the most retiring woman framed by a severe collarless bodice to show her collarbones, decorative or not. Now she may retain the same neckline but she is permitted to soften it with wide drops of lace or narrow collars trimmed with sunny colors. The V-shaped neckline is extremely popular. The square line has its adherents. Different developments of all these are sketched here from fashionable frocks.

DIDN'T KNOW HIS BROTHER

"My brother got so bad with stomach and liver trouble that when I saw him after a year I didn't know him. He was emaciated and yellow as a pumpkin and was often in great pain. He couldn't have lived long the way he was going. Doctor and medicine gave him no relief. I picked up a little booklet on Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which he said described his case perfectly. He first dose of it gave him great relief and in a month he was good as ever." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the harmful mucus from the intestinal tract and allows the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—For sale by all druggists.—Adv.

OFFICERS, MEN GLAD FOR LESS SALUTING

MONTEREY, Dec. 27.—(U. P.)—Arm-weary officers of the United States Army are jubilant. The good old "No. 4" salute has ceased to be a bug-bear, a strain on the muscles of the right arm that required long periods of morning calisthenics to keep them in condition.

An impromptu jubilation was held at the Presidio here yesterday when the news came that salutes will henceafter be dispensed with outside the military reservation.

The new order specified that "When outside of a military post, camp, station, headquarters, or army, salutes are not required to be exchanged between officers and enlisted men except when addressing each other, or when the omission would show lack of courtesy."

The matter of abolishing saluting outside stations has been under consideration by the war department, according to officers here. The change is one of the blessings of the war when the great numbers of officers and men on the street made the salute an onerous duty instead of a military courtesy.
