

PUBLIC SAFETY LOG

TUESDAY

- A dog belonging to Irrigon residents on Southeast Thomas Avenue got into the neighbor's garbage and left a mess in their yard. The neighbor reported the dog to law enforcement at 10:04 a.m. and said nothing has changed after speaking to the dog's owners two times.
- An intoxicated woman at 10:54 a.m. at Green Acres Park, Irrigon, asked for a Morrow County sheriff's deputy to help.
- A Pendleton woman at 11:22 a.m. told police she gave scammers her email, Social Security number and full access to her computer after they claimed they needed to fix her system because it has a virus. Then they told her they wanted $300 or they would crash the computer.
- A 17-year-old student at about noon fell unconscious during a blood donation at Riverside Junior-Senior High School, Boardman.
- A woman at 12:38 p.m. reported the theft of her horse, an Appaloosa gelding with a brand "S" on its cheek, from West Fourth Road, Irrigon.
- A caller at 5:16 p.m. on Southeast 10th Street, Irrigon, reported a "woman going ballistic" on a man, who had scratches on his neck.
- Irrigon residents along the 300 block of Southeast Fourth Street at 7:30 p.m. reported someone shot their cat.
- A manager of Terwilliger Plaza Apartments, 245 S.W. Fifth St., Pendleton, told police at 9:26 p.m. the "manager bell" rang twice tonight, but no one was at the door either time. She asked officers to check the area.
- A woman in Pendleton at 9:51 p.m. told police a man took her phone and smashed it, then he grabbed her and threw her to the floor. She said she hit him and left to a neighbor's and did not need medical help.
- A resident of St. Patrick's Senior Center, Heppner, called for emergency help at about 11:15 p.m. because a heater would not turn off and her apartment was getting too hot. She said she could not reach a manager and asked for a Morrow County sheriff's deputy. She soon called back and said she managed to turn off the heater.

ARRESTS, CITATIONS

- Pendleton police cited Kendel Jean Jackson, 30, of 3407 W. Hood Ave., No. 7, Kennewick, for driving under the influence of intoxicants (drugs).
