

PUBLIC SAFETY LOG

WEDNESDAY

•A male wearing sunglasses, jeans and a sweatshirt hid behind Pioneer Memorial Hospital, Heppner, at about 7:30 a.m. A woman who pulled into the clinic there reported the male came out, looked at her and then went back behind the building.
 •A Pendleton resident at 7:57 a.m. asked for police to help after she woke to the man she let stay there tearing apart her house on Southwest 30th Street. She said she kicked him out and needed options for dealing with him.
 •Pendleton police at 10:38 a.m. received a report that an employee at a business told managers a co-worker was coming to work under the influence, and now that co-worker threatened the person who turned him in.
 •Two men in their 20s at about 2 p.m. looked around houses and garages on Southwest 37th Street, Pendleton. A caller said the two were told no one was home and they needed to leave, but they claimed they were seeking cans, although they entered areas they should not be in.
 •A resident of Indian Hills Village Apartments, 1335 S.W. Second Place, Pendleton, cleaned up his yard and threw all of the debris over the fence into a neighbor's yard. That person reported the incident to police at 3:24 p.m.
 •An Irrigon resident at 7:06 p.m. reported his daughter was assaulted Tuesday at Irrigon Junior-Senior High School.

ARRESTS, CITATIONS

Wednesday
 •Hermiston police arrested Jesus Pantoja, 24, no address provided, for first-degree criminal mischief and second-degree disorderly conduct.
 •Oregon State Police Trooper Amy Ford at about 7:30 p.m. saw a white GMC semi and trailer heading westbound in the eastbound lanes of Interstate 84 near exit 210. Ford, along with a Pendleton police officer and an Oregon Department of Transportation employee, stopped the big rig about a mile later. Ford arrested John Albert Larson, 62, of Bluffdale Utah, for driving under the influence of intoxicants and reckless driving.
 •Pendleton police arrested Brianna Bluesky Witten, 18, of Cove, for possession of methamphetamine and DUI.
Thursday
 •Oregon State Police arrested Mathew Roy Parlet, 54, of Kettle Falls, Washington, for DUI.

Groups seek input on music programs

PENDLETON — A pair of organizations are looking at possible collaboration in providing an all-ages, community-based music learning and performance instruction in the Pendleton area.
 The Inland Northwest Musicians and Harris Junior Academy are seeking community input through a survey at goo.gl/8bq9AM.
 The focus may include music appreciation and fundamentals, instruction (individual, small group, large group) for various skill levels for voice and instruments (including percussion, woodwind, brass and strings), musical styles and opportunities for public music performances.
 Inland Northwest Musicians was founded in 1999 by a group of instrumentalists and vocalists interested in forming a classical music organization. For more information, call Director Lee Friese at 541-289-4696 or visit www.inlandnorthwestmusicians.com.
 Harris Junior Academy is a kindergarten through 10th grade private Christian school. For more information call Sean Ruud, administrator, at 541-276-0615 or visit www.harrisjunioracademy.org.

Renaissance Fair seeks vendors

MOSCOW, IDAHO — Artists and craft vendors and service providers are invited to submit an application for the Moscow Renaissance Fair.
 The event is hoping to attract a variety of unique regional vendors and services, such as massage, fortune telling and body art.
