CCT stages summer theater camp

East Oregonian

Youths interested in a camp featuring all things theater are invited to register for the Summer Youth Theatre Camp.

Participants will engage in theater-related workshops, activities and performances. In addition, campers will rehearse plays that will be staged at the conclusion of the camp.

Sponsored by College Community Theatre, the annual camp is open to youths from 7-16. It begins Monday, July 20 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in Bob Clapp Theatre in Pioneer Hall at Blue Mountain Community College, 2411 N.W. Carden Ave., Pendleton. It runs through Friday, July 24. Also, the camp crescendos with free performances Saturday, July 25 at 7 p.m., also in Bob Clapp Theatre.

The cost for the week is $75. For those needing financial assistance, some scholarships are available. Although youths are encouraged to register in advance, participants can sign-up during the camp's first day — Monday, July from 9-9:30 a.m. — in the Pioneer Hall theatre. Snacks are provided, but participants need to bring a lunch.

The camp is conducted under the direction of Adrienne Flagg, who has been involved with the event for more than 20 years

In describing the camp, Flagg said all of the classes are ensemble focused — meaning each actor has a valuable voice in creating and presenting the project.

"We strive to use theatre to free the creative spirit in all of us, to challenge actors young and old, and to offer a platform where young artists can be heard," Flagg said.

In coordination with College Community Theatre's primary sponsorship, the camp is made possible through the hospitality of Blue Mountain Community College and donations from several CCT patrons. Also, this year's camp is partially funded by a $2,000 grant from the Umatilla County Cultural Coalition.

For more information or to register, call Camp Coordinator Chris Ferguson at 541-276-0772. Also, the registration form is available at www.bluecc.edu/home/showdocument?id=367

Author pens caregiver's guide

PENDLETON — Mary Johnson, a Pendleton counselor, recently published "A Caregiver's Guide: Insights Into the Later Years."

Johnson will give a brief reading and sign copies of the book Thursday at 5:30 p.m. at Sundown Grill & Bar-B-Q, 233 S.E. Fourth St., Pendleton. Johnson provides insight through her studies on aging, managing assisted living communities and experiencing the caregiving role for family members. The book is beneficial for both professional caregivers and family members providing care for a loved one.

Exhibit features two artists

PENDLETON — The artwork of Rip Caswell and Bonnie Zahn Griffith is featured in an exhibit through the months of July and August at Pendleton Art + Frame.

An opening reception is set for Thursday from 5-7:30 p.m. at 36 S.W. Court Ave., Pendleton. The event is free and open to the public.

Caswell, an accomplished sculptor, is popular with private and corporate collectors worldwide. He has created more than 200 sculptures in contemporary and realistic styles. Caswell's wildlife sculptures showcase his deep understanding of living creatures.

Griffith is a plein air painter and landscape artist who mostly works in pastels, oils and encaustics. She said these mediums allow her to present the world with rich color and texture.

To learn more about Caswell and his work, visit www.caswellsculptures.com. Griffith's work can be viewed at www.bonniegriffith.com.

Pendleton Art + Frame is open Monday through Fridays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. For more information, call 541-276-3617.
