Joseph Burgess "Joe" Miller

Freeland, Wash.

November 9, 1919-July 13, 2015

Early morning July 13, 2015, Joe Miller passed away peacefully surrounded by family members at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Don and Linda Miller. Joe was 95 years old.

Joe Miller was born in Pendleton, Oregon, on November 9, 1919. He was the first son of Joseph Wells and Belle Miller on McKay Creek, Pilot Rock, Oregon. Growing up he assisted on the farm raising beef cattle, feed for cattle, maintaining equipment, constructing buildings and working harvest.

Joe Miller went to country Grade School No. 43 located at the intersection of Rockwell and Schoolhouse roads and graduated from Pendleton High School. At Trade School in Portland, Joe studied gas and diesel engines and welding.

Joe married Anita Joan Beilke on December 29, 1941, in Pendleton.

Joe served in the US Navy 48th Construction Battalion (CB), known as the 48th Seabees, from December 9, 1942, to November 6, 1945.

Joe served in Maui working on enlarging the air field, performing maintenance, digging sewer ditch, running rock crusher and building the base for 3rd Marines. He next shipped to Guam and worked with the Maui crew making culverts from oil barrels for roadway water drainage and erecting prefab buildings. Meanwhile, the Marines were clearing enemy hide-outs. Joe said, "A list was posted for leave to stateside. I was on the list. We boarded an escort carrier and slept on cots in the hanger deck. We docked in San Francisco and I went by train to Portland and was met by Anita. I was two and a half years away." After leave, Joe reported to Camp Parks, Calif., and shipped out to Okinawa where camps were set up and minor jobs completed as the war was over. He returned to Bremerton, Wash., for discharge and was met by Anita in Seattle. Joe continued contact with the 48th Seabees members and families the rest of his life.

Joe and his brother, James S. "Jim" Miller, bought their parents' farm and operated as Miller Brothers. Joe and Jim divided the property after their father's death with Joe taking the property laying south.

He produced wheat and raised and fattened beef cattle until retirement.

Joe maintained his own machine shop where he used his machinist, welding and woodworking skills to design and build useful equipment and tools to support his farm operation. It was common to see a chassis with a loader or bucket lift operated by a modified engine and transmission with the seat facing backward.

Joe is preceded in death by his parents, Joseph "Wells" and Belle Miller of McKay Creek, Pilot Rock.

Joe is survived by his wife of 73 years, Anita B. Miller; children Marilyn Miller and Don (Linda) Miller; grandchildren Ben (Rebecca) Armstrong, Jesse (Jenny) Miller and Chelsea Miller; great-grandchildren Natalie Armstrong and Spencer Armstrong; brother James S. "Jim" (June) Miller; nephew Glen (Sherry) Miller, niece Krista (Joe) Hunter, and many grand- and great-grandnephews and -nieces.

Memorial service will be at Skyview Memorial Park, 70116 US-395 South, Pendleton, Oregon, on Friday, September 25 at 12:30 p.m. Fellowship will follow at Pilot Rock Community Center at 1:30 p.m.

Memorial donations may be made to the Pilot Rock Food Pantry, P.O. Box 128, Pilot Rock, OR 97868 or a charity of choice.

The family extends special thank you to the Hospice Team from Whidbey General Hospital. Joe received support through calls, emails, and visits from family and friends during this time.

Family condolences and personal comments may be sent to Anita Miller, 1767 Alliance Avenue, Box 321, Freeland, WA 98249.
