OBITUARIES

Douglas Ray Morgan

Pendleton

March 13, 1942-August 18, 2015

Douglas Ray Morgan of Pendleton, Oregon passed away on August 18, 2015, at 73 years of age with his two daughters present. He was peaceful and will be forever more. He was diagnosed with lung cancer in early August 2015. He is survived by Debra Fisher of West Richland, Washington, and Dana Wartman of Aurora, Colorado, and his stepbrother, Simon Barron, of California.

Doug was born March 13, 1942, in Long Beach, California, where he was raised by his mother, Dorothy Morgan Barron and his loving grandparents, Harold and Babe Morgan. His stepfather, Roger Barron, was also an endearing part of his adulthood.

He attended community college at Long Beach State and served our country in the National Guard, where he was honorably discharged. He married Jill Joanne McCue in 1968 and moved to Washington in 1976, continuing to raise his family in Edmonds. He worked as a computer programmer at Jay Jacobs Clothing Company for 25 years, where he gained the close friendship of Sue Sloss. He moved to Ocean City, Washington, in 1996, where he enjoyed living near the Pacific Ocean beach. He lastly moved to Pendleton in 2006 with his dog, Reno, and had resided there ever since. He thoroughly enjoyed his retirement and part-time employment as a cashier at Indian Hills Chevron Circle

K for eight years.

Doug embraced life fully, including his love of horses, small town lifestyle, yard work, and being outdoors. His glory days included deep sea fishing, whitewater rafting, golf and bowling.

He was a fan of football and NASCAR, and singing karaoke. He laughingly performed as "Chuck Roast" with his best friend Sue Sloss as "Terry Cloth"! He had a deep love for his poodle, Reno, of 13 years of age, and most recently for his companion puppy, Chica.

Doug had an enormous and gracious heart that extended to all he met, often putting others before himself. His wonderful sense of humor could put anyone at ease. He was a true gentleman with extreme pride and love for his daughters, and his friend Sue. This loving bond was incredibly mutual, with many stories to share and hearty laughter. His daughters are forever grateful for the way he raised them and all the joy they shared together. He absolutely loved living in Pendleton, making new friends, and telling jokes at every opportunity. A horse walks into a bar. The bartender asks "Why the long face?"

No services will be held per Doug's wishes. His family will spread his ashes at a memorable location in Washington. Please sign the online condolence book at www.burnsmortuary.com. Burns Mortuary of Pendleton handled arrangements.
