Eaton closes in on decathlon gold

By RAF CASERT
Associated Press

BEIJING — Ashton Eaton is closing in on another decathlon world title, and keeping the world record in sight, too.

The American finished just behind his closest rival, Damian Warner of Canada, on Saturday in the 110-meter hurdles before a sizable discus throw brought him within 13 points of his world-record pace.

The pole vault, javelin and 1,500 meters close out the two-day competition later Saturday. Eaton, who has 6,451 points, leads Warner by 131.

On a road just outside the Bird's Nest, Matej Toth of Slovakia won the longest event at the championships, taking gold in the 50-kilometer walk in 3 hours, 40 minutes, 32 seconds. More than a minute later, Jared Tallent of Australia continued to specialize in silver, adding another to his two Olympic runner-up places.

bronze for Japan's first medal at the championships.

Adding to Russia's walking woes, Alexander Yargunkin did not start the 50K race amid reports that he didn't travel to China because of the recent doping scandal in his country.

On a day with eight medals at stake, it will be the third installment of the rivalry between Usain Bolt and Justin Gatlin that stands out. Ahead of the 4x100 relay, Bolt leads 2-0 with gold in the 100 and 200. Gatlin won silver in both.

The U.S.-Jamaican rivalry will be just as much on show in the women's relay, with Shelly-Ann Fraser-Pryce looking for a second gold after winning the 100.

Also on the track, Mo Farah will be seeking to join Bolt with a third straight double in individual events since winning the 5,000 and 10,000 meters at the London Olympics. After defending the 10,000 title on the opening day last weekend, he is going for his third straight world title in the 5,000.

Anna Chicherova will be looking to give Russia some relief during its dismal performance at the championships. The Olympic champion will be facing European opposition from Blanka Vlasic of Croatia and Ruth Beitia of Spain, still going strong at 36.

There are also golds at stake in the men's discus and the women's 800.

Bolt back in relay, chases 3rd win at worlds

By PAT GRAHAM
Associated Press

BEIJING — Usain Bolt handed his shoes to a volunteer after the 200 meters and the person took off with them.

Not so fast. He still needs those bright yellow and blue spikes.

There's one race left for the Jamaican — the 4x100 relay. A win there Saturday and he'll walk out of the Bird's Nest 3 for 3, just like he did seven years ago at the Beijing Olympics.

He hasn't set any world records this time around — not yet, anyway — but this performance has been impressive in different ways. He's shook off the rust from not racing much because of injuries and has gotten stronger each time he's taken the track.

Bolt barely beat Justin Gatlin in the 100 final, then looked his more dominant self in the 200, with Gatlin finishing a distant second.

Just get Bolt the baton in the 4x100 relay with a lead — or even a little behind — and he promises to deliver.

"As long as next three people show up and are ready to go, I'm going to do my part, as always," Bolt said.

The Jamaicans hold the world record of 36.84 seconds, set at the London Olympics, with a group that included Bolt and 2011 100 champion Yohan Blake.

Bolt and former world-record holder Asafa Powell are in this year's group, though the rest of the runners in the Jamaican relay pool — including Nickel Ashmeade — don't have the big-time resume of their teammates.

It's why Gatlin thinks the Americans can give the Jamaicans a run for their title.

"They've been saying that since 2008," Powell said with a snicker. "I've yet to see that happen. I'm not worried about that. Just trying to get our team together. Talking won't help right now, just get the stick around."
