Locals bumped in John Day

East Oregonian

JOHN DAY — The Heppner Mustangs emerged from pool play with the Baker Bulldogs standing in their way at the Grant Union volleyball tournament on Saturday.

The 4A Bulldogs proved too much for the 2A Mustangs to overcome, and they fell in straight sets 25-19, 25-23, but Heppner head coach Dieter Waite found some bright spots in the losses.

“One bright spot for us is we were passing better (Saturday) than we did (Friday) at the jamboree in Umatilla,” he said.

Waite also was pleased to see senior middle blocker Jessica Kempken emerging as the team’s on-court leader.

“She served for two aces (Saturday), she’s our strongest blocker and she anchors our back line,” he said. “She’s just doing everything for us this year.”

The Mustangs were missing some players for various reasons Saturday, but Waite said the team will be at full strength when it hosts the Heppner Tournament on Saturday, Sep. 5.

WESTON-MCEWEN 2, CRANE 0 — At John Day, After winning all four games in pool play, Weston-McEwen began bracket play defeating Crane 25-21 and 25-12. No further details were reported.

GRANT UNION 2, WESTON-MCEWEN 0 — At John Day, tournament host Grant Union upended Weston-McEwen by scores of 25-13 and 25-11 in their afternoon game on Saturday. Alie Schroeder led the way with 59 assists and 13 kills for the TigerScots in the tournament, while Sara von Borstel finished with 29 digs and 12 aces. Alyssa Finifrock also added 15 kills and 10 blocks, and Sarah Finifrock contributed 21 kills and eight aces on the day.

POWDER VALLEY 2, PILOT ROCK 0 — At John Day, Pilot Rock lost its first game of bracket play in straight sets 25-19, 25-19. No details were reported.

College Volleyball Mountaineers earn two weekly awards

East Oregonian

LA GRANDE — Following strong individual performances at the Big Sky Challenge that ultimately helped the No. 6 Eastern Oregon University volleyball team to a 3-1 record in a last weekend, the Cascade Collegiate Conference (CCC) announced on Monday afternoon that junior setter Rachelle Chamberlain and sophomore middle hitter Emily Nay earned Red Lion CCC Player of the Week honors.

“Emily and Rachelle are both crucial to how our team operates,” said head volleyball coach Kaki McLean Morehead. “I’m proud that they got recognized for their efforts this weekend.”

Nay, a sophomore from Nampa, Idaho, was named Attacker of the Week after she averaged 3.35 kills per set in four matches for the Mountaineers. On Friday (Aug. 28), Nay swung in for a career-high 18 kills in a five-set victory over Carroll College.

Chamberlain, a junior from Challis, Idaho, was named Setter of the Week after she posted three double-doubles at the Big Sky Challenge.

In addition to averaging 2.47 digs per frame, she amassed 12 assists per set in four matches.

Rodeo

Diaz keeps rolling with Horse Heaven win

PRCA Media

KENNEWICK, Wash. — This amazing season for saddle bronc rider Isaac Diaz shows no signs of slowing down.

The Desdemona, Texas, cowboy continued full-steam ahead by winning the Aug. 26-29 Horse Heaven Round-Up with an 84-point ride on Big Bend Rodeo’s Broken Spring.

“That was a very good ride,” Diaz said. “That was a pretty good young horse. I saw that horse with Zeke Thurston at Omak (Wash.), and I was excited to have him. He really bucked and everything went well. (This town) has been really good to me this week.”

Diaz is right about Kennewick. He won the title at the Aug. 25 Wrangler Champions Challenge, presented by Justin Boots, with an 83-point ride on Big Bend Rodeo’s Jamboree and collected a $3,944 check. Diaz banked another $4,456 for his win Aug. 29 at the rodeo.

“I came here (Kennewick) hoping to do good, but I never imagined it would go as well as it did,” Diaz said. “It was dang sure pretty cool. I’ve never won (the) Kennewick (rodeo) before, so that’s cool as well. A couple of months ago, I had a really big week and won $6,000 or $7,000 and I was hoping I would have a couple more of those, and it seems like every week I’ve won between $5,000 to $9,000. It has been surreal for me, and I hope it doesn’t end.”

Diaz was third in the Aug. 31 Windham Weaponry High Performance PRCA World Standings with $91,657.

Diaz

That is rarified air for Diaz. He’s qualified for the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo four times (2007, 2009, 2012-13), and his career-best finish was eighth in 2007 with $123,270.

“This season has been unbelievable,” said Diaz, 28. “I never looked at myself as one of the guys who could be in the top three or four in the world, especially at this time in the season. I always knew I was capable of this, but it just never was a reality for me. It sure is pretty awesome and I hope it keeps rolling. I have way more confidence than I ever have.”

Diaz said the biggest difference for him this season has been his approach.

“I just think it’s been my focus,”

BULLDOGS: Rosales hat trick give Hermiston boys lift

Pecheco opened the scoring when she was found on a long ball for a breakaway and beat Moreno in the 28th minute.

With sides flipped in the second half, it still took Umatilla a bit to get going. Sandoval put in Hermiston’s second goal of the afternoon in the 65th minute when she and Pecheco overwhelmed the Viking defense. But they still had to play defense with the ever-blowing wind to keep the pesky Vikings from pulling themselves back even.

Turner pointed to the athleticism and instincts of her team. She said they know the situation and know what needs to be done and they do it.

“We don’t have a tone of speed,” she said, “but he have athletes that can read the game.”

But Umatilla wasn’t quite done. Viking Jocelyn Guardado took a lead pass, deked Hermiston keeper Kilie Harrison and found the net to cut Hermiston’s lead in half in the 79th minute. She had another chance soon after, but the shot was blocked. Umatilla couldn’t get another chance.

It was a positive end to a match that Umatilla head coach Tim Lee called “a learning experience.”

“If anything else, it’s gonna help us,” he said. “We talked about at practice this year and at practice this year about the ebbs and flows of games. Those last five minutes we put a lot of pressure on Hermiston. And it showed.”

Earlier, Hermiston used a hat trick from senior Edwin Rosales to run away from Umatilla 4-2. Of of Umatilla’s goal was an own goal on a passback by Hermiston. The Bulldogs were without junior forward Freddy Rodriguez, who head coach Rich Harshberger did not play because of “policy.” He did not expand and what the policy is.

Umatilla took an early lead on the own goal in the 14th minute, but Rosales quickly got the Bulldogs even. He netted his first of the day in the 25th minute to equalize things at a goal apiece. He then netted two goals second-half in three minutes — one in the 65th and the other in the 68th — to put Hermiston up 3-1.

“It was good to let our team get more comfortable, and know that if they make a mistake, we’re still either up or tied, since we already had a lead,” Rosales said. “It just boosted our confidence knowing we already had a lead.”

Esgar Avila finished Hermiston’s scoring with a 77th minute goal, and Umatilla added one, as well.

“I think we came out and got the job done,” Harshberger said. “I was trying not to be anxious about this game because I wasn’t playing with my choice 11, but at the same time I was kinda excited because a lot of guys got time who maybe would’ve gotten as much time in this game. That was good. We came out and got the job done.”

The Hermiston girls next play Tuesday at Grant at 4:15 p.m., while the Umatilla girls are at Pendleton that day for a 4:15 kickoff. The Hermiston boys, meanwhile, host La Grande next Saturday at noon, and the Umatilla boys host Riverside at 1 p.m.

MARINERS: Stray kitten causes commotion in sixth inning consecutive plate appearances. Trumbo added a two-run homer in the ninth inning.

HERE KITTY KITTY

There was a bit of commotion in the bottom of the sixth inning when a kitten ran by the Mariners dugout and scurried around the dirt down the left field line. The feline never ventured too close to the diamond though. Seattle reliever Edgar Olmos was entertained by the incident.

“I have no idea where it came from,” he said. “I just saw it run in front of the dugout during the game and then it ran into the stands. It was a little golden kitten. And then it ran up into the stands, and I’m not sure if anyone grabbed it or not.”

TRAINER’S ROOM

Mariners: Ketel Marte returned

after sitting out Sunday with a right hamstring injury. He wasn’t originally in the lineup on Monday, but was inserted after Austin Jackson was traded to the Cubs before the game.

Astros: OF George Springer (broken right wrist) played the second game of a rehabilitation assignment at Double-A Corpus Christi on Monday. The Astros haven’t said how many games he’ll need before he’s ready to return to Houston. Springer hasn’t played since July 1 when he was plunked in the wrist.

UP NEXT

Houston’s Scott Feldman opposes Roenis Elias when the series continues on Tuesday. Feldman threw eight scoreless innings in his last start and led the AL with a 1.33 ERA in August.
