Filippini takes birthday victory lap at RCRCFR

PRCA Media

YAMIKA, Wash. — Saddle bronc rider Max Filippini gave himself a rather special birthday present Nov. 7 — a RAM Columbia River Circuit Finals Rodeo title.

Filippini, who turned 32, won his first Circuit Finals Rodeo championship and as a result punched his first ticket to the RAM National Circuit Finals Rodeo, April 7-10 in Kissimmee, Fla.

"This was the best birthday present I could've hoped for, and I couldn't have asked for a better day," Filippini said. "I think we're going to go out and have a little bit of fun tonight."

The fun was well-deserved. The Battle Mountain, Nevada, native won the average title with a score of 227 points on three head. He was the only man to ride all three of his horses during the Nov. 6-7 event.

In doing so, Filippini — who's a true circuit cowboy — earned a total of $4,658. He had pocketed just $4,747 for the entire season coming into the RCRCFR.

"I drew really well, and some of the other guys fell off or didn't use their horses as well as I did," he said. "I rodeo for a hobby, but my goal is always to make it to my Circuit Finals, and I've always wanted to make it to the National Circuit Finals.

"I'm definitely a circuit guy, and I've never really gone full time. I don't think I've ever been to more than 50 rodeos in a year, so these events are something to look forward to if you're a weekend

Filippini entered the RCRCFR fifth in the year-end standings, and knew that if he was to make it to Kissimmee he would need to win the average title. He tied for second in the first round and was third in the third round.

"I knew I had some nice horses drawn, and I was just happy to be here," he said. "I went with the flow and tried to have fun. I'm very excited to be going to Florida, and I'll be texting my parents soon and they'll be equally excited."

Other winners at the $173,752 rodeo were all-around cowboy Russell Cardoza ($8,544 in tie-down roping, team roping and steer roping), bareback rider Steven Peebles (241 points on three head), steer wrestler Trevor Knowles (12.4 seconds on three head), team ropers Spencer Mitchell and Cardoza (22.5 seconds on three head), tie-down roper Taylor Santos (25.0 seconds on three head), steer roper Doug Bean (37.3 seconds on three head), barrel racer Callahan Crossley (38.29 seconds on three runs) and bull rider Zeb Lanham (158 points on two head).

Brazile ropes record title in Kansas

MULVANE, Kan. — There doesn't appear to be anything Trevor Brazile can't do in the rodeo arena.

The legendary cowboy from Decatur, Texas, had his magic working again at the Clem McSpadden National Finals Steer Roping, Nov. 6-7.

Brazile won two rounds (3 and 6) and placed in four others to capture his record 22nd gold buckle and sixth in steer roping — at the Kansas Star Arena.

He won $62,390, shattering his previous NFSR record total of $46,500, which he set in 2007. He won the world title with a single-season steer roping record of $121,112, eclipsing the old record of $112,692 he won last year.

For good measure, Brazile also took home the average crown with a new record time of 111.3 seconds on 10 head. That time broke the average record of 114.1 seconds on 10 head he set last year.

JoJo LeMond was second in the average at 126.6 seconds on 10 head, and was the only roper besides Brazile to stop the clock 10 times.

Brazile has won gold buckles in steer roping in 2006-07, 2011, 2013-15. That puts him in a tie for second place on the steer roping world championship list with Everett Shaw. Guy Allen is atop the steer roping gold buckle chart

"There will never be another Guy Allen," Brazile said.

Vin Fisher Jr., who came into the NFSR as the leader, finished second in the 2015 world standings with
