Athena citizens, students honored at banquet

East Oregonian

The Athena Chamber of Commerce honored the city's finest citizens and students at a banquet Monday evening.

Linda Pickard was one of the recipients of the citizen of the year award, honored for her many volunteer and community activities that include American Legion, the Weston-McEwen High School Booster Club and the city's beautification/clean-up committee.

Sharing the award was Traci King, who was singled out for helping found the Athena Fall Festival and being a "driving force" behind the Athena Main Street Association.

King was on a vacation in Hawaii and was unable to accept the award in person.

King's business, Sugar Shack Espresso Bar, was named the business of the year.

Sugar Shack, which is co-owned by King, Vicki Bonifer and Kim Rudolph, was cited not only for its food and drink, but for its friendly service and attractive presentation as well.

Athena's younger residents were also honored Monday, with Weston-McEwen students Reeve Betts, Jessica Lambert and Anna Gilsdorf taking home the youth citizen of the year awards.

Besides playing with the Weston-McEwen band in New York in Washington, D.C., and running a youth football camp as a part of his senior project, Betts built a playground as a part of a trip to Uganda.

Among other things,

Gilsdorf was recognized for her organizing abilities, including a canned food drive she started for National Honor Society and taking over organizational efforts for the Challenger League Baseball.

Lambert has been class president all four years of high school and is no slouch in athletics, with her exploits on the softball field previously recognized with a most valuable player award and being named All Conference Player/Pitcher of the Year.

a sea of pink. The picture will be sent to DeGeneres' show and posted to social media.

"Our goal is to get as many people as possible to stand for a photo in their best pink western gear ...," said Corey Neistadt, Happy Canyon publicity director. "We've lost directors, volunteers, friends to cancer. We see this as a way to spit in the eye of that awful disease."

In addition, Big John's Pizza invites people to participate in 200 pizzas for #YoungmanOnEllen in an effort to raise $2,000 for Youngman to travel to the show. Thursday from 5-8 p.m., show your #YoungmanOnEllen post on social media and Big John's will donate $10 for every family size pizza purchased. Big John's is located at 225 S.W. Ninth St., Pendleton.

Organizers of the Big John's fundraiser said if expenses are picked up by the TV show, then the money will go towards a family vacation for Youngman.
