

PUBLIC SAFETY LOG

MONDAY

8:16 a.m. - A suspicious person looked into vehicles at Red Lion Hotel, 304 S.E. Nye Ave., Pendleton.

8:45 a.m. - An Irrigon man reported his girlfriend was trying to throw his daughter out of the house. Morrow County sheriff's deputies arrived and explained eviction options.

10:27 a.m. - A Pilot Rock resident on Northeast Douglas Street asked police about the city ordinance relating to barking dogs.

11:06 a.m. - A Pendleton ambulance responded to Southeast Eighth Street for a female that had a possible broken ankle.

11:51 a.m. - Hermiston police received a 9-1-1 report of a male hitting a female in the parking lot of a U.S. Cellular store.

12:22 p.m. - A female told Pendleton police her ex-boyfriend changed the lock on the apartment she moved from and would like a witness to see her break the lock so she could take her property.

12:54 - An employee of Taco Bell, 1677 N. First St., Hermiston, told police the manager kept her paycheck.

1:09 p.m. - The buyer of a 1973 Ford Thunderbird told Hermiston police he paid for the car but the seller refused to give it to him.

1:43 p.m. - A Hermiston-area man reported his wife came to the home at about 12:20 p.m. and "went crazy." She pushed him, scratched his neck, tried tackling him, he said, and he had to physically remove her from the home. She then left in a champagne Toyota Camry.

1:38 p.m. - Pendleton police responded to a report of a man shoving a woman outside a home on Southwest Marshall Avenue.

3:12 p.m. - A caller on Southeast Second Avenue, Milton-Freewater, reported the theft of several power tools and batteries from his work truck. He said he found some of the tools along the dike.

3:51 p.m. - A Pendleton caller reported the theft of a 15-foot utility trailer from Southwest Third Street.

5:17 p.m. - A caller complained the Hermiston Wal-Mart Supercenter would not let her return a DVD player. She complained the store was not performing its customer service correctly. A dispatcher told her the business has the right to refuse to accept a return. The caller hung up.

6:31 p.m. - A Heppner resident complained about dogs on Southeast Gilmore Street barking non-stop for five days straight.

7:46 p.m. - A caller reported a man was beating a woman in front of a residence on Wilson Lane, Boardman. Police arrived and gave the woman a ride to somewhere else.

7:54 p.m. - An Irrigon widow reported her husband died last month and now her brother-in-law wants her late husband's gun, but the brother-in-law is a felon and she did not want to give him the gun.

8:19 p.m. - A Pendleton caller on Southeast Second Street told police people asked to clean houses in the neighborhood, and the roommate let one in and now $600 is missing.

10:05 p.m. - A Pilot Rock caller on Southwest Birch Street reported a burglary from a safe.

10:19 p.m. - A Pendleton man was drunk and caused a disturbance at his home on Southwest Sixth Street.

10:35 p.m. - Pendleton police received a 9-1-1 call about motorcycles drag racing on Northwest A Avenue on Airport Hill. Police did not find the racers.

Arts center to showcase area photographers

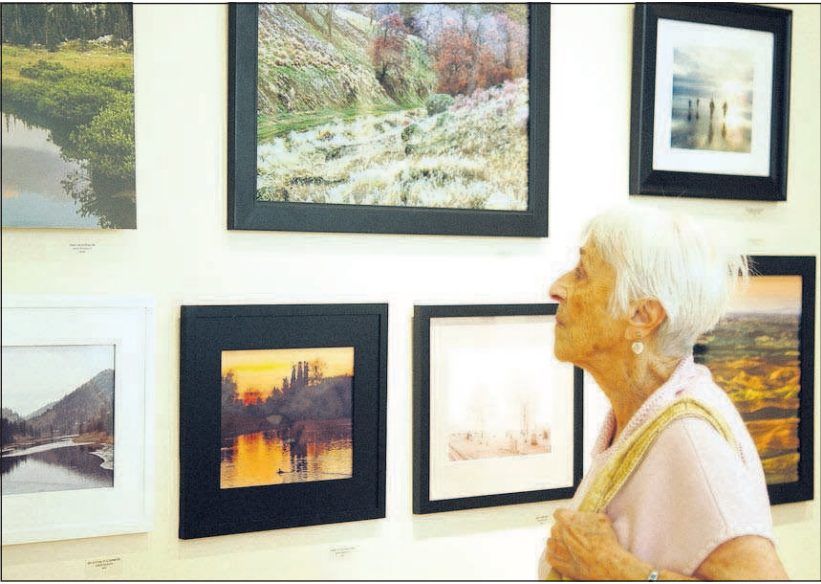

East Oregonian

Photographers from across the region are invited to get their best shots ready for the Open Regional Photography Exhibit at Pendleton Center for the Arts.

The exhibit offers amateurs and professionals a chance to share their work in the East Oregonian Gallery, as well as vie for more than $1,400 in cash awards. In addition, there is a teen division. Hosted by the Arts Council of Pendleton for more than 35 years, the Open Regional Exhibit alternates paintings and sculpture with photography every other year.

Participants may enter up to two photos. The entry fee is $10 per work for adults and $5 for teens. The photos must be dropped off Saturday, April 2 between noon and 4 p.m. at the arts center, 214 N. Main St., Pendleton.

The exhibit opens Friday, April 8 with a judge's critique at 5 p.m. and a reception from 5:30-7 p.m. The photographs will be on view through May 27. The exhibit is non-juried, so every work is accepted and displayed. Sale of work is encouraged but not required. A 30 percent commission will be deducted from all sales.

Banner Bank of Pendleton underwrites the event, providing cash awards for both adults and teens. Visitors to the exhibit will have an opportunity to cast votes for the $200

Jacqueline Brown People's Choice Award. It will be presented on the final day of the exhibition.

Also, in celebration of this year's 100th anniversary of the opening of the Carnegie building that houses

Pendleton Center for the Arts, an additional $200 in prize money — made possible through the support of Jill and Mike Thorne — will be awarded to photos that celebrate the building in some way.

Judging this year's entries is Rich Rollins, a photographer and photographic educator. He has a bachelor's degree in education from the University of Vermont and a Master of Fine Art degree from Arizona State University.

Rollins said there is no single subject matter that he prefers. It's the vision of the photographer that draws him into the work as he seeks to discover their world, what they hope to communicate and the meaning it has for them.

"I am eclectic in my photographic interests, enjoying everything from the whimsy and mystery of less than sharp pinhole and plastic camera images to photographs that render the world with extraordinary depth and detail," he said.

For entry forms and complete information, stop by the arts center or visit www.pendletonarts.org. For questions, call 541-278-9201.

BRIEFLY

Speaker to discuss snowy owls

PENDLETON — The public is invited to learn more about the lives and behavior of snowy owls during the upcoming Pendleton Bird Club meeting.

Kelly Hazen of Bend will share about the bird's migration and survival during her presentation Thursday at 7 p.m. at the First Christian Church, 215 N. Main St., Pendleton. Refreshments will be served during the gathering.

For more information, contact Jack Simons at 541-276-8566 pendletonbirdclub@gmail.com.

Share gardens with seed swap

HERMISTON — With spring just around the corner, it's time to freshen up that green thumb.

The Bloomer Girls Garden Club is teaming up with the Hermiston Public Library to help share the bounty. A seed swap and seed starting event is planned Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in the library's Lanham Room, 235 E. Gladys Ave., Hermiston. Everyone is invited — from seasoned seed collectors to novices in the world of gardening.

People are invited to bring seeds and up to five pots for those needing help getting seeds started. A limited amount of soil will be available.

For more information, call Jodi Hansen at 541-567-2882.

Gym time features organized fun

PENDLETON — Dodgeball and bubble bump soccer are featured during gym activities scheduled for Pendleton youths ages 7-12.

The spring break fun is offered Friday, March 25 from 9 a.m. to noon at the Pendleton Recreation Center, 510 S.W. Dorion Ave. The $7 registration fee must be paid by Friday, March 18.

To register, visit www.pendletonparksandrec.com or stop by the parks office, 865 Tutuilla Road. For more information, call 541-276-8100.

Female veterans invited to conference

CLACKAMAS — Social networking, special speakers, a silent auction, raffles and fun activities are all a part of the 2016 Oregon Women Veterans Conference.

The free event is open to all women who have served or are currently serving in the military. Hosted by the Oregon Department of Veteran Affairs, the conference is Friday, March 18 and Saturday, March 19 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Camp Withycombe, 15300 S.E. Minuteman Way, Clackamas.

Workshop topics include information about veterans' benefits, women's health, coping with trauma, job searches and yoga. Also, three female veterans will be presented with the Outstanding Oregon Women Veterans Award during the conference.

Although there's no charge, those planning to attend are asked to register at www.wvc.oregondva.com. For more information, contact Elizabeth Estabrooks at 503-373-2188 or elizabeth.estabrooks@state.or.us or visit www.facebook.com/OregonWomenVeterans.

Students invited to enter art contest

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Artistically talented high school students are invited to enter the Congressional Art Competition and possibly have their artwork displayed in the U.S. Capitol for one year.

U.S. Rep. Greg Walden, R-Ore., invites area students to submit their artwork for the contest, which began in 1982. A panel of artists and art professors will judge each student's work and choose the winner and the runners-up.

Besides having their artwork displayed in the exhibit in the nation's capital, the winner will receive complimentary round-trip airfare for two to visit

Washington, D.C., see the exhibit and attend a reception in their honor. The runners-up will have their artwork hung in one of Walden's offices.

To enter the contest, students must submit no more than two pieces of artwork and the Student Information & Release Form by Wednesday, April 20. To enter, send photos of the artwork and the student release form to Kirby Garrett at kirby.garrett@mail.house.gov. Forms and information is available at www.walden.house.gov/art-competition.
