Raymond LaMar Jones

Pendleton

August 14, 1928-March 4, 2016

Raymond LaMar Jones, 87, of Pendleton, Oregon, passed away peacefully at home surrounded by his family Friday, March 4, 2016, as a result of cancer.

He was born August 14, 1928, in Magna, Utah, to Raymond R. Jones and Elsie Ella Wassmer Jones. He was raised and attended school in West Jordan, Utah. Farming was the passion of LaMar's life. His love of farming was only equaled by his love of big equipment. He started on his first dryland wheat farm when he was 16; together with his dad and brother, they farmed acreage in West Jordan, Utah.

LaMar met Vicky Rutheena Parker in 1954 at the age of 26. After finding the love of his life, the two were married on November 9, 1956, in Sandy, Utah. LaMar's dream was to live in the middle of 1,000 acres, which came true in 1972 when he and Vicky purchased King Ranches in Pendleton.

LaMar was a man who loved family, fishing, dancing, jazz music, financial endeavors, and spending time at the Oregon coast. His family deeply admired LaMar for his character; he was honest, full of integrity, generous, and caring. He also possessed a great sense of humor and a special memory for the storytelling we all enjoyed.

He is survived by his wife of 59 years; son Bryan and his wife Kathy Jones of Helix; daughters Jeneal and her husband Jeff Harshman of Walla Walla, and LeAnna Jones of Pendleton; grandchildren Keegan Jones and his wife Katie Jones of Pendleton, Coleden Duchek of Pendleton, Hillary and Lauren Anne Harshman of Walla Walla, and DeLaney and Rylee Duchek of Pendleton; great-granddaughters Olivia and Hadley Jones of Pendleton; brother Merlin and his wife Vondeelee Jones of South Jordan, Utah; and numerous nieces and nephews. LaMar was preceded in death by his parents and two sisters, LaVerla Bateman and Melva Powell.

To a community that gave us acceptance and helped to make a life LaMar loved in Pendleton for 44 years, the family would like to extend an invitation to a gathering in appreciation of his life. We look forward to seeing and visiting with friends, business acquaintances, and community members during the hours of 4-6:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 16, 2016, at Sundown Bar & Grill, 233 S.E. Fourth St., Pendleton.

Parkinson's takes former Pendleton internist

MILWAUKIE — Parkinson's disease is reportedly responsible for the death of long-time Pendleton physician Dr. Dale Brandt in the Portland area last month. He was 83.

Barbara Brandt, the internist's wife, said Brandt was diagnosed with Parkinson's about 1995. He died of the neurological disorder Feb. 15 in Milwaukie in Clackamas County. The Brandts had moved from Pendleton to Milwaukie three years ago.

Brandt practiced internal medicine in Pendleton — a combination of clinic work, his own practice and at Eastern Oregon Training Center for 41 years. After the Brandts moved to Pendleton in 1967, he joined other physicians at Pendleton Internal Medicine.

Dale Brandt attended Lewis & Clark High School, Spokane, and the University of Idaho before enrolling at the University of Washington Medical School. He did his residency at Santa Clara Hospital, in San Jose, and was a flight surgeon with the U.S. Army three years in Alaska before going to Pendleton.

Dale and Barbara Brandt were married in 1958. They had two daughters and one son: Karen Gustafson of Puyallup, Wash., Susan Parsons in Ecuador, and David Brandt, Portland, and five grandchildren.

A memorial service was held in Portland Feb. 27.
