Bruce Walker, A Sharp Players conductor, is the featured solo cellist during Oregon East Symphony's "Cathedral of Sound" April 23 at the Vert Auditorium in Pendleton.

Baxter, who died June 2, 2015, was a longtime supporter of the arts and symphony in Pendleton.

The "Third Symphony," also known as the "Wagner Symphony," was inspired by and dedicated to Bruckner's hero, Richard Wagner. The symphony also will perform Luigi Boccherini's "Cello Concerto No. 9," featuring cellist Bruce Walker. Walker is the past principal cellist of the Oregon East Symphony and is currently the assistant director of Columbia Basin College's music department.

In addition, the symphony will give a collaborative performance of Daniel James Chan's "Overture for a Comic Book Hero" with the A Sharp Players, the Oregon East Symphony's advanced level preparatory orchestra under the direction of Walker. Chan is a contemporary composer who has written works for television programs, including "Supergirl" and "The Flash."

Tickets for "Cathedral of Sound" are available in advance at Armchair Books and the symphony office, 345 S.W. Fourth St., Pendleton. They also will be sold at the door. For more information, contact 541-276-0320 or oesdirectorms@gmail.com.
