She told police someone claiming to be with Microsoft "global support" called from 1-844-446-4470, told her Russians hacked her computer, then had her turn over control of her computer. After 30 minutes, she said, the caller wanted money. She did not, though, give him her credit card number. She also said he planned to call again Friday.
- Remember, Microsoft and other computer software makers will not call you about threats to your computer, nor will other companies, such as Dell, which makes computers. If you get one of these calls, do not provide information and do not allow remote access to your computer. Instead, hang up and call the authorities.
