College National Finals Rodeo

Williams first up in Blue Mountain women's title defense

Rodeo finals begin Sunday with Bull, Broncs & Breakaway

East Oregonian

CASPER, Wyo. — The Blue Mountain Community College women's rodeo team begins its title defense at the College National Finals Rodeo on Sunday in the Bulls, Broncs & Breakaway performances at Casper Events Center.

Danyelle Williams will make the first of six appearances in the arena for the sophomore Timberwolf, and Tyler Potter and Kenny Haworth will compete in bareback riding for the men's team as well.

Williams

Parke

Williams will compete on four of the first six days of competition before the championship round on Saturday, June 18.

All 12 of BMCC's national finalists will compete during Monday and Tuesday's slack rounds, which will complete the first and second go in all events.

The long round is three goes, and finishes with the evening performance on Friday, June 17. The top 12 in each event will advance to the short round.

Blue Mountain is set up for an exciting finish and Williams, who placed fourth in barrel racing last season, is one of eight T-Wolves to draw into the final performance of the long round.

Last season's men's Reserve All-Around Champion Jared Parke will compete in tie-down, steer wrestling and team roping. He'll ride into the arena four times on Tuesday after drawing into the first full rodeo performance that evening in steer wrestling. He'll also compete in the Wednesday and Friday performances.

Hermiston native Michael Pederson will compete for Oregon State in tie-down and also will make his third run in the Friday performance.

Daily results will be posted at CollegeRodeo.com/CNFR/.
