CAN YOU DIG IT?

The Coyote Canyon Mammoth Site (operated by MCBONES Research Center Foundation) provides a unique opportunity for you and your family to experience a real world paleontological dig in action. Located just 3 miles south of Kennewick, Washington, the site offers an easy day trip, for a detailed look at a 17,450 year old Columbian mammoth, believed to have been killed by one of the world's largest Ice Age floods.

To learn more about this site and to schedule a dig site tour, go to www.MCBONES.org.
