Seahawks, Baldwin agree to multi-year extension

By TIM BOOTH

SEATTLE — The Seattle Seahawks and wide receiver Doug Baldwin have agreed to a four-year contract extension that runs through the 2020 season.

The team confirmed the agreement on Tuesday, first reported by KIRO-AM in Seattle.

Baldwin is coming off a career season, tying for the NFL lead in touchdown receptions and setting career highs in TDs, receptions and yards receiving. It's the second extension Baldwin has signed with the Seahawks after agreeing to a three-year deal following the 2013 season. Baldwin bet on himself by agreeing to a shorter deal at the time in the hopes of cashing in down the road. Baldwin's representatives did not immediately return messages seeking comment. His extension was a priority for the team this summer.

"It is a big deal and it's a very serious negotiation as they all are. He's done an incredible job for us and is a great teammate," coach Pete Carroll said June 16 when the Seahawks finished minicamp. "Eventually we'll get something worked out. I hope something happens. The intent is to get him signed and secured for a good while."

Baldwin finished last season with 14 touchdown receptions, tying him with Brandon Marshall and Allen Robinson for the NFL lead. He became the first Seattle wide receiver since 2007 to top 1,000 yards receiving and finished with 78 receptions. Most of those came late in the season when the connection between quarterback Russell Wilson and Baldwin was clicking at a record pace. Baldwin had 47 receptions and 12 touchdowns over the final eight games of the regular season.

Baldwin had one three-week stretch where he became the first wide receiver since Jerry Rice in 1993 with eight TDs in three games.

Since going undrafted out of Stanford in 2011, Baldwin has developed into a premier wide receiver. He has seen his receiving numbers increase every season despite getting fewer targets than most top wide receivers in the NFL. Baldwin's 78 receptions last season came on 103 targets, which ranked 38th in the league.

SHOOTING: Hiatt takes High Gun honors

Hermiston freshman Case Hiatt earned overall High Gun honors of the tournament with a 99, holding off Oregon City's Dylan Nelson and Hermiston's Devon Brittner — both of whom scored 98s. Hiatt finished the spring season fourth with a season average score of 23, while Brittner was the best in the state with a 24.2.

Other varsity competitors for Hermiston included Dylan Hunter (96), Tanner Meads (89), Mitchell

Pimentel (84), and Kaden Smith (94).

At the junior varsity level, Hermiston swept high gun honors in both the male and female category as Dean Pollard scored a 73 on the male side and Jenna Wallace scored a 65 on the female side. Pollard held off teammate Corey Mason (67) for the award while Wallace took down Echo's Laci Wiggins (51).

And at the novice level, Thomas Wright was high gun with an 85 followed by Patrick Ward (71), and Nick Malmberg (66).

Echo's varsity team was led by Rion Post and his near-perfect 97 score, and he was followed by Hunter Barnes (93), Ethan Hobson (86), Kiah Blankenship (82), Nick Bither (72). Echo's lone junior varsity competitor was Laci Wiggins, who finished with a 51.

At the novice level, Echo was led by Garrett Wiggins with a 53, Natalie Sherbahn with a 52, Emily Ray with a 39 and Madyson Horn with a 46.

that only cut Pendleton's lead to 11-7.

Derek Devin scored twice and Rosales went 2 for 4.

Morris picked up the win on the mound for Pendleton after relieving Monkman to start the second inning. He pitched 2 2/3 innings, allowed three runs on three hits and struck out five. Burns and Aiden Gunter combined to allow one hit and one run over the final 2 1/3.

Elliott took the start and the loss for Hermiston, and left after 1 1/3.

Pendleton will play today at 4:30 p.m. The winner will advance to the championship round.

Pendleton's 10/11-year-olds will play Baker tonight at 7 p.m. in their bracket's championship.

two straight to load the bases with none out. One run came home on Justin Behnke's groundout, and another scored when shortstop Michael Paez bobbled Louis Boyd's routine grounder.

With Coastal Carolina (54-18) running low on pitching, coach Gary Gilmore turned to his senior closer to start a game for the third time in his career. Morrison responded with career highs of 6 2/3 innings, 103 pitches and 10 strikeouts. He allowed six hits and two runs.

Arizona starter Kevin Ginkel was just as good, striking out a career-high 10 in seven innings. He allowed two runs and five hits.

The Chanticleers took the lead in the third after shortstop Boyd lost track of David Parrett's popup in the outfield grass. Parrett ended up at second base on the Wildcats' second error in seven CWS games and Billy Cooke stayed at third. Marks then singled up the middle for a 2-1 lead.

Ryan Aguilar's RBI groundout tied it in the fifth for Arizona.

Coastal Carolina improved to 50-1 when leading after eight innings, but things got stressful as Holmes struggled with his command. But he finished with a perfect ninth.

Cruz's 20th home run lifts M's

Associated Press

SEATTLE — Nelson Cruz hit his 20th home run of the season, Robinson Cano had three hits including an RBI single and the Seattle Mariners beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-2 on Tuesday night.

Cruz and Cano led Seattle's offense, which had 12 hits. Cano's two-out single in the fifth scored Franklin Gutierrez and gave Cruz the opportunity for his two-run homer into the second deck in left field that gave Seattle a 5-0 lead.

Cruz became the only current player with at least 20 home runs in every season since 2009. David Ortiz and Brian McCann can also reach that mark this season.

Seattle starter Hisashi Iwakuma (7-6) took a shutout into the seventh inning before giving up a

SUMMITT: Never had a losing record

Summitt's advice about returning to Tennessee for his senior season or going to the NFL, said it would have been a great experience to play for her.

"She could have coached any team, any sport, men's or women's. It wouldn't have mattered because Pat could flat out coach," Manning said in a statement. "I will miss her dearly, and I am honored to call her my friend. My thoughts and prayers are with Tyler and their entire family."

Summitt was a tough taskmaster with a frosty glower that could strike the fear of failure in her players. She punished one team that stayed up partying before an early morning practice by running them until they vomited. She even placed garbage cans in the gym so they'd have somewhere to be sick.

Nevertheless, she enjoyed such an intimate relationship with her players that they called her "Pat."

Summitt never had a losing record and her teams made the NCAA Tournament every season. She began her coaching career at Tennessee in the 1974-75 season, when her team finished 16-8.

With a 75-54 victory against Purdue on March 22, 2005, she earned her 880th victory, moving her past North Carolina's Dean Smith as the all-time winningest coach in NCAA history. She earned her 1,000th career win with a 73-43 victory against Georgia on Feb. 5, 2009.

Summitt won 16 Southeastern Conference regular season titles, as well as 16 conference tournament titles. She was an eight-time SEC coach of the year and seven-time NCAA coach of the year. She also coached the U.S. women's Olympic team to the 1984 gold medal.

In 2006, Tennessee made Summitt the first millionaire coach in women's basketball with a contract paying pair of runs. Iwakuma has pitched into the seventh in six of his past seven starts.

While Cruz's home run was the big blow of the fifth inning, the biggest at-bat came from Gutierrez. With two outs, Gutierrez was able to work a 10-pitch walk off Pittsburgh starter Jonathon Niese (6-6). Gutierrez advanced to second on a wild pitch then came around to score on Cano's third hit.

Cruz then followed with a line shot just fair down the line. It was his 11th homer this season off a left-hander.
