Hollywood actress Christina Moore, who was in Eastern Oregon over the weekend as part of premier showings of "The Dog Lover," visited fans after several viewings of the movie at Hermiston Cinema.

Moore, who is often recognized by young fans for her role as Christina Ross — mom to the Ross family kids — in the Disney Channel's award-winning show "Jessie," answered questions ranging from her character on the Disney show to how scenes are filmed and where puppies come from. In "The Dog Lover," Moore was cast as the executive director of an organization that rescues animals and lobbies for animal welfare laws.

Multimillionaire Forrest Lucas of Lucas Oil Products Inc. is the film's executive producer. He teamed up with Ali Afshar, the movie's writer/producer, to form ESX Entertainment. The Indiana man also is founder of Protect the Harvest, which fights for the rights of America's farmers, ranchers, animal owners and sportsmen/sportswomen.

Hermiston resident Dave Duquette, equine representative for Protect the Harvest, hopes the movie inspires people to conduct research before donating money or getting involved with causes.

After getting involved with "The Dog Lover," Moore met Lucas and was then commissioned to work on writing and producing a trio of upcoming films with ESX Entertainment. For more about the upcoming films, visit www.esxproductions.com.
