Pendleton's beautiful new federal building will be ready for occupancy between September 1 and 15 and Postmaster T.J. Tweedy morning received formal notice from the post office department to move the local postoffice into the new building at the earliest practicable date. Postmaster Tweedy expects to move early in the month, probably on the second Sunday, but suggests that before the new building is occupied that the Commercial association hold a formal opening so that the pubic may inspect it. He suggests Labor Day as a favorable opening day and will take the matter up with the Commercial association.

Marilyn Straughan, Umatilla-Morrow delegate to the IOOF-Rebekah United Nations pilgrimage, escaped a bus crash in Marshall, Minn., yesterday with minor injuries. Marilyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Straughan. The collision of the chartered Trailways bus and a semi-tractor truck killed Pearl McNellis, 35, Saratoga, Wyo., a counselor on the trip, and injured 21 of the 40 persons aboard. Bus driver Harry Wheeler, 31, of Portland, underwent surgery at the Marshall hospital. The young people, from Idaho, Oregon, Utah and Wyoming, were given shelter by a local church following the accident. They were to continue on to their homes by another bus today.

25 Years Ago From the East Oregonian Aug. 6-7, 1991

Tuesday evening storms combining rain, hail, lightning and wind sent two people to the hospital from the Umatilla County Fair, started more forest fires, knocked out power, closed roads and left Ione covered with dust and leaves. Torrential rains and marble-sized hail driven by high winds and punctuated by lightning pelted the Hermiston area Tuesday evening, knocking down trees, power lines and signs. Two women were listed in stable condition this morning at Good Shepherd Community Hospital after a beer garden tent at the fair collapsed in the wind. Margaret Crutcher, and Leneile Divebliss, 25, were injured at about 5:30 p.m. when the storm tore through the fairgrounds. In neighboring Morrow County, Ione, a farming and ranching town of about 300, was pummeled with wind, dust and hail Tuesday afternoon. No injuries have been reported, but the storm knocked over trees and broke windows, and left the town coated in dust and littered with leaves ripped from trees by golf ball-sized

DEAR ABBY

Husband bristles at wife's friendship with gay man

Dear Abby: I have been happily married to my husband, "Mark," for 20 years. My best friend, "Eric," is a gay man. For some reason, Mark is threatened by my friendship with Eric. Whenever Eric calls or texts, my husband becomes resentful. It has reached the point that I feel like I need to hide phone calls and texts, and sneak around in order to talk to my friend.

PHILLIPS Advice I have always been faithful, honest and open with Mark about everything, and I am very uncomfortable having to hide my friendship with Eric from him. Mark does not feel this way about

I don't understand where the jealousy and resentment are coming from. I don't want to hurt my marriage. — Both Wife And Friend any of my female friends. He's fully aware of Eric's sexual orientation, so he knows Eric poses no threat to our

Dear B.W.A.F.: Either your husband is jealous of the TIME you spend communicating with Eric — time that Mark feels would be better spent with him – he may not understand the dynamics of a friendship between some gay men and straight women. Sometimes there is a degree of physicality hugs and kisses — that your husband may mistake for JEANNE physical attraction.

As to your husband not understanding that Eric poses no threat to your marriage, I'm not sure your assumption is correct.

Sneaked phone calls and hidden texts ARE a threat to your marriage.

Dear Abby: My fiancée and I disagree about a gift registry. We recently completed ours. She thinks only those who are invited to the bridal shower and the wedding should get the registry list. I'd like to post the link to the list on my Facebook page and announce we're being married in September in case friends and family who can't come or aren't invited want to give a gift. I wouldn't ASK them to buy anything, but I'd announce that the registry is up and live. What do you think? — Sharing In Virginia

Dear Sharing: I think your fiancée is 100 percent right. To post the kind of announcement you are contemplating on your Facebook page would be in the worst possible taste. If you do it, it WILL look like you're soliciting gifts, and it will be an embarrassment for both of you.

Dear Abby: My aunt, who is the nicest person and has strong moral values, has a sweet pet I have grown fond of. The animal is sick with cancer and has many tumors, but my aunt will not euthanize her.

In the past, her pets would pass away naturally at the point at which they should have been put to sleep because of their suffering. How can the family convince her to do the right thing? — Sensitive Nephew In Phoenix

Dear Nephew: This isn't a decision the family should make "for" someone. When a beloved pet is terminal and no longer capable of running, playing and enjoying life, this is a subject that should be broached by the family member's veterinarian.
