

PUBLIC SAFETY LOG

WEDNESDAY

12:16 a.m. - The caller on the 9-1-1 line reported people in the vehicle next to his heading into Hermiston threatened him and may have tried to cause a crash. They were near Denny's, 2265 S. Highway 395, Hermiston. The passenger of the other vehicle had a knife and motioned as though he would slice the caller's throat. The vehicle then sped in front of the caller and slammed on the brakes.

10:12 a.m. - A caller at Wesley Wise Excavating, 300 Third St. N.W., Irigon, reported a break-in at the shop and theft of items.

11:15 a.m. - A Pendleton cop received anonymous information that a student had marijuana at Sunridge Middle School, 700 S.W. Runion Ave. The officer notified the school, and a search of the student found no marijuana.

11:38 a.m. - Two students from France making a documentary on legalization of marijuana in Oregon came to the lobby of the Hermiston Police Department, 330 S. First St., and wanted to know what law enforcement thinks about the legalization.

11:49 a.m. - A woman on West Hermiston Avenue, Hermiston, told police someone stole her house key and now all of her cans are gone from her shed.

11:55 a.m. - A Pendleton man on Northwest A Avenue reported someone broke into his 2004 Chevrolet Cavalier, 1987 Ford Bronco and 1988 Ford pickup. He also said keys were missing for the Cavalier and the Head Start bus.

2:07 p.m. - An 86-year-old Hermiston man tried to buy a gun in Pendleton, but a background check revealed previous convictions and prevented the sale.

2:09 p.m. - A 40-year-old man needed an ambulance ride from Love's Travel Stop, 78665 Tower Road, Boardman, to a hospital when food would not dislodge from his throat.

2:34 p.m. - The Umatilla County Sheriff's Office received a report that a man two hours ago was in a woman's house on Meyers Road, Echo, and the woman ran him off when she came home. The suspect left in a white pickup and could be connected to another criminal case.

3:05 p.m. - An intoxicated man tried to enter vehicles in the parking lot at Hermiston Cinemas, 355 W. Theater Lane, Hermiston. Police did not find a suspect.

3:21 p.m. - A caller told Pendleton police and man got out of jail and contacted "the kids" in violation of a restraining order.

4:33 p.m. - A woman reported the theft of her car from Northeast Anvidon Street, Pendleton. The information did not include the make and model, but the caller identified a suspect and said the car had a sticker on the back that said "Country girls hunt too," and a yellow back bumper sticker displaying "KLOVE," a radio station.

4:49 p.m. - Two people tried to steal items from a backyard on East Cherry Avenue, Hermiston, but they ran when the home's occupants arrived and one entered the yard.

6:47 p.m. - A caller asked Hermiston police to check on the welfare of a 3-year-old boy on West Madrona Avenue who locked himself in his mother's van and would not come out for more than 10 minutes. A neighbor coaxed the child out, the caller said, while the mother never came out of the house to get her son.

7:38 p.m. - A Pendleton woman reported a break-in at her house on Southwest Ninth Street and the theft of a computer and other electronics.

8:17 p.m. - Umatilla police received secondhand information of a man stalking a woman who lives on Lind Road.

Would-be Reagan assassin starts full-time life Sept. 10

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man who attempted to assassinate President Ronald Reagan 35 years ago will leave a Washington psychiatric hospital to live full-time in Virginia on Sept. 10, his lawyer said Thursday.

A federal judge ruled in July that 61-year-old John Hinckley Jr. is not a danger to himself or to others and can leave St. Elizabeths Hospital to live full-time at his mother's home in Williamsburg, Virginia. At the time, Judge Paul L. Friedman ruled Hinckley could leave the hospital as soon as Aug. 5.

Hinckley was found not guilty by reason of insanity in the 1981 shooting of Reagan, who died in 2004, his press secretary James Brady, who died in 2014, and two law enforcement officers outside a Washington hotel. In his July 27 ruling, Friedman wrote that Hinckley was a "profoundly troubled 25-year-old young man" when he shot Reagan in an effort to impress actress Jodie Foster, but he has not exhibited symptoms of major depression or psychotic disorder for more than two decades.

Friedman has gradually given Hinckley more freedom over the past decade, allowing him to spend longer and longer stretches at his mother's home. For the past two-plus years, he has spent the majority of his time there: 17 days each month.

Hinckley's long-time lawyer Barry Levine on Thursday called Hinckley's departure from the hospital "a milestone" that was the result of a commitment by Hinckley and his family to "responsibly deal with disease."

"People of goodwill should celebrate his achievement and success," Levine said.

Levine said of his client: "I think he will be a citizen about whom we can all be proud."

Friedman's ruling says Hinckley will have to live for at least a year with his mother, Jo Ann, in her house in the gated community of Kingsmill. After that, he could move out and live on his own, with a roommate or in a group house.

Hinckley, who has been occasionally trailed by the Secret Service while in Williamsburg, must also find at least part-time employment or volunteer work. He will also have to participate in individual and group therapy, and he'll have to return to Washington at least once a month so doctors can evaluate his mental state. He is also limited in where he can travel. The conditions of his leave will be re-evaluated in 12 to 18 months and some requirements could be modified or dropped.

At the time of Friedman's ruling, Reagan's daughter Patti Davis wrote in an article in The Washington Post that she was "not at all comfortable with the decision" to let Hinckley live full-time in Virginia but she was resigned to it. Secret Service agent Timothy McCarthy and District of Columbia police officer Thomas Delahanty, who were injured in the shooting, expressed similar resignation to the decision.
